Dayton Medal Firm Grows; Buys New Site

Presidential Art Medals, Inc., Dayton, Ohio, announces purchase of a building site in Englewood, a suburb of Dayton, where a new structure will be erected as quickly as the architects complete plans.

The new building will house the Presidential Art firm, and may include professional offices, a spokesman for the corporation said.

Expanded sales and operations have caused the firm to move to a temporary location at 15 National Highway in Englewood until the new building is completed, president Frank Darner said.

New mailing address is P. O. Box 187, Englewood, Ohio.

Heavy response to the George Washington Presidential Art medal, scheduled for release December 1, is reported by Darner and his co-officers, Max Humbert, vice president; Clark Keyser, secretary, and Jim Harper, treasurer.

Official album to display the President Art series is scheduled for release December 1 at a cost of $15.

"Advance demand for the album has been heavy," Darner said.

Langer Heads Monett Club

Members of the Magnet Coin Club, Monett, Mo., met recently to elect officers for the coming year, and elected Laverne Langer as their new president.

Other new officers include Mrs. Joe Harrison, vice president; Shirley Langer, secretary; and Mrs. Darel Higgs, treasurer.

Ernest Langer, the out-going president, presided at the meeting.

Seattle World Fair Medal

Commemorative medal for Seattle's 1962 World's Fair — Century 21 exposition — was struck at the United States Mint by authorization of Congress. Obverse depicts the exposition site; the reverse design is an image of outer space. George Tsutakawa was the designer-sculptor; the Northwest Historical Medals, Inc., Walla Walla, Wash., has been named exclusive distributors.

Coinage Output Hits High Gear

Proof coins—nearly twice as many—cents, five-cent pieces and quarter dollars for 1961 are exceeding the 1960 manufacture figures, a study of the domestic coinage report for the 10-month period of each year reveals.

The year's second highest number of proof coins—320,826 sets—was reported in the October, 1961, Mint Report, released by the Treasury Department's Bureau of the Mint in Washington.

March's total of 643,413 proof sets is still the highest.

The Philadelphia Mint, according to the report, concentrated on proof coins, nickels and one-cent pieces for the United States in October. No half or quarter dollars were struck at Philadelphia during that period.

See Page 6 for complete 10 months' Mint Report.

A million 2 colones were executed at Philadelphia for the government of Costa Rica during October.

Denver Mint hit a peak in quarter and half dollar manufacture for the year—with a total of 22,372,000 quarters and 23,340,284 half dollars recorded for the month of October.

No nickels were reported manufactured at the Denver Mint last month.

Philadelphia Mint has allowed her sister Mint in Denver to shoulder most of the responsibility of striking quarters and halves—Philadelphia has manufactured the larger denominations only twice during the year—quarters in January and June, and halves in January and August.

Neither Mint has let up in cent manufacture—the only domestic coinage category that reveals a steady issuance without interruption every month. Denver is far ahead, however, with a 10-month total of 1,412,407,400. Philadelphia's cent total through October is 576,710,000.

November 28 Bid Deadline

Concluding date for the International Banknote Society's latest mail bid auction is November 28.

Thirty-four lots of U.S. and foreign banknotes are up for sale. Among the most interesting items are: Allied Military Currency overprinted "France"; Japanese occupation currency of Burma; a Russian-Asiatic Bank one rouble of Manchuria; and a 100 yuan banknote of the Central Bank of China, dated 1949.

Membership applications are still being accepted by the I.B.S. American collectors may send in $3 for a year's membership to Wesley Bazar at R. D. No. 3, Pine Grove, Pa.

European collectors may send the equivalent of $3 to C. C. Narbeth of Mayfield, Kirby Road, Walton-on-Naze, Essex, England.

New Mint Director Vows No Policy Making Decisions

Miss Eva B. Adams, new director of the United States Mint, accepted the job with the understanding that it was administrative, not policy-making.

This came to light in a United Press International story released in Washington following Miss Adams' swearing in.

Miss Adams, boss of about 1,000 government employees at the Philadelphia and Denver Mints, describes herself as a "peaceful soul."

But Edward Cowan, UPI reporter, observed that for a "peaceful soul," Miss Adams has come a long way in this competitive world.

Miss Adams, a veteran of the hurly-burly of Capitol Hill, was once considered for a seat on the Federal Communications Commission.

Protesting she was "not a politician," she came to Washington in 1940 to manage the office of the late Senator Pat McCarran, a Democrat from Miss Adams' home state of Nevada.

"I never went back," she observed wistfully the other day in her new office in the Treasury building.

She didn't go back, one surmises, because she had what it takes to make good in the nation's capital—brains and, most importantly, a knack for making friends. She has lots of them. Best known of these are two former senators she knew on "The Hill"—John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson.

"Most anybody will tell you that Miss Eva—as people call her—is smart," said Cowan. She graduated from the University of Nevada with honors at the age of 19. After a year of teaching high school in Las Vegas—"English, Spanish and she shudders, "general science"—she enrolled at Columbia University as a graduate student of English.

"I had gone to a small school. The big university challenged me," Miss Adams said of the transfer from sometimes frontierish Nevada to sophisticated New York City.

Later, in Washington, she got her bachelor's and master's degrees in law and was admitted to practice before the Supreme Court.

For all her education, Miss Adams doesn't make a show of the fact. She is 53, small, blonde and soft-spoken. Her voice sometimes trails off to an inaudible whisper in discussing something personal and especially important to her.

Miss Adams recalled that she rejected proposals after McCarran died that she run for his seat. Instead she stayed on as chief of staff to McCarran's successor, Sen. Alan Bible. Bible came to Miss Adams' swearing in and inadvertently provided the occasion for her to prove she is a diplomat.

After she took the oath of office Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon said a few words and called on Miss Adams to respond.

She did. As she closed, she realized that no one planned to ask Bible to speak. She suggested he might be induced to. The audience picked up the cue and clapped. Bible beamed, stepped forward and made a few remarks. Miss Adams stepped back and beamed.

She resents being labeled a spokesman for the silver mining interests—Nevada is nicknamed the "silver state"—but acknowledges, a little reluctantly, that she is sympathetic to their complaint of a cost-price squeeze.

This sympathy, she says, "is just plain natural. I'm from Nevada and Nevada's a silver-producing state."

As a young girl she lived in gold and silver mining camps with her father and mother, V. L. and Cora Adams, who managed lodging and eating facilities.

Miss Adams' approach to the silver industry's situation was a contentious aspect of her nomination by President Kennedy to be director of the mint.

The mint is running out of silver to sell to users. If it stops selling the metal the price probably would rise above the pegged level of 91 cents an ounce.

Thus, silver policy is a thorny issue. Mindful that Miss Adams is a reputed silver partisan, treasury secretary Douglas Dillon transferred policy authority over silver and gold from the mint director's office shortly after the Senate confirmed Miss Adams nomination.

Los Angeles Fire Seals Off Dealer, Warms Show

C. G. Kimerly, Los Angeles coin dealer, was blocked off from his home in Sullivan canyon, but found everything intact when he was allowed to return after the worst fire in Los Angeles history.

"I left Monday morning on a normal business call," Kimerly said, "but when I tried to get home about 2 p.m. the route was blocked off. There was no damage to us or anyone in our canyon."

He said fire had burned over 14,000 acres and was still going at the time of his communique. He enclosed photos of the remains of the home of the late Joan Davis—only two brick chimneys remained standing—and one of Actor Burt Lancaster and his daughter, Joanna, 10, as they surveyed rubble, all that was left of the actor's $500,000 estate in Bel-Air.

A third picture showed a column of fire shooting over a ridge in Topanga Canyon.

The recent convention of the California State Numismatic Association, held at the Miramar Hotel at Santa Monica, was termed "such a hot one that the nearby Santa Monica Mountains caught on fire and are still burning as I write this report" by Karl M. Brainard, general chairman of the event.

"Seriously, though," Brainard reported, "We had an attendance of about 3,500 persons, and a registration of approximately 469.

Highlights are so numerous that it is impossible to pick out a few."

Exhibit winners included Virginia Culver of Los Altos, best in show; G. Jon Hanson of Beverly Hills, U. S. coins; Joseph Goodyear of Inglewood, ancient; Robert S. Benner of Los Angeles, modern foreign; Jim Betton of Santa Monica, substitutes for money; Leroy E. Myers of Pomona, paper money; Robert Adelrod of Los Angeles, medals, and Jack B. Nestle, miscellaneous.

A special award was given to Thelma M. Case of Bay Cities for her non-competitive exhibit.

Plans call for the next C.S.N.A. convention to be held during April at Sacramento, Brainard said.

New Jersey Woman Passes Away Recently

Mrs. Ann V. Starr of Wenonah, N. J., and a charter member of the Delaware Valley Coin Club of New Jersey, passed away recently, it was reported.

Mrs. Starr took an active part in the club until poor health prevented her from attending meetings during the past several years.

Dealer, 86, Beat, Robbed; Dayton Police Arrest Four

A. J. Fink, 86-year-old partially crippled Dayton, Ohio, coin dealer, was recovering at his home today, the victim of a beating and $50,000 coin robbery November 7.

Four men—three of them confessed participants, according to officials—are being held in Montgomery County jail. The quartet was arrested three days later as a six-man detective squad worked around the clock to solve the case.

Sgt. A. J. Zennie identified three of the suspects as Manuel Alzfán, 42, who allegedly planned the robbery and who was supposed to dispose of the stolen coins; George James Malogorski, 30, and Gerald Lee Hoffman, 19. A fourth man implicated in the conspiracy was still being questioned.

Police said Alzfán who previously bought coins from the partially crippled collector planned the robbery three weeks ago. Malogorski deals in coins, according to the officials.

Police said Malogorski and Hoffman pulled the robbery, and that Hoffman admits hitting the victim with a screwdriver wrapped in a sock.

The robbers tied Fink to a table, filled shipping bags with rare coins and ran to their car. Later detectives found the coins packed with feathers in a suitcase and cardboard box in a garage filled with discarded furniture.

Fink positively identified Hoffman as the "rosy-cheeked" suspect who robbed him.

The elderly man, his face still scratched and suffering from a sore side, chuckled as he talked to detectives.

"I am feeling bad," he said, "but I know they feel worse today."

Hobson New Sales Head

Burton Hobson, formerly manager of the coin department at Marshall Field, Chicago, has been appointed sales manager of President Coin Corporation, subsidiary of Sterling Publishing Company. He will also cover as sales representative of Sterling accounts in the New England and Middle Atlantic States.

Hobson is the author of Sterling's forthcoming book "Getting Started in Coin Collecting." He is a graduate of the University of Chicago.

Missouri Collectors Plan Christmas Party

Kansas City, Mo., Numismatic Society is planning a Christmas party to be held in December, reports Elmer L. Tobin, corresponding secretary.

Arrangements are being handled by Miss Nell Meluush and Mrs. Ruth Neill. A social hour will precede the banquet.

Chicago Pair Held In Theft Of Gold Coins

A traffic policeman and a porter at Chicago's O'Hare International airport face charges of receiving stolen property and grand larceny following their arrest in connection with the loss of six gold coins.

Loss of the coins, valued at $650, was reported by Harold Shaer of Montreal, Canada, when he arrived in Los Angeles after a flight interrupted by a stop at O'Hare field.

The policeman was identified as George Smith, 41, a member of the Chicago police force for 10 years, and the porter as William Thomas, 26, also of Chicago.

Deputy Police Superintendent James B. Conlisk said Shaer was changing planes when one of his suitcases broke open and the gold coins fell out.

He said Thomas picked up the coins and tried to sell them November 6 at the Central Coin Mart, 25 North Dearborn Street, Chicago.

Leonard W. Stark, president of the coin firm, became suspicious and called police. Thomas left and Smith, who was walking past, was summoned by Stark and told what happened.

Conlisk said Smith followed the porter to the Chicago Coin Mart, 108 N. Dearborn street, and took custody of the coins, saying he would check them.

Conlisk said Smith denied getting the coins from Thomas, but the porter insisted he gave them to Smith. Both men appeared in felony court. The coins have not been recovered.

Merkin Issues New Catalog

Lester Merkin, New York dealer, has issued a new catalog listing U.S. and foreign coins and currency available to collectors.

The catalog contains a list of 28 U. S. pattern coins for sale. Included in the patterns is an 1854 experimental cent in copper where the obverse and reverse are joined together.

Other patterns include an 1864 copper-nickel two cent piece from regular dies, an 1867 "transitional" copper five-cent piece, and an 1870 barber dime in silver from a regular die.

Final entry in the catalog is a number of uncirculated foreign gold coins from such countries as Belgium, Chile, Israel, Mexico, Peru, Saudi Arabia, Syria, Turkey and Uruguay.

Copies of the catalog may be obtained by writing to Lester Merkin at 515 Madison Avenue, New York 22, N. Y.

Denver Mint Receives Hundreds Of Requests

A report from Mrs. Fern V. Miller, superintendent of the Denver Mint, reveals that letters asking for proof set information, letters concerning sale of uncirculated coins, and requests for Mint tour reservations are pouring into her office at such fast rate that it is impossible for the Denver staff to answer them.

The superintendent supplied Coin World with the following information, which, it is hoped, will lessen the volume of mail directed to the Denver Mint.

Readers are urged to clip this article and save it for future reference, and to pass the information on to fellow collectors and at club meetings.

Proof coins are struck only at the Philadelphia Mint, and during the calendar year indicated by the date on the coins. They are sold only in sets. A set contains one each, half dollar, quarter dollar, dime, five cent and one cent pieces, for a total of five coins.

The price of a proof set is $2.10 per set, which includes postage and insurance, and is the same whether the sets are purchased directly at the Mint or shipped by mail or express to any point within the United States.

For individual collectors, orders will be accepted in either one set ($2.10) or two set ($4.20) pack-

Norman Brock Sells Firm; To Resume Business Later

Pore-ole-broke (Norman) Brock, San Antonio coin dealer and founder of the Brock Foundation, has suspended operations for the immediate present as he announced sale of his business to Columbia Coin Co., Inc., of Houston.

"After 37 years of losing more money and making more friends, I have sold out," said Brock. "My wife and I haven't had a vacation for 15 years so we are going to take some trips around the United ages. All requests or more than two sets must be in lots of five sets ($10.75); 10 sets ($21.00); 50 sets ($105.00), or 100 sets at $210.00. Prices and terms as stated are subject to change without notice.

Orders should be mailed direct to the Superintendent, U.S. Mint, Philadelphia 30, Pa., and should be accompanied by remittance in full in the form of a U.S. postal money order, certified personal check, or bank cashier's check, made payable to the Superintendent, U.S. Mint, Philadelphia.

Personal checks that are not certified, and remittance in incorrect amounts or form, as specified, will be returned to the sender for adjustment. PLEASE DO NOT SEND CASH.

Acceptance of all orders is contingent upon the Mint's ability to meet the unpredictable demand. If the quantity of orders received exceeds the ability to produce, the policy of shipping limited quantities on large orders and favoring the individual collector on small orders will be resumed. The Mint does not maintain a mailing list and can give no notice of change of policy.

The minting of proof coins was discontinued during the period 1943-49 inclusive. No proofs of the commemorative issues are made. Stocks of proof coins for prior years are exhausted.

Silver dollars have not been coined since 1935 and the large supply on hand indicates no prospect for additional coinage of this denomination in the foreseeable future. Only those coins currently being manufactured for circulation are included in the proof sets.

States and see the dealers and the collectors.

"Everybody loved Brock when he was broke and had no money—only coins," said the Texan. "Now I have no coins—just money. I hope people will accept me, 'cause underneath that green stuff is the same ole Brock."

Brock, who dealt in books, stamps and related art products in addition to coins, said he planned to start again in the coin business at a later date.

He said his results in Coin World were so good it took him several months just to fill orders.

"All my full page ads brought me in between three and four thousand orders and nearly that many more letters wanting to buy something else, sell something or trade, or just nice letters telling me how they liked my ad," Brock recalled.

"I was not able to answer any letters except those which had money in them," he said sadly. "But I want Coin World readers to know that I had only one life to give to my hobby, and a couple more years of working day and night like I have been—my widow would have made this announcement instead of me!"

Buyers of his firm will open a swank shop at 624 Westbury Square, Houston, 35, Texas, sometime later in November. Until they open, their address is P.O. Box 35288, Houston, 35, Brock said.

Brock is the founder of the Brock Foundation which has, as he describes it, "only human effort for its capital."

He tells his fellow collectors:

"You can start your own foundation with your leisure time devoted to research or promotion of a worthwhile project. Other foundations have and spend millions seeking a better way of life for Mankind. Your leisure time may accomplish the same results. Your own life will take on a new and richer meaning. Start YOUR foundation today."

MATCHED ENGLISH SET

We have just recently acquired a complete 41-piece silver set of English coinage; beginning with the silver pence of Wm. The Conqueror (1066) and ranging through the shilling of Elizabeth II. It consists of one silver coin of each English sovereign. The complete set has a beautifully matched patina that time alone can impart to coinage.

This remarkably fine set has been displayed at many numismatic conventions throughout the U.S. and has won several awards for its historical significance in the evolution of English coinage.

We offer this desirable set intact and housed in two velvet-lined cases to the discriminating collectors of truly historical coinage at the nominal figure of $395.00

Interested parties may write for complete listings and descriptions of the 41-pieces.

A THANK YOU ON thanksgiving!

After such a busy year we are thankful that one day a year is put aside, for us to give thanks for the wonderful life that has been given to us.

We Americans have a life filled with material things, comforts and many luxuries. These are things to be thankful for, but I believe that our real happiness comes from people, like YOU. I am thankful for all the wonderful people I have met in person and thru the mail. We know we have hurt some people, and for this we are truly sorry.

I wish to take this time to thank YOU, my friends, and customers, the suppliers and those who perhaps don't feel friendly towards me. Without you I am nothing. I am thankful for you and wish that you on this day, have as much to be thankful for as I do.

Yours truly,

California Gold Tokens

Coin columnist Bill Jones, whose column "Concerning Coins" appears in the Huntington, W. Va., Herald Dispatch, reported recently that a collector in his area purchased $150 worth of California souvenir gold tokens from a salesman, thinking they were the real thing. This has undoubtedly happened before.

The original California gold pieces appeared in many varieties as do the imitation or "souvenir" tokens. R. H. Burnie, in his work "Small California and Territorial Gold Coins," listed 778 varieties of the California issues alone. (Other small denomination gold coins come from Alaska and other western states.)

The tiny gold tokens have a long history: first as a private coinage (for small change in the coin-short era following the California gold rush), then as objects of adornment made by jewelers, and finally as imitation pieces. The imitations continue to be manufactured today.

The Huntington, W. Va., incident was unfortunate. The buyer of any California gold tokens should be informed of exactly what he is buying. Therefore we are changing our policy on the advertising of these tokens in the pages of Coin World (see page 75).

Hereafter, all ads offering the recently made imitations must bear the words "modern made" or some such synonym. This term must appear as part of the description of the tokens in the advertisement.

All California gold tokens issued prior to 1955—which were listed by Burnie when his book was published that year—do not have to have such wording.

Variety In This Issue

The largest single numismatic advertisement ever to appear in any numismatic publication is in this issue of Coin World.

You are invited to examine the eight page section of Empire Coin Company, as well as the other advertisements in this issue. The Empire section will be found in the second half of this week's paper and has color on the beginning and ending pages.

Idea for this special section was born over the dinner table at the Sheraton Hotel in Binghamton, N.Y., last month as we visited the proprietors of Empire Coin Company, Dave Bowers and Jim Ruddy.

We managed to get a story on their current activities, Dave and Mary Bowers have been to Europe and back, Jim is on a round-the-world trip. We will run this story in Coin World shortly.

This issue of Coin World is the largest non-special we have published, 96 pages. News stories on 116 coin clubs, for example, are found in this edition.

Coin dealers in the United States and Canada are offering to you, the collector, an infinite variety of numismatic items for your collecting pleasure. We are confident you will find something of interest to add to your collection this week!

Adenaur Signs Notes

Konrad Adenaur's signature appears on the 1916 series of Cologne city banknotes; Dr. Adenaur was the city's mayor at the time.

Collectors Titled

Coin collecting has taken over in LaFayette, Tenn., and has caused the title of "tightwad" to be labeled upon collectors who check each coin before spending.

Letters To The Editor

I am sure that you have been in this coin business so long that it never occurs to you that there are many, many newly interested persons in coin collecting. It is my belief and strong recommendation that you publish on the front page of your Coin World from now on all such abbreviations in the coin language such as Obv., BU, AU, AF, Unc., G, F, VG, XF, VF, Mint, S-VDB, Gem, VDB, plain, dent, hole, CEN, Norm. Open, Clsd., proof set, etc.

Then show directly there under how many of each denomination of coins there are in a roll. I feel confident that this will stimulate both the sale of your paper and coin sale turnover for all, and at the same time make it simple and much easier for the beginner to adopt the hobby of coin collecting.

P. M. Bannister
Hammond, La.

Reader Bannister will approve of Coin World's newest feature, presented for the first time in this issue—standard abbreviations and their definitions. He will also be pleased to know many beginners' questions are being answered in Coin World's Basic Knowledge Series, now in its fourth installment.—Editor.

Each week I have observed the constant and continuous growth of Coin World, both in bulk of advertisers and subscribers. It definitely has grown by leaps and bounds over the past few months. I am confident that your publication has contributed immensely to all the thousands of new collectors who seem to be joining the ranks of collecting weekly. My continued best wishes to you in the future.

Gene English
Flag Pond, Tenn.

I want to thank you and your entire staff for the wonderful help you have been giving to our club. I was very pleased to receive the Coin World packet that you sent to us. We will make good use of it.

I really like the service your paper gives to the coin club. I'm glad you take an interest in the small persons as well as the advanced collectors and dealers.

W. H. Burdick
Northlake, Ill.

I read all of your letters to the editor; some with interest, some with pity (for the authors) for persons that resort to such strong adjectives and phrases. I am sure that every subscriber has some peeve against one or more phases of advertising in Coin World, but I feel that we should go slow on condemning either you or the advertising unless we are sure whereof we speak.

I would like to take this opportunity to get right in line with my personal peeve, without being radical about it; namely, that I would like to see more realistic trade offers. This would benefit your magazine as well as the advertisers. I read every trade ad, but I doubt that this is true with many of your subscribers, for it seems that fair trades are hard to find.

Elmer Hardesty
Pequot Lakes, Minn.

Every now and then I have a chuckle when reading the various numismatic publications and the best one was just printed by one that has been around a long time. They published a photo of the new One Buck coin recently issued by Buck Island in the British Virgin Islands and described it as an island near Greenland by the name of Eirene.

Buck Island lies 28 miles to the east of St. Thomas, U. S. Virgin Islands. EIRENE, is a Greek word meaning "Peace".

Adolph Blaha
Cleveland, Ohio

Why haven't you been printing any of Q. David Bowers' Numismatic Depth Study articles lately? I think that the Depth Study articles are about the best ones that Coin World prints. I used to enjoy "From Fair to Very Fine" by James Johnson, and "Collector's Clearinghouse", but recently Johnson has done nothing but rehash old topics, and the Clearinghouse has been devoted almost exclusively to errors. (Recently, in two consecutive issues, the Clearinghouse was devoted entirely to errors in one, and nine out of 10 in the other.)

I was glad to see the addition of the Coin World Trading Post. Craig Lamberg
Dover, N. J.

Trading Post will bring you more good will than anything else done in a long time.

My ad for four weeks.

In your November 3 issue—is a letter and gripe from H. E. Blakely which needs an answer. We have the answer—for his gripe of some dealers requesting a stamp has been one of our policies for over 16 years.

When we first started in the coin business, an older dealer recommended the policy to us so, as he put it "to keep out the Something-For Nothings". It worked for him for over 30 years and has worked for us for half-as-long. As a result, our mailing list is small, but we never have trouble with the coin switchers, thieves and other undesirables.

For Mr. Blakely to think that his one cent stamp is going to make ends meet for the dealer—is fantasy. Many dealer's catalogues cost up to 50 cents each by the time it is in the collector's hands. Our own lists (we print our own, so no labor is involved), cost us about 13 cents each to get in the collector's hands. The request for a stamp is simply to keep the coupon clippers and the "free" folks on someone else's payroll, besides ours. It works too.

Manners may be involved also—for I would never think of writing to another dealer ASKING advice, or ASKING that he quote me on a coin, or ASKING that he send me his list—without sending him a stamp. For when you send for any dealer's listing or catalogue—whether you like it or not, he's doing you a favor. He has spent some of his money on the catalogue and as yet, you haven't given him a dime's worth of business.

I look forward to receiving Coin World each week and enjoy its many fine articles relating to coins and history. The only annoying section I have found is the "For Trade" column.

It seems that over 90 per cent want to give a nickel (no premium value) for a bag of dollars, figuratively speaking. I have lost interest in that section and skip over it.

Philadelphia, Pa.

Enclosed please find my check to cover your October statement. I want to take this opportunity to thank you for the wonderful job you did on my initial ad in your paper. I am very well pleased with the results.

A. C. Schultz
High Point, N. C.

I have enjoyed your publication but as one of the "Old Timers" who has been in the Coin Business with a shop for the past 20 years, the thought of what is happening to the numismatic part of the business is appalling. With so-called investors (some as young as eight years), speculating, and others who are buying rolls, bags and truckloads of coins and the so-called medals which they think will return them a profit, we have lost many of the serious collectors.

Most of my customers today consist of people who seek profit not pleasure out of their purchases. We still do not sell rolls, bags, so-called medals at high prices, proof sets in quantity or other items which we believe deteriorates our business.

We do have every type of numismatic item available... U. S. coins, foreign coins of almost every country, ancient Roman, Greek, Judean, Medieval, Byzantine and odd and curious coins, medallions issued by government mints to commemorate events and people, war medals, crowns of the world, foreign currency, war medals and related items.

It is very difficult to conduct a legitimate coin business these days with counterfeit coins, altered dates and stolen coins being offered and accepted by many dealers. In the matter of coin supplies, we are overwhelmed with the continual new items and cannot afford to stock very many of them. Everyone seems to be in the "Game".

Kennedy and Lincoln Medals Still Available In Bronze

To date, all platinum and silver medals in the Presidential Art Series have been SOLD OUT.

Currently, Kennedy and Lincoln bronze medals are available at a cost of $2.50 each. The Kennedy bronze medal is the medal that President Kennedy purchased to distribute on his mission to Europe last spring.

These medals, like all medals in the series whether platinum, silver or bronze, contain unusually high STANDARDS OF WORKMANSHIP and FINE HIGH RELIEF SCULPTURING. These qualities, plus the fact that the precious medals (platinum and silver) are produced in LIMITED QUANTITIES, contribute to the increasing value of the medals.

Both the Kennedy and Lincoln medals were struck by the MEDALLIC ART COMPANY, the only American company devoted exclusively to sculptured bas-relief. The intricate design and sculpture work was done by MR. RALPH MENCONI, an internationally recognized sculptor in the field of full portrait and high relief work.

The Presidential Art Medal Series is a CONTINUING PROGRAM in which three or four medals will be struck each year until the program is complete. New models will be struck thereafter as Presidents are inaugurated.

This exclusive offering will be a treasured possession whether you desire only one or the entire series. The PRACTICAL SIZE of the medals (slightly larger than a half dollar) makes them particularly well suited to display in an album, which will be offered in early December.

Orders are filled as received. We suggest that you select and order your Presidential Medals today. Ohio residents add 3% sales tax. DEALER INQUIRIES ARE INVITED.

Washington Medal Scheduled For December

In early December, Presidential Art Medals, Inc., will introduce the George Washington medal . . . third of the series. This medal will contain the same high standards of workmanship and fine high relief sculpturing as its predecessors in the series . . . the Kennedy and Lincoln medals.

... YESTERYEAR IN NUMISMATICS

The 55th annual meeting of the American Numismatic Society was held on January 18 at the Society's building in New York, with Daniel Parish Jr., one of the governors, presiding.

J. P. Pittman of Winnebago, Minn., was offering a pattern St. Gaudens $10 gold piece, dated 1907, with high wire edge and periods in uncirculated condition for $125. He was asking $35 for an uncirculated $20 gold piece, wire edge with flying eagle, dated in 1907 in Roman numerals.

William F. Dunham of Chicago, Ill., announced that he would renew for 1913 the series of prizes which he had offered during 1911 and 1912. The prizes were for original papers on numismatic subjects.

The Numismatist reported that one of its traveling correspondents in the Far East wrote the following:

"Knife money and spade money cost 10 cents apiece here. It would pay an enterprising coin dealer to come to China."

Professor Charles T. Seltman of Cambridge, England, lecturer in archaeology and ancient history at Cambridge University, was visiting in the United States and delivering lectures in several of the larger cities. On November 22 he spoke before the Arundell Club in Baltimore, Md. In addition to pictures of rare coins which were shown on the screen, he showed a large number of the coins on which he spoke.

"Ripley," who was conducting a series of "Believe It Or Not" articles in newspapers throughout the country, reported and illustrated what he termed a "Helden dukated," saying that these $3,000 gold pieces weigh 10 pounds each and were minted at Gitschin by the Duke von Wallenstein.

Ragnar Cederlund of Winnetka, Ill., member of A.N.A., realizing that a gold coin worth $3,000 would be about 150 times the size and weight of the U.S. $20 gold piece, wrote to Ripley for proof. Ripley replied: "The Helden dukated were coined by the Duke of Wallenstein of Thirty-Year-War fame, for the purpose of rewarding the heroes in battle with it. A single specimen is known to be in the possession of the Duc de Ligne, a fervent numismatist."

The women whose features appear on French silver coins as "La Semeuse" (The Sower) died at Le Cresout. She died of hunger. When the great engraver Roty was called upon by the French government to give France a new design for her coins in silver he set forth in quest of inspiration and a model.

He found both in the Department of the Cantal. One morning he observed a young woman of wondrous beauty and grace crossing a field. She was a poor peasant. He asked her to pose, she accepted, and he paid her the equivalent of $4 for her time.

With the object of obtaining information on the 1913 Liberty head nickel, J. T. Glickman of the Western Reserve Numismatic Club, Cleveland, Ohio, wrote to the superintendent of the Philadelphia Mint on the subject. The reply was as follows:

"Replying to your letter, you are advised that the coinage of the Liberty head nickels ceased in 1912 and there is no record of any having been coined in 1913." The letter was signed by Frias Styer, superintendent.

Both the 1908-S and 1909-S Indian head cents were offered in uncirculated condition for 15 cents each by Ambrose J. Brown of Marblehead, Mass.

On October 6, 1936, the St. Paul Numismatic Association was organized and 15 collectors attended the first meeting held in the conference room of the Pioneer Building, St. Paul, Minn.

Paul C. Buetow was elected president of the newly organized group, and J. H. Harkins, secretary-treasurer.

Among the charter members were George P. Bailie, Ross Hubley, L. J. Piras, Vern M. Fifer, R. T. Hagman, M. C. Sweeney and J. H. Harrell.

The diamonds, jewelry, cash and coin and stamp collections of the late Col. E. H. R. Green were transported on October 25, 1936, in eight armored cars, under armed escort of 16 private guards and seven State policemen, from his South Dartmouth, Mass., estate to the First National Bank in Boston, where it was to be stored in vaults.

The coin collection was valued at $5,000,000; the stamp collection at $3,500,000.

C. E. Higgy, manager of the Franklin Coin Mart of Columbus, Ohio, was asking $9 for the 1877 Indian head cent in good condition.

Uncirculated 1931-S Lincoln cents were being sold by the Worcester County Coin Exchange, Worcester, Mass., for 90 cents each. An uncirculated 1909-S Lincoln was offered for $2.75.

Moritz Wormser passed away Wednesday, May 22, 1940. His devotion to the cause of numismatics was expressed through long years unselfishly given to the American Numismatic Association. He joined A.N.A. early in 1912 and five years later was elected to the board of governors, and at the Boston convention in 1921 was elected president of A.N.A., a position he held for five years.

After his term of president of the association, he was prevailed upon to run for the board of governors again, and continued in that capacity, being re-elected annually, until he refused renomination in 1936.

The Des Moines, Iowa, Coin Club held its 51st meeting with 10 members attending. A highlight of the meeting was a quiz conducted by member Leon Smith.

The Dallas, Texas, Coin Club met and elected George Sexton of Shreveport, La., president of the club.

Ray Osburn conducted a discussion on "coin cleaning" at the September meeting of the Wichita, Kan., Coin Club.

A set of Jefferson nickels, uncirculated, 1938 through 1955, was offered for $19 by R. Green of Chicago, Ill. She was selling 1955-S cents at $1.50 a roll, uncirculated.

Baytown Collectors Maintain Bid Board

Tuesday, November 23, has been set for the next meeting of the Baytown, Texas, Coin Club, to be held at the Electricians Hall on North Pruett, starting at 7:30 p.m., according to club president Les Robinson.

The Baytown club maintains a "bid board" at Sims Coin Shop, 442 East Alford, for the benefit of individuals who want to bid on coins between meetings.

British Interest Rates Are Slashed

The recent cut in British interest rates coincides with renewed worries about the flow of short term investment funds, and some gold, from the United States.

The cut in London should help discourage any new rush such as the outflow of gold and dollars which last year caused quickly discounted doubts about the soundness of the U.S. dollar.

It has been reported that the price of gold on the London free market has risen and now stands 18 1/2 cents above the U.S. Treasury official rate of $35 an ounce.

It appears that the reason for the outflow of funds is that the British raised the Bank of England rate to seven percent July 25 from 5 1/2 percent because the pound sterling was in trouble.

The Federal Reserve Bank discount rate was then, and still is, 3 per cent.

The spread between the two bank rates carries over into short term securities. Recently British Treasury bills have been yielding 6 1/2 per cent, while the yield on like U.S. securities has ranged from 2 1/2 to 3 per cent. (The official bank rates set the pattern but don't determine the exact yields on various types of securities.)

Some investors, including Americans with idle money for short term hire, have taken advantage of the higher London rates. There also has been some flight of West German funds to London during the Berlin crisis.

As a result the pound sterling has rallied and Britain's reserves of gold and currency have climbed.

So the Bank of England cut its rate to 6 per cent, doubtless chiefly to ease restrictions on domestic business in Britain itself.

The cut isn't a big enough drop to cause any great outflow of funds from London to other money centers, such as New York. But every little bit helps when the United States is trying to maintain its own currency and gold stability.

The drain on U.S. Treasury gold reserves stopped early this year after three years of troublesome outflows. During the summer the U. S. gold reserve held fairly steady.

There was a drop of $150 million in gold in the last week of August, apparently because the U.S. Treasury made it available to the International Monetary Fund which was helping Britain when the pound was under renewed pressure.

Another drop in gold has been reported in the last week—from $17.45 billion September 28 the day reported by Washington.

The $70 million drop isn't any sign of a renewed serious outflow. But financial circles note that it came when British reserves were climbing and London was feeling secure enough to cut back its high bank rate, which had been set to protect British reserves when they were suffering from losses of currency and gold.

Nervousness in the United States about gold is partly a hang-over from a year ago when some thought the dollar in danger. It is also due to the primary trouble: The U.S. is still sending more dollars abroad than it is getting back, although this deficit has been pared sharply after three years of big ones.

Until a firm balance is struck some financial observers will still worry about the future stability of the nation's reserves.

THE OFFICIAL

"Uncle Sam" Sesquicentennial Medallion

"Uncle Sam," one of the most beloved, inspirational yet satirized figures of our American Heritage, will be honored in 1962 on the 150th anniversary of his birth as a national symbol by this superbly sculptured medallion. The story of the American Way of Life is captured in deep relief in bronze, fine silver and platinum to commemorate the richly endowed heritage bequeathed to us by the Founding Fathers. Today when Freedom is meeting so critical a challenge in Berlin and elsewhere, the symbol of "Uncle Sam" takes on supreme significance as the personification of America and human liberty. To all of us, as well as to millions of people throughout the world, the name of "Uncle Sam" means compassion, generosity, prosperity and freedom. These are among the basic principles that have made the United States the greatest nation on earth. Today, when such principles are under attack by Communism, we must re-emphasize our dedication to the American philosophy that is the cornerstone of our heritage. A most effective way to dramatize our beliefs is to reaffirm the Spirit of 1776, to reassert the National Purpose of our great country as laid down by our Founding Fathers.

Our design, created by Thomas I. Gerson, official "Uncle Sam" historian, president of "Uncle Sam" Foundation, Inc., and director of national education for the Troy Area Committee for "Uncle Sam", is based upon Mr. Gerson's 15 years of research into the life of Samuel Wilson of Troy, N.Y., as the progenitor of "Uncle Sam." He led the fight for enactment of the "Uncle Sam" bill by Congress in 1961.

Not many people know the heart-warming story of "Uncle Sam" Wilson, that "Uncle Sam" is not the creature of a cartoonist's pen but was a real flesh-and-blood American. Amplification of this history will be included in the brochure to accompany each medallion.

Medallion Distributors, Inc., commissioned by "Uncle Sam" Foundation, Inc., to distribute the official "Uncle Sam" Sesquicentennial medallion, is proud to have a part in perpetuating the American Way of Life as symbolized by "Uncle Sam." Medallion Distributors, Inc., in turn has contracted The Metal Arts Co., Inc., to sculpture and manufacture this collector's medallion. The Metal Arts Co., while a comparative newcomer to the medallist field, proved the value of its 48 years of manufacturing experience in the recently issued Saint Gaudens medallion of Toivo Johnson which was so well received by numismatic collectors.

In keeping with the American tradition by which many unknowns have risen to fame by their own achievement, we and The Metal Arts Co. have decided to have the sculpturing of both the obverse and reverse sides of the "Uncle Sam" Medallion done by a young and talented artisan, James Nordquist. Watch for his mark in the future!

This medallion will be issued only from January 1, 1962, through December 31, 1962, or until a quantity of 25,000 serially numbered fine silver (.999 pure) and 25 consecutively numbered platinum medallions are issued. Original purchasers of the platinum medallions may have their names hand-engraved on the edge, if they wish. Bronze medallions will also be available.

Advance orders for delivery in January, 1962, will now be accepted. An introductory price on fine silver of only $27.50 will be effective until December 31, 1961, following which the price will be $30.00 each. Payment is to be made with order which will be acknowledged promptly with your serial number. Shipment will be made postpaid. Requests for specific serial numbers will be honored, subject to prior sale.

'Live And Let Live' Says Kelly

By James F. Kelley
333 W. First St., Dayton 2, Ohio

We hear many pros and cons regarding the collector who is primarily interested from an investment standpoint and who confines most of his purchases to rolls, proof sets, gold coins, etc.

Frankly, most of the disparaging remarks come from the old-time collectors who had the opportunity to buy a lot of these high priced coins when they were issued, but failed to do so either through lack of foresight or interest.

Personally, I feel that a great many of these complaints are "sour grapes" and often a cover-up for the fact that they did not take advantage of the many opportunities available years ago.

Aside from this, it has always been my feeling that it is everyone's privilege to pursue his hobby in the manner which gives him the most pleasure. Furthermore, I can recall very few collectors who weren't interested in making a "buck" whenever possible.

This complaint against the new collector is the same old theme, only with a new script. When I first started collecting, some of the old-time dealers did not even differentiate between a Philadelphia coin and one with a mint mark.

When I started in business in 1936, I took quite a little ridiculing because I specialized in Indian and Lincoln cents.

The moral of the story is that the old-timers are always going to find some fault with the beginner—so why not collect as you please and let them have their fun too?

Alabama Groups Meet

The Muscle Shoals, Ala., Coin Club held its annual banquet recently, in conjunction with the meeting of the Alabama Numismatic Society, at the Muscle Shoals Hotel in Sheffield.

After the banquet the Muscle Shoals club held a business meeting followed by a business session of the Alabama Numismatic Society.

After the introduction of guests, A. W. Beinlich Jr. gave a history of the Muscle Shoals club. Then Dr. Walter B. Jones of Tuscaloosa presented Dr. S. S. Norvall, president of the local club, with a gavel, as the latter installed the recently-elected club officers.

Muscle Shoals officers are, in addition to Dr. Norvall: Dr. Milton C. Dunn and O. V. Ledgerwood, vice presidents; C. Smith Trimble, corresponding secretary;

J. T. Townsley, recording secretary; Jane Riddle, treasurer.

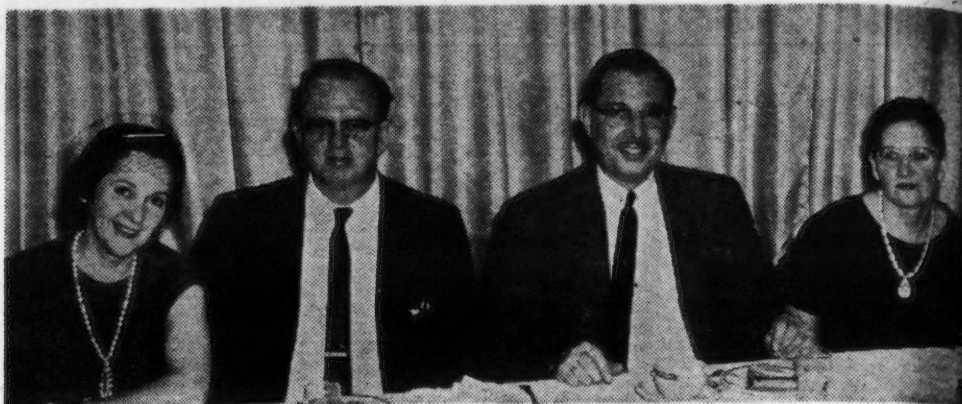

John H. Morris of Homewood, Ala., was principal speaker for the evening and spoke on U. S. currency.

Dr. Walter B. Jones awarded prizes for the winning exhibits to Dr. George McDonald, Jim Casey, Mrs. Faye Kirkpatrick, and Juddy Phillips.

Special prizes were won by Mrs. Maxie Morris, Sonny Anderson, Grady McDonald, Her Ash, and Charlie Palmer.

New Members Signed

The Mannington, W. Va., Coin Club met recently in the city hall building and voted on five applications for membership. An auction followed the regular meeting.

Pittsburgh Banquet Program Sparkles

S. Williams, secretary; Robert Williams, program chairman; Richard Yeager, treasurer, and his wife, Mrs. Yeager.

Grecian Coins Classical

Greek coins of today still have a kind of classical beauty that is reminiscent of Greek coins struck over two millennia ago.

The one drachma of King George I of 1910, for example, has the ancient portrait of Thetis on a sea horse. Thetis is the mythological character that symbolizes the sea.

A one drachma of 1926 carries the head of Athena, the greatest of the Greek goddesses, a classical portrait that is similar to the one used on coins during Alexander the Great's time in the fourth century B. C.

Ironically enough, the mint at Athens is no longer in operation, though most of Greece's coins were manufactured there until the beginning of the 20th century.

During recent years, the country's coins have been struck in at least six different mints in four countries—at London and Birmingham in England; Paris and Poissy, France; Brussels, Belgium, and Vienna, Austria.

The drachma remains as the basic monetary unit in Greece, and is worth approximately three and one-half cents in U. S. money, at the official rate of exchange.

Coin Club Show Well Attended

The recent Cheshire, Conn., Coin Club show was attended by approximately 400 persons, and was highlighted by a 190 lot auction, according to a report from show officials.

The event was termed "nothing special—just a plain, highly successful show."

Juniata Coin Club Sponsors Exhibits

Two exhibits from the Juniata Coin Club of Altoona, Pa., were among those on display at the recent second annual show of the Greater Johnstown, Pa., Coin Club.

The event was held at the Cambria Savings and Loan Association Building at Johnstown.

Michigan Show Two-Day Event

Club president Joseph F. Pissale of Southgate, Mich., and convention chairman Floyd Webb of Lincoln Park, Mich., both expressed favorable opinions of the successful coin show held by the Lincoln Coin Club of Southgate, at the Steel Workers Hall in Southgate on October 21 and 22. They estimated the attendance for the two day show at approximately 1160. Twenty-seven dealers had bourse tables and the auction on both afternoons brought good results.

William J. Ash of Inkster, Mich., president-elect for 1962, was in charge of the exhibits and security.

The large hall gave ample accommodations to the dealers and the exhibits. Refreshments were served from the hall kitchen by club members under the direction of Peter Yatros and the Jack Radners. Lois Webb, Betty Tomko, Violet Bateman and Winifred Jewell were kept busy on the registration desk and the auction table. The club was so enthusiastic over the results of this show that they are now laying the groundwork for the 1962 convention, which they promise will be bigger and better. They expect to have the same hall which contains 6800 square feet of floor space.

Best in Show Trophy was captured by George D. Hatie of Grosse Pointe, Mich., with his exhibit of U.S. Type coins which recently won second honors at the A.N.A. Convention in Atlanta. Hatie entered seven display cases in three divisions and came out with three first place award ribbons. John R. Drazen of St. Clair Shores, Mich., won the runner-up trophy with his nine cases consisting of United States copper, silver, proofs, and paper currency. Richard Agree of Detroit, Mich., received honorable mention for an outstanding case entered in Miscellaneous comprising a brilliant uncirculated set of Standing Liberty quarters, a 1907 wire edge $20 St. Gaudens gold piece and an extremely rare number one U.S. ten dollar currency note.

Ribbon winners in the seven divisions were as follows: United States silver—first, second and third ribbons—John R. Drazen of St. Clair Shores, Mich.; United States copper—first and second ribbons—John R. Drazen of St. Clair Shores, Mich.; United States General—first place, George D.

Hatie of Grosse Pointe, Mich.; Second place—Jerry Aronson of Detroit, Mich.; Miscellaneous—First place—Richard Agree of Detroit, Mich.; second place—John R. Drazen of St. Clair Shores, Mich.; Third place—Gerald Bolton of Wyandotte, Mich.

Paper Money—First place—George D. Hatie of Grosse Pointe; Second place—John R. Drazen of St. Clair Shores; Third place—Gerald Bolton of Wyandotte; Foreign Coins—First and second places—William J. Ash of Inkster, Mich.; third place—Gerald Bolton of Wyandotte; and Gold Coins—First place—George D. Hatie of Grosse Pointe.

Judges were Dan Stoner of Toledo, Ohio, Clarence Downey of Allen Park, Mich., and William Sturdivant of Lincoln Park, Mich. They had a difficult time in deciding on the Best in Show between George D. Hatie and John R. Drazen who have been rivals many times in local coin shows. Day and night protection was handled very satisfactorily by the Southgate police department and the club membership.

Officers elect for 1962 are William J. Ash, president; John Montgomery, vice-president; Betty Tomko, secretary; Lois Webb, treasurer; and the nine Board members are Floyd Webb, Leonard Jewell, John Radner, Joseph Pissale, Violet Bateman, Peter Yatros, Clarence Downey, Robert Sherry and Charles Suddeth.

Club meetings are presently being held in the Community Room of the Federal Department Store in the Taylortown Shopping Center on Ecorse Road in Taylor, Mich. Meeting nights are the first Thursday and third Friday of each month at 8 p.m.

The club is planning many activities for 1962 under the able guidance of activities chairman John Montgomery. Residents of western and downriver Wayne County, both seniors and juniors, are invited to attend as guests. Dues are a $1.50 a year for seniors and 75 cents for juniors.

Michigan Auction Features Panama-Pacific Gold Series

Final preparations have been made for the Michigan State Numismatic Society's fall convention which is being staged at Detroit's Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel on November 24, 25, and 26.

"This will be the biggest and most exciting numismatic event in Michigan for 1961," commented Earl Schill, the show's general chairman. Detroit Coin Club is acting as convention host.

Over 100 dealers from the U. S. and Canada will participate in the bourse, while Tommy Ryan of Chicago will conduct the auction.

U. S. coins from all series will be featured in the auction, highlighted by a complete issue of the Panama-Pacific Exposition commemorative of 1915 set in original copper frame.

The set includes the famous $50 gold pieces in round and octagonal, plus the one dollar and two and one-half dollar pieces. Auction officials indicate that there are probably less than ten sets extant in this special frame, and that the final selling price may approach $20,000.

Foreign coins and currency are also included in the auction.

A wide variety of exhibits, tours of Detroit, complimentary luncheons for the ladies, and special prizes are some of the other convention highlights.

General convention information may be obtained from Schill at 1434 Farmer street, Detroit 26, Mich.

Coin Copies To Be Aired

"Should reproduction of rare coins, medals and tokens be accepted at auction?"

This was the question scheduled to be discussed at the November meeting of the San Diego, County, Calif., Inter-Club Numismatic Council, reports Russell Rulau, council officer. The session was scheduled at the Point Loma, San Diego, home of Leonel C. Panosh, council director.

"A flood of copies, replicas and reproductions of scarce and desirable coins and medals are coming on the market," commented Rulau, "and many of these are unmarked as copies, or else marked in an indistinguishable manner, so as to confuse the beginning collector."

"While such copies are advertised as such by the makers," concluded Rulau, "the possibilities of fraud in resale are evident. Therefore, a written code of ethics will be discussed and voted upon."

The San Diego council is a coordinating board of member clubs in San Diego County. Council is essentially a collector's group, devised to protect the interests of the individual collector who cares enough about his hobby to join a local club, according to Rulau. Membership in the council is restricted to three delegates chosen by each of the ten member clubs.

Current club members and their presidents are: Astronatics Coiners, San Diego, Bob Earhart; ConVair Coin Club, San Diego, Al Baber; Escondido Coin Club, Escondido, Carl Schmidt; Forester's Coin Club, San Diego, Joe McTague; Imperial Beach Coin Club, Imperial Beach, Charles Jackson.

La Mesa Numismatic Society, La Mesa, Russell Rulau; Ocean-side-Carlsbad Coin Club, Carlsbad, H. B. Hornola; Ryan Coin Club, San Diego; Herbert Holt; Southern California Exonumist Society, San Diego, Paul Hamm; and the San Diego Numismatic Society, Douglas Decker.

Blue Ridge Show Held At Rock Hill

The Blue Ridge Numismatic Association of South Carolina held another of its series of coin shows in Rock Hill, S.C., recently with the Tri-County Coin Club as host, with more than 300 persons in attendance, according to a report from J. Frank Hull, Fort Mill, secretary of the Tri-County club.

Among the exhibitors was Dr. Conway A. Bolt of Marshville, N.C., president of the Middle Atlantic Numismatic Association, who displayed his collection of Charlotte gold and a case of Mint errors, as well as a special plastic mounting of ancient and Biblical coins of Mrs. Bolt's.

George Walton of Charlotte, N.C., exhibited his 1913 Liberty Head nickel and a complete set of Charlotte and Bechtler gold, together with a plastic mounting of fractional currency. Paul M.

Tokens Are Featured

A program on tokens, including those used by early-day plantations, was a feature of the October meeting of the Brazosport Coin Club, Lake Jackson, Texas.

Walter Krause of Freeport, president, was in charge of the meeting.

Whisonant, Sharon, S. C., displayed a collection of currency which "stretched from end of the hall to the other", Hull reported. Show officials included Grady C. Sizemore Sr., Greenville, S.C., Blue Ridge N.A. general secretary; Ralph Roach, president of the Rock Hill club, and Hull. Registration was in the charge of Mrs. Roach and Mrs. Ted Hendrick, while Jack Crumley, Greenville, was auctioneer. Security was provided by York County Sheriff Grover Noe.

Silver Sands To Meet

The Silver Sands Coin Club of Panama City, Fla., is scheduled to hold its next meeting on Tuesday, November 28. For the place of meeting, interested collectors are invited contact club president Claude Hollis.

Island Has Own Coins

The island of Jersey, off the coast of France and belonging to Britain, has its own coinage; the island's coins are struck at the Royal Mint in London.

essary to complete the set at a cost of $12.50 each.

2. $112.50 advance payment will guarantee delivery of all medals as released with the new custom Whitman deluxe included free, a saving of $2.95.

Approximate release date:

First 2 medals before Christmas. Remaining 7 about 1 every 3-4 weeks.

Set to be complete by Fair opening date of April 26, 1962.

All orders will be handled on a first come first served basis and will be limited to not more than 5 sets per person in an effort to avoid any speculation.
As this set reflects world wide interest, 31 foreign countries are represented at the Fair at this time.

The medal being struck in silver and in high relief in a very limited quantity makes it a choice collectors' item.

You know the demand will exceed the supply.

NORTHWEST HISTORICAL MEDALS, INC.

702 South 9th, P.O. Box 652

Walla Walla, Washington

Indiana Show Draws Crowd

Over 2,000 persons attended the South Bend, Ind., Coin Club's seventh annual October coin show held at the city's Eagles Lodge, reports Edmund Mackowski, general chairman.

Henry Lezak, club president, said that this was the largest and most successful coin show ever held in the South Bend area.

A total of 86 collectors, all from Indiana, entered the exhibit competition with Arthur Merritt from Mishawaka and Hal Miller, Elkhart, sharing the best in show honors. Miller represented the club's junior collectors.

Missouri Has New Coin Club

Mountain Grove, Mo., is the home of a new club, to be named the "Collectors' Club", which includes in its membership collectors of coins, guns, stamps, antiques and the like, according to a report from its recently elected president, Robert A. Johnson.

Other officers chosen at the first meeting in October included Glen Blacksher, vice president; Dolen Hopkins, secretary-treasurer, and A. L. Wood, historian, all of Mountain Grove.

The group has scheduled its next session for Monday, November 27, to be held in the American Legion Club, starting at 7:30 p.m. Any interested collectors are invited to attend.

Dealer Change Listed

Joe F. Johnson of South Houston, Texas, has announced a change of address for his "Coin Mart", from 1115 College Avenue to 607 College, in South Houston. He will handle all Whitman supplies, and is featuring a 300-lot bid board.

First place winners were declared in 12 separate categories. They were: Walter White, South Bend, U. S. coins; Jake Lemarr, South Bend, U. S. currency; Noel Hutchins, Fort Wayne, foreign coins; R. E. Daniels, Warsaw, medals and tokens.

Arthur Merritt, Canadian coins; George Broughton, Fort Wayne, foreign currency; John Shaffer, Fort Wayne, obsolete currency; Edwin Frederickson, South Bend, ancient coins; George Bess, Mishawaka, odd and curious; Arthur Merritt, specialized; George Broughton, coins of the world; Henry Lezak, South Bend, gold coins.

Junior award winners were: Hal Miller, U. S. coins; Tim Martin, Walkerton, U. S. currency; David Bess, Mishawaka, foreign coins; Robert Meixal, Mishawaka, medals and tokens; James Krol, South Bend, Canadian coins.

Ted Bierwagen and Tom Compton Jr., club officers, handled the arrangements for the exhibits. Andrew Ruphock served as auctioneer for the 180-lot sale, and he was assisted by Tom Compton Sr.

Jake Lemarr, bourse chairman, reported that 22 dealers participated in this segment of the show.

Mobile Trade Coins Reported Available

Clyde O. Draughon, first vice president of the Mobile, Ala., Anniversary Celebration Corporation, reports that the corporation still has in stock the last three issue of a series of goldline 250th anniversary of Mobile trade coins.

The first coin, picturing Bienville, has long been sold out, Draughon said, but the three still available have no restrictions and are being sold by the corporation at $1 each set.

Report From Thailand

Counterstamped Dollars Ordered By King of Siam

By Robert B. Burroughs

(Robert B. Burroughs, who lives in Bangkok, Thailand, is a student of Siamese coins, with the counterstamped dollars of King Mongkut being one of his specialties—Editor.)

For several hundred years prior to the reign of King Mongkut (Rama IV), the silver coins used in Siam were called "bullet money" because the shape was similar to a bullet.

Each reigning king had his own personal mark stamped on these bullet coins and after King Mongkut took the Throne he used as his personal marks the Royal Crown and the Chakri. The Chakri appears on the top of the bullet money with the Royal Crown mark toward the front of the piece.

In 1855 King Mongkut signed the Bowring Treaty with England, thus opening up Siam to trade with the world. By 1858, due to increased trade with Europe, Siam found itself short of the bullet coins. The main reason for the shortage was the increased trade. Another important factor was that the best craftsman at the Royal Mint was only able to put out 240 bullet coins a day. With only 10 molds available the mint output was only 2,400 pieces a day, at best.

To keep up with the foreign trade, it was estimated that the Royal Mint should put out a minimum of 100,000 coins a day. To eliminate this serious shortage, King Mongkut ordered through the British Consul, Sir Robert Schomburgk, a coin press from England with a capacity large enough to produce 100,000 flat round coins per day.

Prior to the arrival of the minting machinery from England, there became an acute shortage of the bullet money for use in the commercial trade. It was decided by the Government to call in some of the Mexican dollars, which then circulated freely in the Orient, and stamp them with the King's Crown and Chakri mark as were done to the bullet pieces. This was done and a Royal Edict was issued to the effect that these Mexican dollars, with the King's personal marks stamped on them, were to be used as official coins for trade until the minting of the new flat coins was started.

After the production of the new one baht coins had commenced, the Mexican counter-stamped dollars were called in by the mint and melted down. The silver was used for making the new flat tical denomination coins of King Mongkut. Consequently, few coins have survived the melting pot.

The Mexican dollar, dated 1856, shows the Royal Crown Mark at the extreme top and the Chakri mark to the right at the one o'clock position. This is the normal stamping pattern found on these rare coins; however, there has been one Mexican dollar also dated 1856 which had the Chakri mark to the left of the Royal Crown mark. As far as has been determined, this piece with the Chakri on the left, is the only one that has been discovered so far.

The Peruvian dollar, dated 1834, also has the Royal Crown and Chakri counter-marks of King Mongkut. To date, one other Peruvian dollar has been discovered and it is described and shown in the Journal of The Siam Society, Vol. 37, Part I, Plate V.

This coin belonged to Ulrich Guehler and in 1948, when Mr. Guehler wrote his article, "Notes on Old Siamese Coins", his countermarked Peruvian piece was the only one known. It was dated 1846.

Also in Mr. Guehler's collection was a Mexican dollar with the Royal Crown countermarks but with the date of 1857. As Mr. Guehler says in his article, "Further Studies of Old Thai Coins", The Journal of the Thailand Research Society, Vol. 35, Part II, "This piece (Mexican countermarked) is so rare that LaMay knew of only three, and the one shown here is the only one that I have seen."

Since Mr. Guehler's article was written, other pieces have been discovered and it is estimated that eight pieces are now known, of which three are in the Thailand National Museum; the remainder are in private collections in Bangkok. The three pieces pictured above are from my own collection.

It has been rumored that there is a Spanish piece of eight with the Siamese countermarks and also that there is a Peruvian and a Mexican 50 cent piece with the rare countermarks but, to date, none have been seen and until the time that these pieces are seen, it is just mere speculation as to whether they were made or not.

Hawaii Coins Club Program

Ed Quagliana, club vice president, was scheduled to speak on Hawaii and its coinage at the recent meeting of the Rochester, N. Y., Numismatic Association reports Robert E. Ogg, secretary. Quagliana also was to give a progress report on the club's 50th anniversary banquet set for January 6, 1962. The special banquet will feature guest speakers, an auction and displays.

A 50th anniversary medal is also being struck for the occasion. Designed by Alphonse Kolb, the medal will be made in three metals, bronze, nickel-silver, and sterling silver.

Further banquet information may be obtained from Herb Becks, program chairman, at 150 Seyee Terrace, Rochester 13, N.Y.

New Officers Named For Rockatomics Club

Officers for 1962 are slated to be elected at the next meeting of the Rockatomics Coin Club of Canoga Park, Calif., to be held in the Rocketdyne Recreation Center, Monday, November 27, starting at 7:30 p.m., according to secretary Marjorie Pulliam.

The club is planning a Christmas party which will probably be held before the regular December meeting date which this year will fall on Christmas day. Date for the party and December meeting will probably be announced at the November 27 session.

Venezuelan coins

Bolivar Dominates Coins

Venezuelan currency is based on the centimo and bolivar. One hundred centimos equal one bolivar, with the bolivar equaling approximately 30 cents in American money.

All gold and silver coins show the Venezuelan coat of arms on the reverse and a profile of Simon Bolivar's face on the obverse.

Coins struck from the nickel show a simplified coat of arms on the reverse and the inscription "5 centimos" or "12½ centimos" on the obverse.

Gold coins are 18 carat fine, and silver coins are 0.835 fine.

Trusty Ozarks Leader

Haskell Trusty of Joplin, Mo., was elected president for 1962 of the Greater Ozarks Numismatic Association at its semi-annual convention held at Fort Smith, Ark., in early November, according to a report from secretary-treasurer D. F. Ludwick, Fort Smith.

Trusty, former vice president, succeeds James Vaughan, Fort Smith. Dr. W. T. Winburn, Muskogee, Okla., was chosen to replace Trusty in the vice presidency. Ludwick was re-elected.

Some 1,000 persons attended the convention and saw Preston Meek, Fort Smith, take best in show with his exhibit of medals after winning first place in that category. Other winners included:

American coins, Dr. Ralph Crigler, Fort Smith; currency, C. R. Ross, Okmulgee, Okla.; foreign money, W. H. Elliott, Tulsa, Okla.; ancient coins, L. Lamar Davis, Edna, Kansas, first, and Dr. Fred Krock, Fort Smith, second; and campaign tokens, S. W. Freeman, Newport, Ark.

The next convention of the Greater Ozarks Association, comprising clubs in southern Missouri, Arkansas, eastern Kansas and Oklahoma, is scheduled for May, 1962, in Joplin.

Illinois Collectors Evaluate Rare Coins

Members of the Fulton County Coin Club, Canton, Ill., are prepared to help grade and evaluate old coins for residents of the Canton area at future club meetings, Lyle Howard, president, announced recently.

The organization meets the afternoon of the fourth Sunday of each month in Memorial Hall at Canton. The public is invited to attend these meetings.

Vatican Coins Speaker Topic

Joseph Byers, past president of the Philadelphia, Pa., Coin Club, was guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Wilmington, Del., Coin Club, it was reported by Florence Behrends, secretary.

"Coinage of the Vatican," was the speaker's theme, highlighted with a showing of slides on papal coins. The slides were photographs of plastic impressions of the coins.

Charles Buckalew was the evening's exhibit winner for his display of Vatican coins.

During the meeting, club president Donald G. Blackburn appointed a nominating committee to select a slate of officers for the 1961-62 club year. The committee includes Charles Buckalew, chairman; Hance Jaquett, Jules Reiver, and Mrs. John T. (Nancy) Hall.

The Wilmington club has a paid membership of 115. Meetings are held the fourth Tuesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. (trading begins at 7 p.m.) at the West End Neighborhood House, 710 N. Lincoln street, Wilmington.

"Crown Size Silver Coins of the World" will be the subject for a talk at the November 28 meeting.

Report Given At Iowa Meet

Chales A. Lindburg reported on the recent Iowa State Numismatic Association convention as the feature of the last meeting of the Port City Coin Club, Muscatine, Iowa, according to Mrs. Gus Heinrich, corresponding secretary.

Present were 73 members and seven guests, with one new member being accepted, Michael Witte. The session closed with an auction. Sheldon Crow won the special award of a 1961 proof set.

Next meeting of the Port City club is slated for Tuesday, November 28, to be held in the Municipal Light and Water Company's auditorium, starting at 8 p.m.

Aluminum Coins Made

Trends Of Today's Canadian Coin Values

Feature Story Stimulates Interest

By J. E. Charlton
80 Richmond St., East
Toronto 1, Ont., Canada

Nation-wide attention has been focused on coin collecting in Canada following the publication of a two page illustrated article in color on this subject by The Star Weekly, Canada's largest news weekly, which has a circulation of one million. Featured in the article were some of the rare coins sold in the recent Canadian Numismatic Association convention auction which yours truly conducted. Values of these coins were listed in the text.

The Star Weekly announced that the reader response to this article was immediate and terrific. They had so many phone calls that an extra girl had to be added to the switchboard to help in handling the coin inquiries.

Many of these callers were in turn referred to the writer along with hundreds of letters. The Star Weekly reported that in all its 50 year history no previous article had ever attracted so much attention from its readers.

While it is difficult to determine the net result of this free publicity, many rare coins have been uncovered by owners who did not realize their value.

Increased sales of coin books and coin collectors' supplies have been noticed and more people are now interested in coins and coin collecting than ever before in Canada. In view of this, the writer feels that the benefits to the coin collecting hobby outweigh the personal inconvenience of the many inquiries.

However, he has suggested to The Star Weekly that in the future similar articles written by non-numismatists be proofread by a coin expert to keep the nuisance calls to a minimum.

Pickin's Scarce Says Collector In Pacific

Thomas M. Casey is a resident of Guam and tells of his coin collecting experiences on this U.S. owned island in the Pacific.

By Thomas M. Casey

About four years ago, I thought I would like to have a coin for each year starting with the year 1900, and so started looking over all the coins I had in my possession. Then I began looking through all my change for new coins, and my friends even began saving their odd coins for me.

Soon, I became conscious of mint marks, and realized that I needed a date for each of the three mints, Philadelphia, Denver, and San Francisco.

Almost without realizing it, I had been bitten by the coin collecting "bug," and so developed a hobby that has afforded me much pleasure.

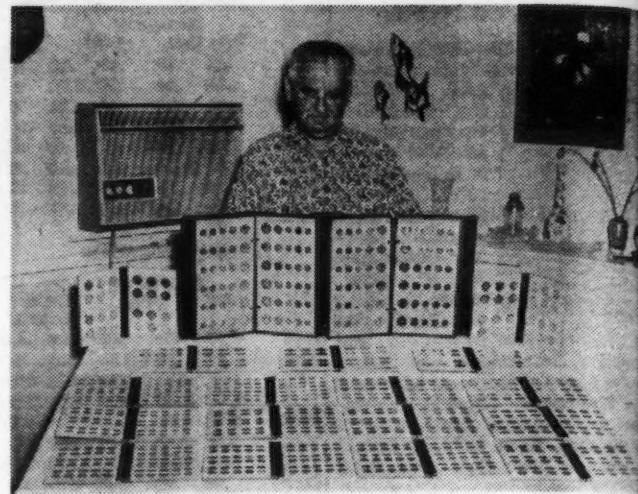

My main collection is comprised of the following series of coins: U.S. cents from 1856; nickels from 1883; dimes from 1892; quarters from 1892; halves from 1892.

According to my calculations, there are a total of 954 coins in these series, and thus far I have obtained 945. This includes coins currently on order, and where immediate shipment has been assured. With a little time and the necessary $$$, I hope to obtain soon the nine coins still required, or at least those of which I can afford (No 1913 Liberty nickel, of course).

The island of Guam is small—four miles by 32-miles, with a civilian population of around 65,000. There is not the opportunity to obtain coins such as there should be stateside.

Prior to 1899, and since Magellan discovered Guam in 1520, the island was owned by Spain. This means, of course, that our U.S. currency has been in use here for only 60 years—that is, since we took control of the island in 1899.

Before the U. S. took over, the barter system was still largely in effect since the people had everything they needed for a livelihood on this semi-tropical island—fruits and vegetables, pigs and goats, buffalos, chickens, and caribou as beasts of burden.

Today it is interesting to note the blending of the old and new on Guam. One can still see some of the older people trudging along the road barefoot, the women dressed in the old native costumes, which is called a "tetno."

The tetno consists of a kind of wrap-around skirt called a lupis and a mistiza style blouse with large puffs on the sleeves at the shoulder, called a chinina. Those who could, obtained gold coins and had a clasp welded to them for pinning purposes. They were quite proud of wearing them. Alas, the poor gold pieces!

Because of the influx of U. S. military and civilian personnel, and because of planned construction and modernization of Guam, a complete change has been effected in the old way of life. Much of the old has changed. The schools are quite modern and the University of Guam offers a complete four-year college course.

However, it's still much harder to obtain coins here than in the states.

There are still many old coins to be obtained here and in many different ways. One old resident, I am told, has many old trade dollars and other coins he obtained from sailors on whaling ships that stopped here many years ago, but he prefers to keep them. Another resident has a jar full of Indian cents. Just to see them is enough to make a fellow drool, and how my fingers itch—but she won't even take the lid off the jar! Doesn't trust me, I guess.

Coins of collecting value do turn up from time to time, however. Recently a friend of mine was given a beautiful 1866 half-dollar in change, and in extra fine condition. And on the next day, he found an equally fine 1866 nickel in a coffee shop. I've had no luck as yet in obtaining that one, but I still have hopes.

It is my belief that there are many coins from the 19th and early 20th centuries here that were perhaps hidden during the Japanese invasion and that they will eventually be found and find their way back into circulation. Hope I am lucky enough to intercept some of them.

I have much pleasure in causing folks to become interested in collecting coins and to get them off to a good start, with the many old coins that I have in duplicate.

Good coins can turn up in the least expected places. For example, a friend of mine who finally became interested in collecting coins also interested his daughter and son. Daughter Mary, an alert youngster of 11, really listened one day when I explained what coins to look for and how, because a few weeks later she excitedly called me on the phone and told me she had been to the golf club with her dad, and said she found a 1913-S Buffalo nickel.

I said it would be nice if it were a Type II, and imagine my surprise when she said it was! I really felt good knowing that one of my proteges had found a good coin. Incidentally, the nickel was in excellent condition.

Coin-O-Rama To Be Held At Antique Show

A Coin-O-Rama will be a featured attraction at the 18th annual Antique Show to be held at Madison Square Garden, New York, N.Y., on February 28, and March 2-3, it was announced by Philip Rosenbaum, Coin-O-Rama chairman.

Bourse table applications will be accepted by invitation only. Rosenbaum advised. He said it is imperative that reservations be made early by those who wish to participate.

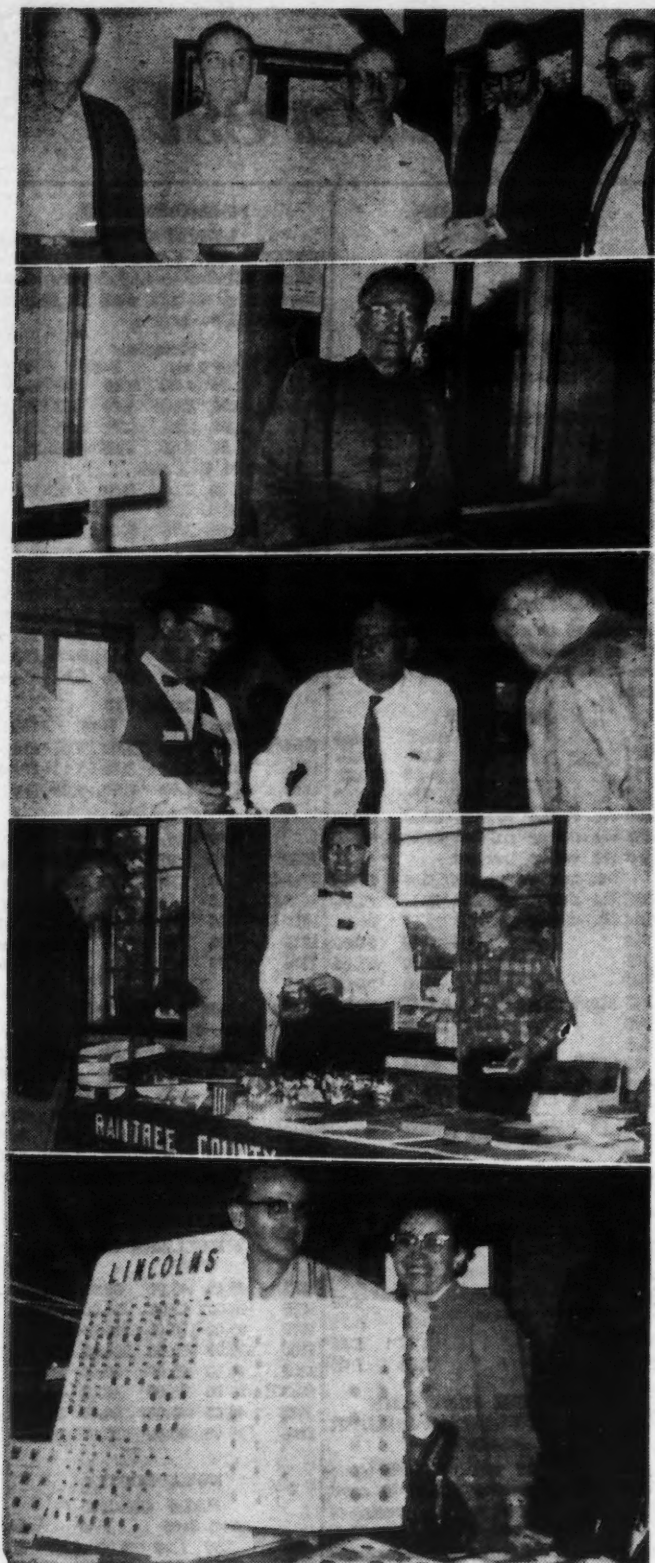

The Coin-O-Rama will be held in a special session closely adjacent to the main entrance with a limitation of 50 to 75 dealers.

There will be exhibits of rare items, whole collections by well known exhibitors, odd and curious money and educational exhibits. Members of club and club groups will be urged to enter the competition, which is a project to create interest in clubs, groups and individuals making displays. Awards will be given to the top exhibitors.

The Coin-O-Rama, Rosenbaum said, will be the largest held in New York City, with a daily turnover of an anticipated 10,000 in attendance.

Ohioans Hold Auction

An auction highlighted the November meeting of the Orrville, Ohio, Coin Club. The meeting was held in the basement of the Ohio Central Telephone Building.

Indiana Club Holds Show

Over 300 persons attended Knightstown, Ind., Coin Club's first annual coin show and bourse held recently at the Shelter House in Sun Set Park, Knightstown, reports Gil Lee, club officer.

Highlights of the show included prize exhibits displayed by Fred Claffey of Indianapolis and Myron Huffman of Fort Wayne, Ind.

Another feature was a "round-up" and introduction of five coin club presidents from five cities who attended the show.

The five presidents were: Albert Johnson, Knightstown club; Harlan Prater, New Castle, Ind., Coin Club; Robert Miller, Rushville, Ind., Coin Club; Claude Ray, Winter Haven, Fla., Coin Club; Hank Spangenberg, Dayton, Ohio, Coin Club.

Knightstown club members were especially appreciative of the assistance given them for their show preparations by the Knightstown Police Department and by the Connersville Post of the Indiana State Police.

Howard Humitsch Chairman

Howard Humitsch, chairman of the Council of Greater Cleveland Coin Clubs, was re-elected president of the Cleveland, Ohio, Coin Club at the group's recent meeting.

Lew Raymond was elected vice president; Thelma Hiltbrunner, secretary; Joe Stein, treasurer.

At the conclusion of the elections, Lew Raymond spoke on "Tobacco Money." He related some of the early history of Virginia, whose wealth was determined by its tobacco crop, and then displayed twists of tobacco money, a coin of Virginia, and pictures of the era.

An auction was conducted at the conclusion of the meeting with Sidney Watkins serving as auctioneer.

Cleveland Coin Club meets the first Wednesday of each month at the Statler Hilton Hotel, in downtown Cleveland, beginning at 8 p.m. New membership applications and guests are welcome.

Coin World Standardizes Numismatic Abbreviations

Standard abbreviations for use in Coin World advertising and news stories have been prepared by the staff members in order to help both the advertiser and reader to understand what is meant by the abbreviations, it was stated today by D. Wayne Johnson, editor.

The following abbreviations will be used in future editions in order to clarify the growing practice of many advertisers to make their own definitions of abbreviations and then feel quite disturbed because the readers do not understand what they are saying.

"It was difficult for the staff members of Coin World's advertising department to know the advertiser's meaning so the following abbreviations have been adopted as standard for Coin World. It is always wisest to avoid abbreviations if possible," said Johnson.

A, Abt.—About, Almost: as AG—About Good
AF—About Fine
AU—About or Almost Uncirculated (AVG for About Very Good is not acceptable, as too confusing with Ave. for Average—use G-VG instead)
B, Br.—Brilliant, meaning full original Mint lustre, may have bag scratches; compares to at least MS60 on Sheldon scale.
BU—Brilliant Uncirculated
Fr.—Fair
F—Fine
G, Gd.—Good
EF, XF—Extremely Fine
MS—Mint State, exactly as coin left the Mint, except that color changes due to time but not handling are acceptable.
PR—Poor
U, Unc.—Uncirculated, never been handled by a non-collector after leaving the bank
V—Very, used only with Good or Fine, as VG, VF—Very Good, Very Fine
XF—Extremely Fine
VG, VF—Very Good, Very Fine

OTHER ACCEPTABLE ABBREVIATIONS ARE:

Ave.—Average (do not use Avg.)
AU—Unc.—Means that several coins in a group or roll will vary, some being AU, some being uncirculated. It cannot apply to a single coin alone, since a single coin must be one or the other and cannot be both at the same time.
B or J—Acceptable for Buffalo or Jefferson in showing which 1938-D nickel is meant.
D, S, O, CC, P—When attached to a date by hyphen (-) as 1938-D, are Mint marks, standing for Denver, San Francisco, New Orleans, Carson City, and Philadelphia. D for Dahnolona and C for Charlotte are found only on gold coins.

P—Acceptable for Philadelphia mint for clarity, even when no Mint mark is present on the coin.
Pl.—Plain, as 1942 Pl. nickel to contrast with 1942-P nickel of 1942, same as 1942 Var. 1 and Var. 2.
H, C—Mint marks for Canadian and Newfoundland coins
F. E.—Flying Eagle cents
I. H.—Indian Head cents
Lg.—Large
LL—Large Letters
LD—Large Date
Sm.—Small Dt.—Date
SS—Small Stars
LS—Liberty Standing (Quarter only)
LW—Liberty Walking (Half dollar only, Not Standing)
SL—Acceptable for Small Letters where applicable
Imp.—Impaired as Impaired Proof, a damaged or poorly handled proof coin, possibly one that accidentally got into circulation (they do, sometimes).
Stg.—Standing
Std.—Seated, for early silver coins
NC—No Cents (1883 Liberty Head or "V" nickels)
NR—No Rays (1867 nickels)
WR—With Rays (same)
NM—Not Minted, No Motto (where applicable)
T-1, 2—Type 1 or Type 2, same as Var. 1 or 2
Var. 1, 2—Variety 1 or Variety 2, used where two major listed varieties or types exist for same year.
Pr. Surf.—Proof Surface, describes some coins of certain series, mainly silver dollars, where only the field is polished.
Wtd.—Wanted
POR—Price on Request, used for higher priced coins where dealer does not wish to publish a price.
CN—Copper nickel, one type of 1864 I. H. cent.

MISCELLANEOUS

- (hyphen) means "to", as F-EF (Fine to Ex. Fine) or between Fine and Ex. Fine or varying from F to EF; or 1942-1946 meaning a consecutive series of dates from 1942 through 1946.
Note: Use (-) between date and Mint mark as 1942-D, but for no other letter except 1864-L. I. H. cent., (comma) means "and", as 1942, 1946, or just those two dates.
/ (diagonal or "slash") means "over" as 1942/1 in overdates, or obverse reverse as F/G meaning Fine obverse and Good reverse (to avoid confusion, should be used only when obverse grade is better than reverse and two or more "condition" apart, except in rare instances)
Proof—Refers to manner of minting and not to condition, but any proof coin is assumed to be in brilliant "Mint state" unless otherwise described; the same applies to uncirculated coins which are assumed to have full original Mint lustre (i. e., to be in Mint state) unless otherwise described, as, Unc. Dull, Unc. red, dull proof, etc.
Gem—Perfect, without bag marks, Mint scratches, etc., an MS70 coin.

Collectors' Clearinghouse Lincoln Item Apparently Struck On Original Dies

Frank W. Stone, Lawrenceville, Ill., sends in a rubbing of an odd token or medal, and would like identification. It has Hon. Abraham Lincoln on obverse with beardless bust and date of 1860. Reverse, the RAIL SPLITTER OF THE WEST, with log chopping scene.

ANSWER: This is listed in DeWitt's "A Century of Campaign Buttons—1789-1889" as AL 1860-41. It is a contemporary campaign medal or token, and was made in a half dozen different metals, and with both plain or reeded edge. There is considerable literature solely on the subject of Lincoln numismatic items, and it may be mentioned in any or all of it.

According to DeWitt, this one was a token, struck at Waterbury, Conn., from dies cut by Ellis. He also says that both obverse and reverse dies have been "muled" with various others, mostly in later years. Yours apparently is one of the originals.

John H. Robinson, Conshohocken, Pa., sends in two 1961 Lincoln cents with an obvious difference in thickness of the digits in the date, and would like to know if these are different types or re-engraved or what else.

ANSWER: You might call these thick and thin dates, but they are not necessarily from recut or different dies. A slight variation in pressure or a difference caused by die wear will make a difference in thickness of the lettering or digits.

Coins struck from new dies, adjusted exactly, and with exactly correct pressure, will have thinner lettering and figures than they would if one or more of those conditions were changed.

You will note that the letters "TY" of Liberty have slight metal deficiencies of their tops on the coin with the thinner date, which would be consistent; that is, the coin with the thinner date received less metal in the striking. All that is logical, but does not deny the possibility of a different die. It would take more of an expert than we have here to make a positive statement either way; we just believe it is a difference in pressure.

L. E. Losey, Independence, Mo., would like some information about a 1933-P half dollar he has had for some years. He can find no trace of a removed Mint mark. Several years ago, he says, he wrote to a number of dealers about it, with no satisfactory results. "They seemed to think I was a crack-pot", he writes.

COMMENT: We are not surprised, but don't hold it against them too much. Several years ago there was nothing like the interest in variations, oddities and the like that there is now, and very few people took such things seriously.

Three logical possibilities come to mind about the absence of "S" on the half dollar: filled die, skilful tampering, or counterfeit along the same line as the 1915 Walking Liberty Half which is presumed to be counterfeit as a man once admitted making such. Filled die is our best guess. Yours is the first report, and possibly more may come in as a result of this one. We will print them if they do.

Richard G. Trowbridge, Spokane, Wash., comes up with a new die-defective cent. This one is a 1958-D with a curved line connecting the tail of the "9" with the center of the upright of the "D". He found about 50 in 10 rolls of uncirculated coins.

COMMENT: Mr. Trowbridge failed to mention that the sample he sent also has "blob" of metal extending to the right from the top of the "1" in the date, so we don't know if this is constant, also. Part of the connecting line mentioned is what might be called a "hairline", even though no hair was involved. There is also a planchet crack, not a die crack, from the "S" in Trust to the rim.

Jewett's 1958 D-4 is listed as r958 which could be this same thing, as far as the "1" is concerned. For the rest of it, we report it for the benefit of specialty collectors.

This might be a good place to list the material we have which has been published on this sort of thing, which could well be given Beistle's name, "Akcidetec", meaning the result of accidental die defects. Four such pamphlets are at hand, and we list them alphabetically by authors. Most can be obtained from dealers or from the authors whose addresses are listed, also.

Emil Di Bella, "Check List and Guide to Mint Errors and Die Imperfections of Lincoln Cents"; 1560 Grand Concourse, Bronx 57, N.Y.

Everett G. Jewett, "Mistakes and Oddities in the Lincoln Cent"; 2530 E. Thomas Ave., Fresno 1, Calif.

Michael Kolman Jr., "The Numismatic Lincoln Cent Errors"; 4263 Pearl Road, Cleveland 9, Ohio.

Jack E. Sams, "Primary Die Varieties of the 1960-D Lincoln cent"; address unknown to us.

Serious collectors of these "oddities" could well purchase all four, without much financial outlay. All are cheap.

While we are on the subject of this type of "error" or "Akcidetec", a letter from Mrs. V. R. Pena, Corpus Christi, Texas, is appropriate. She found an over-date dime, but also a good many different Lincoln cents with filled letters and digits, closed "6" in 1956, and the like. She would like to correspond with people interested in those things. Any letters addressed to her in care of this column will be forwarded.

Harold Allen, Deland, Fla., reports finding 1960-D with filled "9" and joined 96, and wants to know if others have been reported.

ANSWER: Jewett lists the filled "9", and Di Bella the joined 96.

With a slightly different angle, William Zimmerman, Loch Sheldrake, N.Y., sends along a picture of a 1942 dime with double date and double LIBER. He would like some comment.

COMMENT: Such effect as your picture shows is more likely to be brought about by recutting of the die than by double striking. There should be more evidence in a double strike, although such evidence could have been worn away. There does seem to be a suspicious line under Mercury's (properly speaking, Liberty's) chin.

It does appear that the underneath part of the "1" of the date is to the left, and that of the "4" is to the right, which could not happen in a double strike, but could easily happen in a recutting job. However, the photo itself may be at fault. Look the coin over carefully with a jeweler's microscope and let us know what you find that fits either solution.

Californians Begin Bureau To Furnish Speakers, Programs

The Numismatic Association of Southern California has initiated a Speakers and Programs Bureau for its affiliated Southern California coin clubs, according to an announcement by Charles M. Johnson, who is chairman of the Bureau.

All the speakers are outstanding numismatists, and are giving freely of their time and knowledge of their speciality, Johnson said, and they expect no remuneration for speaking engagements.

The speakers' list, and subjects of their talks included the following:

Sol Alexander, Long Beach, Calif., Mexican gold, Mexican revolutionary coinage, and Mexican coins in general; George M. Baude of Sepulveda, Calif., Confederate and Southern States currency, coins and currency of inflation, and coins and currency of World War II; Karl M. Brainard of Los Angeles, gold, highlights on coins with slides, and knowledge through numismatics; Alva Christensen of Temple City, history and types of collections, and other talks by arrangement.

C. A. Dunbar of Inglewood, commemorative coinage of the U. S. and grading questions; W. R. ## Dakota Club Has Birthday

The Upper Sioux Coin Club of Brookings, S. D., has just completed its first year as an organization, and by way of celebrating, held a "Ladies and Visitors Night" recently with approximately 31 persons attending, it was reported by Warren Williamson, vice president of the club.

A highlight of the evening was the showing of Ray Johnson's circulated and uncirculated cents on a sign stating "Welcome Wives and Visitors."

Two new members were accepted at the meeting, Williamson said, and plans were made for the club's first coin auction to be held November 17.

The Upper Sioux Coin Club meets on the third Thursday of each month.

errors-freaks and varieties; William E. Hogue of Whittier, counterfeit coins and paper money; William D. Koonce of North Hollywood, orders of chivalry, coins and tokens of Australia, coins and tokens of New Zealand, and film strips of ancient coins.

Wishart MacFarren of Los Angeles, comments on collecting, and Lincoln cents; Paul Newell of Reseda, coins from the beginning of time, and gold as monetary value and history; E. A. Nicholson of Sylmar, U.S. Commemoratives, do you know your money-counterfeiting, and general history of money; Joy Parrish of Lawndale, medals-Civil War history; John Parrish of Lawndale, U.S. collecting in general.

Peter B. Payne of San Bernardino, talks on various subjects by arrangement; V. G. Rich of Fullerton, Oriental including Chinese, and ancient Greek and Roman; Charles L. Ruby of Fullerton, early U.S. cents, and rare U.S. coins.

Ohio Club To Hold Exhibit

The annual exhibition of coins and stamps, sponsored by the Worthington Coin and Stamp Club, Worthington, Ohio, will be held on December 2 and 3, according to an announcement by Fred Beckman, president.

The Worthington group meets on the second and fourth Monday of the month in the community room of the Park Federal Savings and Loan Association, 777 High street, Worthington, at 8 p.m.

Interested persons are invited to attend meetings of the club.

The Official Augustus Saint-Gaudens COMMEMORATIVE MEDAL

OBVERSE: COLUMBUS

REVERSE: SAINT-GAUDENS

The first medal in the beautiful COIN MEDALS series. Other medals to follow, about three each year, will commemorate Victor Brenner, Charles Barber, George Morgan, and other famous makers familiar to all numismatists.

Illustrated above, the Saint-Gaudens medal shows on the obverse Saint-Gaudens' finest work in medallics, his Discovery of America. On the reverse, are shown his studio home in Cornish, New Hampshire, and his finest work in coins, the Roman Date Double Eagle. The coin is artistically presented as a setting sun over the house, symbolizing the decease of the great sculptor in the same year he designed the coin. This medal is issued with the approval of the Trustees of Saint-Gaudens Memorial.

COIN MEDALS, in the Saint-Gaudens medal, brings to the collector these firsts in medallics.

First, in honoring and commemorating famous coin designers. Thus, this series of medals will have lasting and growing interest among coin collectors.

First, with a new concept in designing. COIN MEDALS are designed by a numismatist with many years of experience in collecting and dealing in coins, and who feels he knows what other collectors desire in a medal. This medal shows what Saint-Gaudens did in coins and medallics, whereas the old way of designing would show only his bust.

First, with high relief on both the obverse and reverse. The ordinary medal is flat on the reverse. On a king-size medal such as the Saint-Gaudens, this "double-relief" requires the use of tremendous presses to bring out the relief on both sides.

All the sculpture and die-work on the Saint-Gaudens medal was done by Robert Stephan Schabel, and the beautiful work on this medal proves he is one of the few really top artists in medallics. Mr. Schabel is now working on the Victor Brenner medal.

The Metal Arts Company of Rochester, New York, is producing COIN MEDALS for us, and we recommend this firm to any individual or group desiring to issue anything from a token to the finest medal.

PRICES:

The Saint-Gaudens Bronze Medal, in box with descriptive folder, .....$5.50, or two for $10.00
Two medals afford a simultaneous view of the obverse and reverse, with appropriate holders to be offered later.
The Saint-Gaudens Silver Medal, in velvet lined case with descriptive folder .....$30.00

The Saint-Gaudens medal is issued in bronze and silver, and is of large 3 inch diameter, as all COIN MEDALS to follow. The bronze weighs about 7 ounces, and the silver, being of the same thickness, weighs about 8 ounces. The silver medals are serially numbered on the edge, with a total issue of not over 5000. All silver COIN MEDALS are limited to the same 5000 issue. Purchasers of the Saint-Gaudens are reserved the same serial number in the Brenner and other medals. So when the Saint-Gaudens is sold out, it will be difficult to obtain any of the other silver medals later.

Collectors who have already bought the Saint-Gaudens silver medal, may send payment of $30.00 anytime (or first $10 payment) for the Brenner medal, which will be ready in December. Please mention number of your Saint-Gaudens when you write. This early payment will give us more time to process orders.

You need send only $10.00 to reserve your silver medal, and pay the balance in two monthly payments, and medal will be shipped as soon as all paid. You will receive acknowledgement of the order and serial number of your medal. This payment plan applies to all future silver COIN MEDALS.

Euclid Coin Club Hears Address On Collecting

Bill Jacka, well known Bedford, Ohio, collector, addressed a recent meeting of the Euclid, Ohio, Coin Club. As the club is relatively new with 70 members, the speaker talked to the members on "What Shall I Collect."

Jacka is considered an expert on Civil War Tokens, 1856 Flying Eagle cents and Wood's coinage. He emphasized, "a collector should never be satisfied. He should keep looking and buy every book available."

He had books with him to emphasize his point. One book, 100 years old, gave listing and description of coins that are no longer listed in publications, and said that if he had stopped looking, he never would have found the existence of these rare coins.

The speaker had a type set of Liberian coins which he enhanced with some history of Liberia. The founding of Liberia was Robert Findley's idea for a free country for the freed slaves of the U.S. By 1832, 20,000 freed slaves had been sent to Africa. Their capital, Monrovia, was named for President Monroe. Edina, the second town, was named for Edinburgh, Scotland, which had donated approximately 1,000,000 acres to Liberia.

The irony of this newly made country was the fact that the freed slaves then took other Africans as their slaves. In 1936 these slaves were freed in Liberia only when forced to do so by the League of Nations. Reports have come back that there are still some slaves in Liberia today.

In order to spark an interest in the new collectors, Jacka displayed other coins and numismatic items. They were passed around the club.

Some of the Asiatic monies depict the tools or main happenings in their lives. Examples are knife money and bridge money, hat-shirt-and-pants money.

Some of his other display items were presentation sets of Great Britain, which are like our U.S. proof sets, coins from East Africa, a Queen Victoria medal designed by Petruccio, a 1915 4 ducat of Austria, one ducat from Bavaria, silver centered British pattern coins of Victoria, two miniatures of Travancore, India, a gold fanum and a silver chuckram, and a Swiss type set.

An election of officers for the Euclid Coin Club was scheduled for the November 16 meeting, it was reported.

Company Club Names Sperry

Another in the growing list of "Company Clubs" has been announced, with the formation of the Sperry Numismatic Association of the Sperry Gyroscope Company, Great Neck, N. Y., which will hold its next meeting on Monday, November 27.

Organizer and temporary chairman is Auburn J. Smith, Brooklyn, N. Y., who addressed the first session on the purposes of a coin club, and presented a suggested constitution and set of by-laws.

Regular and associate memberships are open to all employees of the Sperry Gyroscope plant at Great Neck. Smith invites correspondence from other "Company clubs" in that general area, which should be addressed to him at "Location L-39, Sperry Gyroscope Co., Great Neck, L. I., N.Y."

Iceland Coins Reflect Temper Of Its People

Coins for Iceland were first struck in 1922. Before that time, the currency of Denmark was legal tender.

For many years Iceland was a sovereign state united with Denmark under a common Danish king, but in 1944 even those ties were broken when a plebiscite was held and the Icelanders voted to become a republic by a 98 per cent majority.

During her coinage history, which now extends for a period of 39 years, a total of 70 coins have been struck the last being the 500 kronur gold piece of 1961, with 10,000 being minted.

All Icelandic coins are struck at the Royal Mint in London.

Her monetary unit is the eyrir with 100 aurar equalling one kronur. (Eyrir is the singular form of aurar.) Iceland's currency has been devalued four times during the past year, and currently the kronur is worth slightly more than two cents in American money.

No silver is used in the island republic's coins since they are all of relatively low denomination, except the gold piece. Highest denomination in circulation is the two kronur piece of 1958.

A variety of metals for coins have been used over the years, including bronze, zinc, copper-nickel, nickel-brass, and aluminum. Silver, however, has been utilized for official silver commemorative medals which were specially struck in Germany.

Most issues of Icelandic coins have been struck in fairly large quantities for so small a country.

Since 1940 a total of 31 coins have been struck in quantities of one million or more. High water mark was reached in 1946 when the one eyrir, five and 10 aurar of that year were minted in quantities of four million each.

Also, the one eyrir and 10 aurar of 1953 were struck in quantities of four million.

Iceland's coins are conservative, and yet artistic, in design and do much in reflecting the temper of the people.

Refuse Dump Dollar Made In Reykjavik, Iceland

The refuse dump dollar of Iceland ranks unquestionably as one of the most unusual coins to have been issued anywhere in 1961.

This coin carries a portrait of Peter H. Salomonsson, who was director of the great refuse dump in Reykjavik from 1942 to 1960. In the latter year officials in the Icelandic capital purchased an automatic refuse destructor and Salomonsson was pensioned off.

He was not poor by any means, however. During those 18 years, he collected hundreds of odd items such as spoons, knives, coins, and rings in all metals, including bronze, silver and gold.

Salomonsson returned many of the items when they were claimed and identified, but enough material remained so that the commemorative was struck dollar-sized in three metals, copper, sterling silver and 14-karat gold.

National Historical Gallery in Reykjavik has placed this set of three commemoratives on permanent display.

The copper and silver specimens are available to collectors through Vilhjalmur Vilhjalmsen at P.O. Box 1211, Reykjavik, Iceland. Prices are $2 for the copper and $6 for the sterling silver, and all orders will be sent out by regular airmail at no additional charge.

Periods Make Difference

"What a Difference a Few Periods Make," was the title of Joseph Baeyer's speech at the November meeting of the McKeesport, Pa., Coin Collectors Club, reports Margaret Kelly, secretary.

Baeyer explained the difference between the three types of the 1907 U. S. Eagle. Two of the types, have periods before and after the legends and are worth many hundreds of dollars each in fine condition.

On the other hand, the 1907 with no periods is listed at only $32.50 in the 1962 Redbook.

McKeesport club meets on the first Wednesday of each month in the recreation hall of the St. Nicholas Church.

Phoenix Club To Host Coinarama

The Phoenix, Ariz., Coin Club will hold its Coinarama at Ramada Inn, 3801 East Van Buren, Phoenix, on February 16, 17 and 18, according to an announcement by general chairman H. C. Schmal.

Additional information may be obtained by writing Schmal at Box 6110, Phoenix 5, Arizona.

Vilhjalmsen Supplies Icelandic Coins To U. S.

Vilhjalmur Vilhjalmsen of Reykjavik is one of Iceland's leading numismatists and coin dealers. Vilhjalmsen is well known to Coin World readers for he has been a longtime advertiser of Icelandic and other coins.

His name may be difficult to pronounce, but in English it means William Williamson.

Vilhjalmsen was one of the chief distributors for the 500 kronur Jon Sigurdsson gold piece which was issued earlier this year. This was the first gold coin struck for Iceland.

Vilhjalmsen is also a wholesale merchant and manufacturer's representative, operating the Amsterdam Import & Export Co. in the Icelandic capital.

He makes his home on the outskirts of Reykjavik with his wife and two children, a daughter and a son. From his home on the seashore, he says that he can look out over the North Atlantic Ocean for a distance of nearly 40 miles and see the U.S. base at Keflavik.

Iceland has a total population of 154,000 with nearly half the people, or 70,000, living in Reykjavik. In area, the country is approximately the same size as the state of Ohio.

"American collectors have shown a great deal of interest in the coinage of Iceland," commented Vilhjalmsen.

Vilhjalmur Vilhjalmsen
Reykjavik, Iceland

mented Vilhjalmsen. "The coinage is so relatively new that it isn't too difficult to complete the country, and this cannot be said for the large majority of coin-issuing countries," he added.

Vilhjalmsen also pointed out that Iceland's peculiar geographical position has made it possible for the country to have a strong kinship with the United States as well as with the countries of Europe.

Club Stages Ninth Show, Termed Best Ever Held

The East Bay Coin Club, Oakland, Calif., staged its ninth annual Coinival recently at Lakeside Park Garden Center, and according to a report from R. J. Frost, general chairman, it was "the biggest and best Coinival in the series."

A bright, clear Sunday beckoned attendance from all over California, and 32 bourse dealers had their wares on sale until the show closed.

Exhibits this year were made by 10 exhibitors who had 14 exhibits in 39 cases. Robert East was exhibit chairman, and awards were presented by a committee consisting of A. W. Ritchie, L. G. Lodge and Michael Carr.

George R. Squires took care of the member's auction and also the donation auction lots that were gathered by club president Edward S. Lane. Don D. Crossman assisted the general chairman.

Elsie J. East supervised the registration desk and was kept busy signing in the steady stream of visitors. Refreshments were handled by Charles R. Bigelow, assisted by Grace Moorman and Alice Hensley.

The coin bourse was lined up by Sidney T. Gilligan, and all publicity for the event was handled by F. J. Monteagle and Roy Hill.

Participants in the exhibition included the following: United States—Caroline Campanella, U. S. Gold, first; Charles Dias, Mint Errors, second; Rudy Gjurovich, U. S. Coins, third; and R. J. Frost, Coins of the West.

Foreign John D. Sears, 16th anniversary of United Nations, first; Edward S. Lane, The Shooting Taler, second; Sidney J. Haas, Coins of England, third; Roy Hill, Ancient, and Rudy Gjurovich, Foreign Coin Sets.

General Rudy Gjurovich, Paper Money, first; Charles R. Bigelow, U. S. Foreign Money, second; Roy Hill, Mint History, third; and R. J. Frost, Wooden Nickels.

Junior Division Peter Libby, U. S. Coins, first.

The Best in Show award went to Caroline Campanella for her exhibit, which was an original and interesting presentation.

Coins Are Living History Says Ertl, Wisconsin Numismatist

A gift of an 1858 Flying Eagle cent from his father was the spark that Andrew P. Ertl needed to launch him into the world of numismatics, and since that initial spark Ertl's collection has grown to have coins from nearly everywhere and from any period of time since the 18th century.

Coin represent "living history" and that is the title he has given to his exhibition for the staff and patients of St. Agnes Hospital, Fond du Lac, Wis., where he is a technician.

Ertl is president of the Fond du Lac Coin Club, which has been organized since March, 1960, and which now has a membership of approximately 75 collectors.

Ertl's exhibition at the hospital was suggested by Sister M. Christopher, C.S.A., of the geriatrics division, to promote interest in hobbies as a form of rehabilitation. Sister Christopher feels that elderly persons in particular need to develop new forms of relaxation and collecting-type hobbies are particularly desirable. Hobbies as a form of rehabilitation also are being promoted by other hospitals throughout the country.

The Coin club is trying to promote interest by younger persons. The teen-age group in particular could find much to be gained in a hobby such as numismatics. The club has monthly auctions where members auction off duplicate coins among themselves and prospective new members.

His sentimental favorite is the Flying Eagle cent, which is not only his first, but is rated very highly by fellow collectors. Ertl has a collection of bills and bank notes ranging from military currency issued to U.S. forces overseas to notes issued by the McCarty State Bank of Green Bay, Wis. He also has a large collection of books on the subject of numismatics.

The hospital display included coins from Vietnam, Latvia, Russia, and South America. A special section of the exhibit depicts the history of the United States during the 19th century.

So, if Andrew P. Ertl should tell you he is a numismatist, he would not be merely "coining a phrase," for numismatics is his hobby, and he firmly believes in the theme of his exhibit, that coins represent "living history."

Andrew P. Ertl, president of the Fond du Lac, Wis., Coin Club, and technician at St. Agnes Hospital in that city, points out the coin that is responsible for his becoming a coin collector. The coin is an 1858 Flying Eagle cent, part of his display of American coins recently on display at the hospital as a part of the geriatrics rehabilitation program.

Swedish Report

Swedish Coin Worth More

By Axel Miltander
Bevaringsgatan 11
Gothenburg N Sweden

I will start today, cutting a part from a letter I have got.
Please, will you send me the Swedish coins Yeoman 52-54 in uncirculated condition! I am willing to pay full catalog!

Answer: I am willing to pay you four or five times the Yeoman prices if you can locate them in USA and send them to me.
Yeoman is a good catalog but in many ways very bad. It makes misunderstandings because the prices don't follow the actual prices. The three coins mentioned above are extremely hard to find in uncirculated condition—but listed only at 65 cents. In Sweden they cost 4 dollars if you can obtain them at all.

Another question Can proof sets be bought at the Stockholm mint?

Answer No. Proof sets are not made in Sweden nowadays. You have to buy coins in BU directly from the banks or from the dealers. The new coins are sold during the first months every year. The coins of 1961 will be sold first in 1962 and so on. It depends upon the fact that not all denominations are struck at the same time.

Question: Is the denomination 5 crowns in silver still struck in Sweden?

No. The last one was the 5 crowns commemorative 1959. I do not think that any more regular coins in this denomination will be minted as they are very impractical to wear in the pockets (same size as silver-dollar).

Question: Are coronation medals struck in Sweden nowadays?

No. The reason is that we do not have any coronations any more. The royalties don't like them. Very interesting pieces from coronation in earlier days are the "kastpengar"—a special coin minted to be casted to the people when the royal wagon drove on the streets and the new king was presented to the people. In order to keep the people from the horses, the coins were casted on both sides of the route to make the way clear.

Question: Are Danish and Norwegian coins in circulation in Sweden?

Not as a common rule. They can be found in circulation close to the borders but coins from Denmark and Norway are not accepted by banks here as they have a value about 30 per cent less.

Question: I have seen an advertisement in Coin World. A firm is offering rolls of 40 of Swedish coins from 1959. A roll of one ore-coin costs 2 dollars. Isn't it too much?

I do not know all details behind that business. A price depends much upon the costs you have had. If a firm imports coins from Sweden, it has to pay handling fees, postage rates, insurance, licenses etc. So if you buy your own roll from the mint I think it will cost you 2 dollars too.

Panel Program Planned

Feature of the November meeting of the Evansville, Ind., Coin Club is scheduled to be a panel of experts who are to answer questions of numismatic interest, many of which will be sent in before the meeting, according to a report from secretary Bettye J. Klauss.

The session is set for Sunday, November 26, to be held at the Evansville Museum of Arts and Sciences, starting at 2 p.m.

Questions for the three-man panel which require research for the answers, should be sent in ahead of time to Sterling Harrison, and any others may be, the secretary said. Arthur Romerhaus will head the panel.

The program for the last meeting underwent a slight alteration, when club president C. F. Leich narrated A.N.A. slides on "Fractional Currency". Slated to do the talking was Sterling Harrison, but on the way to the session he had an auto accident, fracturing a rib, and went to the hospital instead.

In addition to the slides, Bill Pukall displayed and explained his prize winning Hawaiian exhibit which took second at the Indiana State convention. President Leich appointed John Schroeder as a one-man committee to choose the winner of the annual "Numismatist of the Year" award, who will be announced in December.

Interested collectors are invited to attend the November meeting of the Evansville club, Secretary Klauss reported.

GIVE VISUAL GRADERS THIS CHRISTMAS!

The Visual Grader was placed on the market a year ago and more than 140,000 have been sold. One set was returned from the first 100,000 graders sold. With this record of satisfied customers, I placed a double your money back guarantee on the set. More than 40,000 have been sold under this guarantee without a set returned! This is proof that honesty among coin collectors is exceeded by no other group. This might also be considered a strong indication they were satisfied with the graders.

This satisfaction is not difficult to understand if you know the facts about the grader. It is not my grade you are paying to see but an exact photographic reproduction of accurately graded coins which were purchased from dealers with combined experience of more than 300 years in grading. This set would cost about $1,000 to produce individually but you pay only a fraction of this.

Get them from your dealer or order directly from the factory.

ANNOUNCING An Official Medal

Lost-Wax Cast in Sterling Silver

GETTYSBURG, the greatest battle of the Civil War, fittingly commemorated by a high water mark in American medal making, the issue of a sterling silver medal cast by the lost-wax process. For those who appreciate a medal as a work of art, this will be a treasured and increasingly valued possession.

A LIMITED EDITION of 3500 serially numbered sterling silver medals will be cast. Each medal is 2-7/16 inches in diameter and has a thickness of 1/4 inch. This issue is officially sponsored by the Gettysburg Numismatic Society, A.N.A. No. 32281.

LOST-WAX CASTING was the method used for producing many of the finest Renaissance medals and is the time-honored technique for transferring sculpture from the model to bronze or precious metals. In this process, each medal requires individual attention through the many steps from modeling the wax to hand-finishing the silver.

A DESCRIPTIVE BROCHURE accompanies each medal.

PLATINUM (pure) medals will be available, serially numbered to 25, $1,500.00 subject to prior sale.
SILVER (sterling) medals, available now, serially numbered to 3500. Delivery will be made in the order in which received ..... $35.00

A SPECIAL MESSAGE REGARDING THE GETTYSBURG MEDAL

It was my privilege to examine one of the first casts of this fine new medallion and I can only say that it belongs in the cabinet of every serious medal collector. If you are interested only in speculation, we respectfully suggest that you look elsewhere. If you want an addition to your collection that will hold a proud place in any cabinet, this medal is a must for you!

These medals are cast individually and orders will be filled in strict sequence of receipt, so order today for early delivery.

ROY C. SMALL, President

THE WEEKLY NEWSPAPER  THE ENTIRE NUMISMATIC FIELD

World's Largest Weekly Hobby Newspaper

Provides Beginning Collectors With Fundamentals

76,164 NET PAID
SUBSCRIBERS

Buy And Read All The News Of Numismatics Every Week!

Dedicated to the idea that a well informed collector will become an avid numismatist, Coin World is deliberately working to the advancement of all possible forms of study about coins—ancient and modern as well as singles and combinations. This can only be done in one way—a weekly numismatic newspaper.

Because experienced newspaper people created Coin World to serve the news-starved collectors, readers of this newspaper have found more numismatic features, more pictures of specially interesting coins . . . and varieties of coins, plus excellently prepared editions on topics or areas of great interest for all grades of collectors as well as all phases such as paper money, tokens, medals and supplies.

Disregarding warnings that coin collecting is a hobby enjoyed only by the very wealthy and that "there isn't room for another numismatic publication, particularly a weekly newspaper," Coin World made its first official appearance just 84 weeks ago and today is the world's largest weekly hobby newspaper.

ANOTHER FAMOUS COIN WORLD FIRST!

Paper Money Edition, Dec. 8th

With a special association to further their interests, the collectors of paper money and currencies will join in a real interesting edition done in the usual excellent Coin World style.

The fact that people collect coins and people always make news, numismatic news of all kinds, has always been in the forefront of the planning for Coin World, particularly since it has been published by a dedicated staff composed of experienced newspaper people. This staff works daily to bring all of the specialized as well as generalized information of the latest happenings in the world of coins to thousands upon thousands of news-hungry collectors.

These collectors have been investing their cash in 52 and 104 week subscriptions (even advertisers are paid subscribers) and they are so satisfied that they tell their friends about Coin World. In turn, these friends are subscribing . . . thus adding more well informed people to our hobby. We will continue to bring more informative editions to a constantly increasing number of subscribers who know they can and do read all of the numismatic news first in Coin World every week!

REMEMBER! Coin World is a numismatic newspaper first and an advertising medium second! Coin World was the first to bring the newspaper treatment to numismatics and the first weekly to get the Second Class mailing permit which the Post Office only extends to newspapers. Yes . . . and you get 52 big fat weekly issues for a total of $4.00 . . . less than 8c per copy (just exactly 7.69c per issue if you want the exact figure) and you get an average of over 66 full-size tabloid newspaper pages every week! Of this, over one-fourth is always news and features — reading matter, and many, many fine pictures, not just advertising!

California Exonumists Take Stand On Medals

Members of the Southern California Exonumist Society went on record as opposing the striking of modern medals in greater quantities than the manufacturer originally advertises at their fifth quarterly meeting, held November 4 at the Miramar Hotel on the ocean in Santa Monica, Calif.

Paul Hamm, of San Diego, was re-named president of the society with election of 1962 officers principal item of business of the society. It met in conjunction with the California State Numismatic Society's convention.

To serve with Hamm will be Ralph A. (Curley) Mitchell, of Fullerton; Russell Rulau, San Diego, secretary; Virginia Culver, Los Altos, treasurer, and Walter J. Pettit, Lawndale, board member.

Hamm appointed Ethel R. Stone of Temple City as society librarian. Hamm also appointed the following standing committees, whose function will be to engage in and coordinate research and articles in their respective spheres. He stated that by appointing such committees for research the society would eventually take its place as one of the most respected numismatic organizations in the West:

Committee on tokens: Peter J. Fuhrman Jr., chairman, San Diego; Scott J. Clem, San Diego; Loyal E. Howard, Long Beach.

Committee on medals: Joy Parrish, chairman, Lawndale; Frank Strauss, Monrovia; Clay Read, Sun Valley.

Committee on obsolete paper money: Aage F. Andersen, chairman, Lemon Grove; Prof. Charles V. Kappen, San Jose; Ralph A. Mitchell, Fullerton.

Reports on the Atlanta, Ga. meeting of the Tokens and Medals Society (T.A.M.S.) were given by Paul Hamm and by Harry M. Lessin of Norwalk, Conn. The future relations of S.C.E.S. and its parent body, T.A.M.S., were discussed.

The recent re-striking of one such medal for purely commercial reasons led President Hamm to introduce the resolution opposing striking of medals beyond original advertisement.

Dr. Calvert L. Emmons of Ontario reported on the arrangements for the first anniversary meeting of the group, tentatively scheduled for the Mission Inn in Riverside, Calif. on February 3 and 4. The society reaches its first anniversary December 4 with 100 members. The meeting, of convention type, will feature all-exonumist bourse and auction, which has proven so successful in the past. Doctor Emmons and Daniel Harley of Pomona will be co-hosts.

Of special interest to S.C.E.S. members at the C.S.N.A. convention were the honors paid to two of its members by the Cal State organization Virginia Culver was awarded the silver best-in-show medal for her display, entitled "Exonumia". It was a composite of all the various fields of interest to Exonumists, such as medals, tokens, broken bank notes, game counters, politicals, sutler checks, et cetera.

Also honored was Russell Rulau, who was appointed assistant editor of Cal Coin News, official organ of C.S.N.A. Rulau also holds the position of assistant editor of the T.A.M.S. Quarterly and is a frequent contributor to Coin World and other numismatic publications.

A special guest at the meeting, H. C. Schmal of Phoenix, Ariz., attended as the representative of a group of Arizona collectors who are about to form the Arizona Exonumist Society. Schmal conveyed the greetings of the Arizona group to their California counterparts. He was accompanied by Dottie Donn, president of the Phoenix Coin Club.

Admitted to membership at the meeting were John C. Yribarne of Redlands, Harry M. Lessin of South Norwalk, Conn., H. C. Schmal of Phoenix, Ariz.

Secretary Rulau announced today that distribution of the Tokens and Medals Society 1961 silver medal was under way now, and that the bronze medals would be distributed very shortly with the third edition of the T.A.M.S. Quarterly. The silver medals were sold at $3 each and the bronze medals were given free to T.A.M.S. national membership. None will be available for non-members of T.A.M.S. as it was a very limited striking and intended to commemorate the first annual meeting of T.A.M.S. held at Atlanta, in August in conjunction with the American Numismatic Association convention there.

Although charter membership closed April 30, the Southern California Exonumist Society is still accepting membership applications for 1962. Those interested may write Mrs. Virginia Culver, 23361 Montclair Way, Los Altos, Calif., for further information. Annual dues are $2. There is no initiation fee.

Tokens Represent America Overseas

By Russell Rulau

(All rights reserved.)

Within the past two years, the tokens of two former United States possessions, Alaska and Hawaii, now both states of the union, have caused quite a furor. Tokens which had long been considered numismatic curiosities suddenly became highly-priced, eagerly-sought after "prestige" items. That which has once been scorned had overnight become desired.

There are other U.S. possessions, of course, which have tokens of their own. So let us, right here, begin a campaign to popularize those of another little-known bit of overseas America, the beautiful isle of St. Thomas in the American Virgin Islands.

Until 1917, when they were purchased from Denmark, the islands of St. Croix, St. John, St. Thomas and about 50 small islets were known as the Danish West Indies (DANSK VEST-INDIEN). A special Danish colonial currency was in use there.

The Danish West Indian currency was not based on the standard Danish krone, but rather on the indigenous "dollar mex" which had succeeded the old pillar and Carolus dollars. The Virgin Islanders, many of whom had ancestral or commercial ties with the French-speaking natives of Haiti, Guadeloupe, Martinique, French Guiana etc., also were familiar with the franc.

Thus, their currency became based on a dual monetary system, the monetary units of which were both Danish adaptations of the Mexican dollar and the French colonial franc. It was set up on a basis of equivalency like this: 100 cents equalled 1 daler; 100 bits equalled 1 franc; 5 francs equalled 1 daler.

The daler-cent currency was the standard, but the regular Danish issues for the islands of 1904-13 showed the denomination in both systems.

A number of commercial houses on St. Thomas, the most important island (it contains the fine seaport of Charlotte Amalie) used token currency during the period 1884-1903, during which years the Danish administration failed to provide small change of any kind.

The Danish issues of 1904-05 eased this situation and retired most of the private tokens, but for some 20 years the tokens enjoyed their heyday. Based on the Mexican dollar, these tokens circulated alongside Danish ore, United States cents, French centimes, Jamaican pennies and many other coins, as well as the pre-1884 DWI cents.

A number of the token issues of this interesting period were listed by J. W. Scott in his series of "Copper Coin Catalogs", but have been largely ignored since. For the benefit of present day collectors, a representative selection of the token issues follows. All these tokens are scarce; many are very rare.

A table of the token issues of St. Thomas:

Beretta, Ga., three and five-cent, nickel; Burnet, A., five-cent, nickel; Daniel, C. A. and Co., one and five-cent, nickel; Delinois, Louis, five-cent, brass; Delvalle and Co., one, three and five-cent, nickel. (Wright No. 1390 describes Delvalle & Co., VC MEXIC ST THOMAS; Rev.: Same. VC MEXIC means 5 cents Mexican.)

Ferrarina, G., one-cent, copper, five-cent, nickel; Fonseca, D. G., one-cent, brass; Fratelle Copello Et Cia, one-cent, copper; French, O and Co., five-cent, nickel.

Levita, G., one-cent, copper; five-cent, nickel; Muller, J. & Co., one-cent, copper and brass; Pearson, Thos. (steam-ship), one-cent, brass; Peirano, G. Et Co., five-cent, nickel.

Russell Brothers, 1888, three, five and 10-cent, nickel; Russell Brothers, 1889, three and five-cent, nickel; Russell Brothers, 1890, two-cent nickel, Octag.; three and five-cent, nickel.

Senior, R. Et Co., one-cent, copper; five-cent, nickel; Senior, R. D., one-cent, copper; five-cent, nickel; Simmonds, C. & Cia., store card without denomination shown; Souffront, J. H., one-cent, brass; Toussant, H., one-cent, copper; Great West Indian Coal Co., 1920, brass card.

Several silver tokens have been reported but cannot be confirmed by the writer at this time.

Unusual Franklin Token Foolery

By George J. Fuld

The illustration here of an early Franklin token die, probably cut by Bale of New York about, 1835 was struck on a 1799 U. S. silver dollar.

Thus, from a cursory examination, one might think that this would be an exceptionally rare token of great value. Unfortunately, such is not the case, as in all probability the piece was struck about 1930 and not 1830.

This die of Franklin, although possibly cut in the 1830's, first made its appearance on several rare mulings of Civil War tokens, probably struck late in 1864 or 1865, made especially for collectors.

It was again used on a mulings of the Whitney Glass Works, of Glassboro, N. J. on a token made in 1869, again being made especially for collectors.

The die disappeared and eventually came into possession of the late Stephen Nagy of Philadelphia—an old-time coin dealer who recently passed away in his 80's.

Sometime between 1900 and probably 1940, Nagy made obverse strikings of this Franklin die on various U. S. coins, mostly large cents. The above piece, on a silver dollar is the only one we have seen struck on other denomination coins, although undoubtedly others exist.

New Coin Shop To Open Soon

A new coin shop is scheduled to open at 2002 North Sheridan road, Lawton, Okla., on Dec. 17, according to an announcement by Jackie McClung of Lawton.

McClung reports that as operator of the Magic Mile Pawn Shop at Lawton, he began dealing in coins as a hobby but after placing a few ads in Coin World, and being swamped with orders, he decided to give up the pawn shop and devote all of his time to coins and collectors.

He advises that the new shop will carry a full line of supplies for the numismatist, and that coin stock will consist mostly of U.S. material.

The new coin shop will be located in the new Wichita Life Insurance Building, McClung said.

King Of American Tokens Described In Definitions

By Russell Rulau

San Diego, Calif.

EMBOSSED BUSINESS CARDS! Also known as Embossed Store Cards, Shell Cards, Dollar Cards and Eagle Cards. Tokens of American origin made in imitation of silver dollars or gold double eagles.

The metallic core of the token is made of a thin brass shell which is then silvered on gilded and the design embossed upon it. After embossing, the hollow shell is filled with cardboard, with the merchant's advertising printed in the paper disc. Sometimes two brass shells are joined after filling with cardboard.

These advertising checks circulated from 1866 to 1870, when their use was suppressed because of the great similarity to legal coinage. They had a resurgence in 1876 during the Centennial Exposition of that year, but have seldom appeared since then.

These cards have come to be known as the "King of American Tokens" because of their beauty and scarcity. Almost all of them are now quite rare.

Pictured above is the card of D. C. Griswold & Co. of Boston muled with the card of Holmes, Booth and Hayden of Waterbury, Conn. This is number 264b in the article "Embossed or Shell Store

The 18th meeting of the Union County Coin Club was held recently at the Polish National Hall, 300 Roselle street, Linden, N.J., with 80 members and 20 guests in attendance to hear guest speaker George Wait of Glen Ridge, N. J., outline history, as seen by the paper money collector.

Among those attending the meeting were two renowned numismatists, Willard Blaisdell (half cent and large cent collector) and Herbert Oeschner, owner of the New Hampshire cent pictured in the Red Book.

Other highlights included the presentation of a silver medal to the vice president, Sam Rosenberg, and the monthly dark horse award.

Rosenberg was awarded the American Numismatic Association's 25-year service medal, and the dark horse awards were taken by Junior members, Martin Zivin of Plainfield, and Robert Dombrowski of Scotch Plains.

The next meeting of the group will be on November 28, and every fourth Tuesday of each month thereafter. All interested persons are invited to attend.

ANCIENT ROMAN COINS

ABOUT ANCIENT COINS-

I have been actively collecting and dealing in Ancient and Foreign coins for many years. When I was a History major in college, I became fascinated by ancient coins. Although I now have hundreds of ancient coins in my own collection, and thousands in my stock, this fascination has never lessened its hold on me. The coins of the Roman Empire are particularly interesting. They show on the obverse a portrait of one of the emperors, and on the reverse portray a scene of some deity or personification of a pagan religion, some triumph of the emperor, or even a building such as a Temple. Ancient coins have a much higher relief than modern coins, and in nice condition are strikingly beautiful. Though many relics of Antiquity, such as statues, are very expensive, most Ancient coins are surprisingly moderate in price. For only a few dollars it is possible to start a collection of Roman coins, and you can add to your collection at moderate cost as you learn about your coins. For those who desire select condition and style, even coins of this quality are available at from $5.00 to $50.00.

LET ME ASK YOU A QUESTION-

Once you have bought a 1909-SVDB cent and completed your series, don't you find that each time you look at it, it interests you less? Doesn't it, after all, look just like the cents in your change? Is it more interesting than a coin picturing Caesar? or Constantine? or Alexander the Great? or a coin struck by King Herod? or Pontius Pilate? Is it so rare because there only half a million around? Or, if you can't afford it (or if you aren't sure you really want it), do you get tired of looking at the empty space in your album? In fact, do you not sometimes get a little tired of the album? Now, I am not knocking a very legitimate part of the collecting field. I am not saying you should give up collecting Lincoln cents, or whatever you now collect. What I am saying is that you may wish to collect something else in addition.

MANY PEOPLE FIND ANCIENT COINS FASCINATING-

In Europe, where their civilization is built on top of the remains of the Ancient world, Ancient coins form a major part of the collecting activity. They do not as yet in this country, because collectors have found them too difficult to obtain. I am trying to help fill this need. For several years I have been issuing price lists of Ancient and Foreign coins, in which I list and describe many individual coins from my stock. I always have something for everyone, from the beginner to the most advanced collector. In addition, I send selections of coins on approval to my regular customers and I try to locate coins for collectors who need hard-to-get individual coins. I would be glad to send one of my lists, without charge, to anyone who would like a copy. Below you will find a representative selection of collections and individual coins from my stock.

Pore-Ole-Broke-Brock BREAKS BANK!

DEAR DICK:

Pore-ole-broke-Brock is no more! But I am glad I am telling you instead of my widow writing you. After 37 years of losing more money and making more friends I have sold out!

Shortly you will receive ads from the buyers:

COLUMBIA COIN CO., INC.
624 Westbury Square
Houston 35, Texas

They will have a swanky out-of-this-world store when they open sometime later this month. Until they open, their address is P.O. Box 35288, Houston 35.

I haven't quit the coin business. I'll just start over again! My coin stock was hopeless because I bought more each year than I could get ready for sale! I thought my ads in the Coin World would help, but the results were so good that it would take me several months just to fill orders!

All my full page ads brought me in between 3 or 4 thousand actual orders and nearly that many more letters wanting to buy something else, sell something, or trade or just nice letters telling me how they liked my ad.

I was not able to answer any letters except those which had money in them. Please tell your readers that I had only one life to give to my hobby and a couple more years of working day and nite like I have been—my widow would have sent you this notice instead of me!

My wife and I haven't had a vacation in 15 years, so we are going to take some trips around the U.S. and see the dealers and the collectors. Everybody loved Brock when he was broke and had no money—only coins. Now I have no coins—just money. I hope they will accept me, cause underneath that green stuff is the same ole-Brock.

Thanks!

Stanley Rupert Texas Winner

Odessa Coin Club Host To Meeting Of Numismatists

Exhibit winners at the recent Texas Numismatic Association convention held at the Lincoln Hotel in Odessa have been announced by F. E. Covill, the event's co-chairman. Odessa Coin Club acted as the host group for the convention.

Stanley Rupert of San Antonio took the best of show award and first in modern foreign coins.

Harry McAdams of McCamey, Tex., was the most frequent winner as he was awarded three first place plaques and a second place ribbon. McAdams took first places in U.S. coins, U.S. currency, and foreign coins, and second place for gold coins.

Other first place winners were Wallace Davis, Houston, for gold coins, and Ava Setzer, Center, Tex., for odd and curious.

The exhibits were judged by three nationally famous numismatists: P. K. Anderson, Hobart, Okla., first vice president of the American Numismatic Association; Hank Bieciuk, Kilgore, Tex., dealer and obsolete currency authority; Kalvert K. Tidwell, Waco, Tex., numismatic writer.

Four noted collectors also set up special non-competitive exhibits. R. E. Cox Jr. displayed his set of half dollars which was awarded the best of show at the 1961 Atlanta A.N.A. convention.

J. V. McDermott displayed his 1913 Liberty head nickel, and Amon Carter Jr. exhibited both his 1804 silver dollar and 1822 five dollar gold piece.

M. H. Lowenstern displayed his set of proof Liberty nickels, proof Indian cents, and a BU set of Buffalo nickels, including the rare 1918 over 17. Lowenstern was awarded the "People's Choice" plaque for his exhibits.

Dolly Maude Harris, American Numismatic Association, National Coin Week chairman, acted as toastmistress at the Sunday morning breakfast when the exhibit awards were presented. Joe Davis, T.N.A.'s first president, presented the awards.

Famous Nickel Keeps Moving

J. V. McDermott and his "traveling" 1913 Liberty head nickel were featured at the Autumn Coin Festival and Auction sponsored by the Centralia, Ill., Coin Club.

The nickel was exhibited and McDermott was guest speaker at the affair. General chairman Roy E. Kuester summed up the show with "A well-rounded program of exhibits, bourse, auction, special awards, speakers, signs, decorations and hot food made the day an enjoyable one".

Exhibits were non-competitive, with no prizes given. Special awards went to Herb Millet, Carlyle, Ill., 1909-S VDB BU cent; Corbin Summers, Lawrenceville, Ill., 1909-S BU cent; Mary Carlyle, Mt. Vernon, Ill., 1931-S BU cent,

Coin Club Organized

Coin collectors in the Norfolk, Nebr., area are reported to have organized a coin club there recently, with more than 20 attending the first meeting. Information regarding future sessions may be obtained from Harlow Butcher of Norfolk.

and P. D. Knicker, Centralia, 1910-S BU cent.

Bourse tables were occupied by 22 dealers, and the auction held some outstanding lots, including three 1916-D dimes, two $3 gold pieces, two 1909-S VDB cents, and a 1913-S quarter. More than 400 persons attended.

Assisting chairman Kuester were M. E. Stonecipher, Harry H. Hall, and Albert Brinkman,

Georgia Club Meets

The Augusta, Ga., Coin Club met recently in the Civic Room of the First Federal Building. All interested persons were invited to attend the meeting.

Continental Currency

The Continental Congress issued currency in denominations as high as 65, 70, and 80 dollars.

Secret Service Man Club Guest

Charles Taylor, Secret Service Agent, was guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Loudoun County, Va., Coin Club. Taylor spoke to the group on counterfeit currency.

He said that an alert public is the most valuable asset of the Treasury Department, and that the Treasury always welcomes an opportunity to work with the coin clubs and explain ways to detect counterfeit money.

An election was held at this meeting, and the new officers include: President George Atwell; vice president "Burley" Frye; secretary-treasurer Guy Allbright, and John Vance, Caleb Gibson, George Fairall, board of directors.

This was the first time the Loudoun County group has had a guest speaker appear at a club meeting.

The Romance of MONEY

By Ted R. Hammer

Q. Where can I obtain a fractional currency shield and how much should I pay for it?

A. You may have to run an advertisement or contact dealers.

One good method is to send a form letter out with a postal card or stamped - addressed envelope for reply. We cannot even guess at the cost because the shields are sold so rarely—and there are so few of them. (The shield was issued by the U. S. Treasury Department during the Civil War to thwart counterfeiters of the 3-cent to 50-cent notes. A shield bore actual notes to be compared with those presented at banks. The shields were in walnut frames.)

Q. What's the difference between a commemorative half dollar and a regular issue?

A. A commemorative half dollar still has face value of 50 cents. It is issued as a souvenir piece to commemorate a special event or anniversary. Usually, the profits go to a committee or commission for use toward a monument commemorating the event. Most of the coins were issued for major events such as statehood anniversaries, but a few were turned out for purely local events. A commission organized to handle the project would provide the coin design then would receive the coins at face value. Selling them at a profit—often a tremendous profit of 1000 per cent or more—the commission could raise money for its monument, statue or what ever it planned. The dollar profit might not be as great as seems apparent at first, since most commemorative issues were limited to a few thousand coins.

Q. Is it not illegal for a dealer to charge more than face value for a coin? How can I force him to sell me scarce Lincoln and Indian cents at face value?

A. It obviously is not illegal. But you must be joking.

Q. I have a $3 gold piece for

Virginia Club Conducts Show

Martinsville, Va., Coin Club held its first annual public Coin Show and Convention recently at the city's Community Recreation Center.

Major J. Frank Wilson of Martinsville opened the show at a formal ribbon-cutting ceremony. Exhibits, a dealers' bourse, and an auction were convention highlights.

Mrs. George May, club president, said the group had tripled its initial membership of 20 since organization in 1959.

Displays of coins and U. S. currency were shown by collectors from Washington, D. C., Danville, Roanoke, Greensboro, High Point and other cities.

Auction sale of coins were held in the afternoon, and again at night.

General display: first, J. T. Moose, Washington, D. C.

U. S. Coins: first, Jan Reed, City; second, Bill Ward, Spencer and third, Mrs. George Scott, City.

General Currency: first, J. T. Moose and second, Mrs. O. P. Strawn, Martinsville.

Miscellaneous: first, Mrs. George May; second, Jan Reed, third, Mrs. O. P. Strawn.

which I have been offered $15 to $150. It shows only slight wear. How can I be sure the buyer is not cheating me?

A. Get several offers. The offer of $150 seems more than fair for that coin since the date indicates it is the most common one issued and from your description it would classify as only very good. I doubt if a dealer could get that much for it.

TERMS OF SALE — READ CAREFULLY

1. Auction sales ARE NOT approval sales. Read these terms carefully. By submitting bids you agree to the terms set forth below. All coins have been classified by experts and while errors will be gladly corrected NO LOT MAY BE RETURNED WITHOUT WRITTEN PERMISSION. Request to return coins MUST BE MADE WITHIN THREE DAYS OF RECEIPT OF COINS.
2. All bids are to be by LOT as numbered in the catalogue. When identical bids are received, preference is given to earliest bidder.
3. This is an UNRESTRICTED PUBLIC AUCTION. All bids are entered as received and highest bidder will be the buyer. Mail bidders may feel free to submit any bid they wish and each lot will be purchased for such bidders at the next highest bid over room bidders.
4. Bidders must establish credit or have on deposit 25% of TOTAL bids.
5. Lots will be available to room bidders after each session.
6. Mail bidders will receive their lots promptly after the end of the sale.

7. Lots delivered in New York City are subject to 3% Sales Tax.
8. There will be no charge for executing bids but postage and insurance will be added, and a handling charge for heavy lots and books.
9. Where estimates are given they represent either the owner's idea of value or our professional opinion as to what they should bring. IN ANY EVENT THEY ARE ONLY ESTIMATES AND YOU CAN BID HIGHER OR LOWER. We recommend however, if you want the lot, bid close to or over estimate, this does not mean that our estimate is too high. It only means that the coin is not popular among collectors and few people compete for it. THE ESTIMATES ARE WHAT THE COIN SHOULD BE WORTH.
10. All coins are genuine and as described.

Denmark's Collection Of Coins, Medals Among Best In Europe

By Robert Obojski

I visited Denmark's Royal Collection of Coins and Medals at the Nationalmuseet (National Museum) in Copenhagen during my numismatic tour for Coin World last summer and found it to be a first class collection that ranks with the best in Europe. Over 150,000 coins and medals are contained.

Otto Morkholm, the director of the Royal Collection, and his assistant, Jorgen Balling, were good enough to describe the collection for me and to escort me through the six exhibit rooms.

Both are young men. Morkholm, a graduate of the University of Copenhagen and one of Denmark's top numismatic scholars, is 32, while Balling, 30, is a graduate of Aarhus University and a specialist in the coinage of Rome.

The collection was founded by King Frederik II in the middle of the 17th century (King Frederik himself was a keen student of numismatics), and it has been continued by the Danish government ever since.

Denmark's Royal Mint for the past two centuries has annually contributed examples of all its work.

The coins and medals were originally housed at the Rosenborg Palace, but were removed to the Nationalmuseet in 1867. (The 16th century Rosenborg Palace still contains the Crown Jewels and other Danish treasures).

Royal Collection, of course, has the world's best assemblage of Danish coins.

The Greek and Roman collections are particularly fine, consisting of 24,000 and 20,000 coins, respectively.

"We're still cataloguing our Greek items," commented Morkholm. "The project was begun in 1942, and should be completed early in 1964."

At present the completed Greek catalog consists of seven thick bound volumes, while three more will be added during the next three years.

Balling is working on finds of Roman coin hoards in Denmark and hopes to publish his findings in the very near future.

A number of exhibits at the Nationalmuseet show the actual clay vessels and the Roman gold, silver and bronze coins that were found in them.

The public exhibit contains over 6,000 beautifully arranged coins, starting from early Greek pieces of the 7th century B. C., and continues through the coins of Rome, Byzantium, and the Scandinavian countries. Representative coins of many other countries, past and present, are also shown.

In order to facilitate research, the coins in the research collection are contained in locked cabinets right in the exhibit rooms, and are not hidden away in the dusty catacombs as research collections are in many other museums.

For example, the museum's complete holdings of Roman pieces are located in the same room as the Roman display, and they are readily available to scholars upon request.

Several wall cabinets containing dozens of examples of the huge Swedish copper plate money make up the most striking display. Some of these 18th century "coins" weigh as much as 30 pounds.

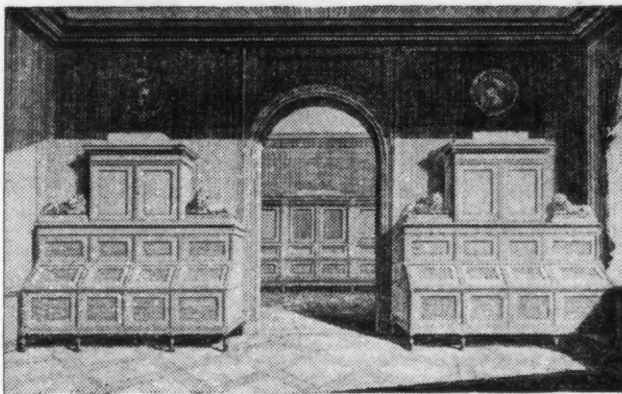

Making up another striking feature in the exhibit are several cabinets of ancient coins of which both the obverse and reverse are shown through the use of a single coin.

The coins are set under glass in a table-type display case, and a mirror is set underneath this glass. Thus, the reverse is clearly shown in reflection.

Among the outstanding individual coins exhibited are "klippings" of Norway and Denmark, beautifully designed square-shaped gold pieces of the 17th century.

The numismatic library at the Nationalmuseet is a comprehensive one, containing nearly 8,000 volumes. Scholars the world over frequently use the collection and its associated library for research purposes.

Royal Collection of Coins and Medals is open to the public from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. every day of the week, excepting on holidays. Nationalmuseet is located on the Stormgade near Town Hall Square in the center of Copenhagen.

This is the entrance to Denmark's Royal Collection of Coins and Medals at the National Museum in Copenhagen. These classic coin cabinets were originally located in the 16th century Rosenborg Palace in the Danish capital.

Du Pont Awards Safety Medals

In early September, Wendell Northwestern, Inc., of Minneapolis, Minn., was notified that they were to strike a special medal that would be presented to every DuPont employee participating in a safety contest being conducted at 34 heavy building sites in 13 states.

For the third time, a safety record without parallel in the construction industry, a full year without a lost-time injury, has been set by the construction division of DuPont.

The complicating factor was that Wendell-Northwestern required four to five weeks to engrave the special dies and produce the medals, whereas DuPont wanted them delivered and the presentations made within two weeks from the time the order was placed!

They decided to proceed in the hope that they would round out their full accident-free year and authorized Wendell-Northwestern to proceed on the time-consuming task of engraving the steel dies, much of which involved hand-modeling. By October 9, the dies were completed, and simultaneously over 7,000 Du Pont employees had worked 12 consecutive months without a lost-time injury. A telephone call from Wilmington, Del., to Minneapolis authorized the actual production of the medals and the coining presses were immediately put to work.

In addition to the Du Pont employees, about 4,000 employees of subcontractors on these sites, following the same safety practices prescribed for Du Pont employees, chalked up 10 consecutive months without any lost time due to an on-the-job accident.

For this period, the two groups worked a total of nearly 14 million safe exposure hours. Had they followed the accident frequency rate of the construction industry as a whole, upwards of 420 crippling injuries, or even deaths, might have been expected.

This marks the third time that

Members View Gold Stella

An 1879 $4 (Stella) gold piece was exhibited at a recent meeting of the Portville, N. Y., Coin Club. The Stella is owned by L. Allard of Hornell, N. Y.

Frank Allen of Wellsville conducted the club auction for the evening, assisted by Donald Shelley, and carriers Stanley North and Ricky Cudahay.

The members were invited to attend a coin showing at Dansville, N. Y., on Nov. 19, from 2 until 4 p.m. The showing will be held in the Town Hall auditorium.

New Club In Alabama

Demopolis, Ala., is the home of a new coin club, the Black Belt Stamp and Coin Club, organized recently. The name of the group is derived from the black fertile soil in that section of the state, club president Maurice Goldsmith explained.

Other new officers comprise James H. Lee, vice president; Milton McCrory, secretary-treasurer; C. H. Eatman, assistant secretary-treasurer, and Estelle Threadgill, corresponding secretary.

On the board of directors are Vernon Moore, Jack Kerby and John Brotzman. Goldsmith and Moore were primarily responsible for organizing the club. At the initial meeting, 21 collectors became charter members.

Information regarding future meetings may be obtained from any of the officers.

Du Pont construction units scored a 12-month perfect safety record. On two prior occasions, April 5, 1955, and June 14, 1957, Construction Division personnel completed a year with an unblemished record.

And in recognition of this outstanding achievement, the specifically designed oxidized bronze medals produced by Wendell Northwestern, Inc., will be presented to every participating employee by his craft superintendent at special ceremonies at 34 different locations within the next three or four days.

The medals are approximately one-eighth inch thick by one and one-half inch in diameter in an oxidized bronze finish, nestled in a green polyurethane pad and individually packaged in molded two-tone plastic boxes.

Watchmaker Opens New Coin Business

David Love, watchmaker of Montgomery, Ala., has opened a coin shop at Montgomery in the Pake-Stephenson Sporting Goods Store on Commerce street.

Love will operate the coin shop in connection with his trade of watch repairing. He has long been an avid collector and has accumulated a vast stock of coins, and changes his display every 48 hours in order to give his customers new interest on their ever increasing visits.

Commenting on his constant change of display, one customer remarked, "this is like reading a new book every two days."

Isle Of Man Currency

On July 6, 1961, the Government of the Isle of Man issued its own banknotes, displacing the notes which had up to July been issued by the five joint stock banks which have branches in the Isle of Man.

Rare Cent Recently Sold

Coin collector I. K. Stevenson of Sarasota, Fla., who writes the "Coin-Age" column for the Sarasota Sunday Herald-Tribune, has reported purchasing a double rare Lincoln cent. Not only is the coin struck on copper and dated 1943, but it also has the date 1942 appearing on it.

The coin was found in a roll of 1943 steel cents in 1944 by a West Virginian, who recently sold the coin to Stevenson.

Stevenson submitted the coin to Emil Di Bella of New York, who is a specialist in mistrikes. Di Bella wrote back "In my opinion, you have a real rarity and rest assured it is genuine in all respects."

Gold Coast Club Promises Fair Weather

The Hollywood Beach Hotel here is the site of the Gold Coast Coin Club's convention December 2-3 in Hollywood, Fla. The club, a year old, is sponsored by the city's recreation department and started with half a dozen members; now it has 100. Hollywood is located in the center of the famous "Gold Coast." Gold coins are being found just off the coast a few hundred feet—from old ships sunk during the 1800's during the fury of hurricanes—hence the club's name. Club spokesman Lee Auderhot and Richard Muniz say they expect many out-of-state guests for the conclave; "they can swim while people in the north fight snow, sleet and slush," said the two.

Greenville Club Elects

Allen B. Cagle (right) was reelected president of the Greenville, S. C., Coin Club at a meeting at Hotel Greenville, October 24. Jack F. Crumley, left, was elected secretary-treasurer, and Larry L. Chapman (center) was elected vice president and appointed as chaplain. Cagle was given an award (above) for his service to the club. Other members of the board of directors are George Lunsford, Ralph Hamby, Anthony Polizzi and Fred Zink. The public is invited to meetings on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month.

Free Medal Offer For Stamp

San Diego's Convention and Tourist Bureau is about to release and distribute this aluminum medal, bearing the figure of Don Diego on the obverse—the official host of the city—with one arm around a bathing beauty to indicate another San Diego attraction, the superb beaches. The reverse contains a pitch in favor of San Diego as the next convention city.

Coin World readers may have one free by sending a self-addressed envelope to Frank F. Deegan, 1454 Wilbur Avenue, San Diego, 9, Calif.

Collector Deegan is doing this with the blessing of San Diego, the Harbor of the Sun—and to further interest in the American Numismatic Association's consideration of San Diego as the site for a national convention.

Treasure Topic For Detroit

Jay Deets, member of the Grosse Pointe Numismatic Society, Grosse Pointe, Mich., was guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Detroit Coin Club, Detroit, Mich., according to a report by Daniel C. Parker, secretary of the Detroit club.

Deets read a paper on the sinking of 17 million silver pesos in Manila Bay just before the occupation of the Philippines by the Japanese. He also told of the attempts by Japanese to retrieve this treasure.

Another highlight of the meeting was a special meeting of the Michigan State Numismatic Society's Fall Convention committee. It is reported that plans for this event are nearing completion.

CIVIL WAR CENTENNIAL WITH A COMMEMORATIVE MEDAL

The firing on Fort Sumter one hundred years ago marked the beginning of the War between the States. As we join the five year centennial of this historic event, Coin World joins in commemorating this event by preserving in metal the heads of state for both the North and the South: Abraham Lincoln and Jefferson Davis.

Bronze medals have been struck bearing the portraits of these two leaders. Above the three-quarter view of Lincoln and Davis appear the words: 1861 - CENTENNIAL - 1961, below, the words: WAR BETWEEN THE STATES.

On the reverse of this medal is a symbol familiar to nearly 75,000 collectors — the revolving globe of the world, Coin World's trademark! An entire series of these commemorative medals is planned, maintaining the continuity of this reverse. Each year, a prominent event or person will be placed on the obverse portraying a part in a series of American numismatic events.

Foreign Coins Offer Unlimited Pleasures

Field Offers Variety, Art, Much History

By Charles R. Hoskins
Assistant to the Director
Money Museum
National Bank of Detroit

What intrigues you in a coin collection: History? Variety? Art? Unusual denominations? Famous people? A collection of foreign coins is heavily endowed with all of these properties. Through the coins of other nations we can vicariously travel to Europe, with its war-shattered cities rebuilt in preparation for a greater future to northern Africa, where white garments protect the people from the hot sun reflected in the sand . . . or even to the mountains of southern Asia where flocks of sheep pass through many generations of the same nomadic families.

For the numismatist coins bring past centuries to life. A taler of the Holy Roman Empire arouses curiosity—who were these rulers and people? How did the Empire survive for over a thousand years? What effects has it had on our world of 1961?

Today there undoubtedly are more collectors of foreign coins in the United States than ever before. Probably the most important single factor bringing this about was World War II. G.I.'s, returning to the United States at the end of the war, usually brought with them a pocketful of change from the nations they had visited. Since then numerous books and catalogs on foreign coins have been published, making it relatively easy and inexpensive for a collector to acquire a working knowledge of this field. In recent years, with the growth of a great and broad interest in numismatics, many of these small accumulations which had rested in the corner of a desk drawer since 1945 have been brought out to form the nucleus of a foreign coin collection.

As a rule coins of other nations are less expensive than those of the United States. A few dollars will go far toward assembling a representative type set of one coin from each nation on a given continent. Yet collectors who specialize in the coins of a particular ruler or period will usually find that there are coins which cannot be obtained at any price.

The next time a collector tells you he specializes in foreign coins, don't turn your back on him: he has found a place in numismatics crammed with history, variety, and art, yet full of inexpensive, procurable coins.

California Gold - Civil War Topic For Santa Barbara Group

Herbert M. Bergen, second vice president of the American Numismatic Association, was guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Santa Barbara, Calif., Coin Club. Bergen, who served a two-year term as president of the California Numismatic Assn. which ended in April this year, presented the speech on "California Gold and the Civil War" which he delivered at the A.N.A. convention in Atlanta in August.

Bergen said that it wasn't bravery or numbers of men that shaped the end of the Civil War, but gold. The North, able to call on the almost inexhaustible supplies from California, had funds to pay for the costly conflict. But the South, with only a few small fields to mine, was in financial trouble from the start.

He quoted figures to show that at the end of the war in April, 1865, the Union's debt, was at $2,757,000,000 and the South had

New Kentucky Group Formed

The newly formed Kentucky State Numismatic Association has elected its first officers, headed by R. H. Breckinridge of Owensboro as president, chosen at the conclusion of the first annual convention of the organization held in Louisville.

Other officers comprise David Simmons, Louisville, first vice president; Frank Sower, Frankfort second vice president; Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Allgeier, Louisville, secretary and treasurer, respectively, and L. M. Ross, Central City, sergeant-at-arms.

At the convention, best of show exhibit award went to Art Lovi, Pensacola, Fla. Other trophy winners included: amassed a debt of $1,500,000,000. Gold from California's rich fields, the most extensive ever known, eventually paid the Northern war debt.

As the authority put it, "California gold served to maintain the strong financial structure and credit required to prosecute and win such a costly conflict."

He also passed on some other information bearing on the war including the fact that this state almost became two—one sympathizing with the South and the other with the North. In fact, he said, Southern Californians, favoring the southern cause, managed to push through a bill, signed by the governor of California in 1859, which would have split this state in half. However, Congress, with a slim Northern margin and afraid of tipping the balance in favor of the South, killed the proposal.

Convention Dates Set

The Nebraska Numismatic Association has scheduled its seventh annual convention for April 7 and 8 to be held at the Hotel Yancey, Second and Locust streets, in Grand Island. General chairman is Elmer G. Nelson, Box 674, Grand Island. He is also secretary-treasurer of the N.N.A.

MENTION "COIN WORLD" IN ANSWERING ANY AD!

Marshall Chilcoat, center, publicity chairman of the Indian Capitol Coin Club of Muskogee, Okla., confers with Abe Kaplan left, who designed the Indian medal presidential presentation case, and Dr. J. T. Woodburn, club president. President Kennedy received silver medal replicas of the Five Civilized Tribes of Oklahoma from the Muskogee club during his recent visit to the state.

Oklahoma Club Gives Kennedy Tribal Seals

President John F. Kennedy received a remembrance of Oklahoma's Five Civilized Tribes from the Indian Capitol Coin Club of Muskogee, Okla., during his recent visit to the state there.

Indian Capitol Coin Club officers have had miniature silver replicas of the Great Seals of the Five Civilized Tribes of Oklahoma mounted in a blue plexiglass case and they were presented to President Kennedy by Second District Congressman Ed Edmondson.

The case bore gold inscriptions signifying the donor of the gift and stating that it is "In commemoration of his (President Kennedy's) visit to Indian territory October 29, 1961."

Marshall Chilcoat, the club's publicity chairman, is credited with the idea of giving the replicas of the Great Seals of the Five Civilized Tribes to President Kennedy, and Abe Kaplan, a club member, had the case for the silver medals made up for the presentation.

Chilcoat said President Kennedy is a coin and medal collector and since the club has something in common with him, it was decided that it would be a nice gesture "to give him this rather unusual gift."

President Kennedy's visit to Oklahoma took him to a part of Oklahoma settled by members of the Five Civilized Tribes between 1817 and 1842.

The silver medals contained in the case given to President Kennedy represent the seals of the Cherokee, Choctaw, Chickasaw, Seminole and Muskogee (Creek) Tribes.

Officer Zepf Enjoys Hobby

One of the many hobbies enjoyed by police Lieutenant Roy Zepf of Haddonfield, N. J., is coin collecting. Thus far, he has amassed over 5,000 U.S. coins of all denominations.

Asked why he was interested in numismatics, Zepf replied, "There is a satisfaction in knowing you own something which is rare. I also enjoy coins because many of them have such deep historical significance."

"This goal is to complete a series such as the Indian head cents from 1859 through 1909. Sometimes it can be profitable, too, when you find other collectors interested in coins which you have."

In working up the police ladder, Lieutenant Zepf attended the South Jersey Police Training School, the New Jersey State Police Training School for Detectives and Investigations, the FBI School of Fingerprinting, and a school conducted by the Department of Justice and the FBI.

Ohio Group Holds Auction

Approximately 200 lots of coins sold for $1,650 at an auction staged recently by the Marion, Ohio, Coin Stamp and Hobby Club, reports Wendell Morningstar, president.

Fourteen dealers participated in the bourse. Over 500 persons attended the event held at Marion's U.A.W.-C.I.O. Hall. James Wooland of Findlay, Ohio, won a special prize of a Saint Gaudens double eagle.

Robert Hensel and Eugene Hinkle served as the show's general chairman and bourse chairman and bourse chairman.

Club Suspends Business Meet

The regular business program was suspended at a recent meeting of the Fond du Lac, Wis., Coin Club in order that a 60 lot auction could get underway, according to a report from John C. Warns, secretary.

O. H. Ochs was auctioneer for the event, and all but about 18 lots were sold at the minimum bid or over.

Twenty members and 10 guests were present.

Ohio Show To Be March

A three-day show and sale of coins, stamps, and other collector's items has been announced for March 16, 17 and 18 at the Hotel Pick-Ohio in Youngstown, Ohio, by Morris J. and Ruth Hammel, directors.

The show opens Friday, March 16, at 11 a.m. and closes for the day at 10 p.m. Saturday's schedule is from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m., and on Sunday from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m.

THE MONEY TREERodney R. Parsons
Spencer, IowaConvention Scheduled For April

April 7 and 8 have been set for the first annual convention of the Northwest Central States Numismatic Association, to be held in the Northern Hotel, Billings, Mont., according to a report from the group's first vice president, Roy Prickett, of Thermopolis, Wyo.

The date was established at a meeting of the association's officers held recently in Billings. Attending were the following:

President Francis H. B. George, Billings; W. R. Scott, Billings, secretary-treasurer; O. K. Chapman, Laurel, Mont., third vice president; Felix Restad, Billings, director; Sally Clayton and Leona Flattum.

At the session, a charter was outlined, committees appointed, and finances discussed, as well as general plans for the convention, Prickett reported.

The Northwest Central States group was founded last spring by representatives from clubs in North and South Dakota, Montana and Wyoming, who met at a coin show sponsored by the Billings Coin Club.

Kolman Guest At Ohio Club

Michael Kolman Jr. was to have spoken on mint errors at the November 21 meeting of the North East Ohio Coin Club at Cleveland, Ohio's Tudor Arms Hotel.

Kolman, who wrote the book, the Numismatic Lincoln Cent Errors, is a nationally known specialist in this field of numismatics.

An election of officers for the 1962 term was also scheduled, reports Lida Ross, the club's corresponding secretary.

Values On Coinage
Topic For Meeting

"How High Can Values Go on Coins" was the title of an open floor discussion held at a recent meeting of the Glass Center Coin Club of Toledo, Ohio. The discussion was followed by an auction.

The Glass Center club meets on the first and third Wednesdays of each month at the V. F. W. Post 606, 1901 Tremainsville road, Toledo. New members were welcomed.

A Weekly Report To Our Readers

Statistics And Interesting
Information from your COIN
WORLD Circulation Dept.

CECIL WATKINS

C.W. Sample Copies Do Double Duty

It is interesting to note the amount of numismatic enthusiasm that is manifested by individuals reading our weekly publication for the first time.

S. L. Fayard of Biloxi, Mississippi, took the time to write us after receiving his copies and we quote:

You were so kind to send me sample copies of your August 25 and September 1 issues of the Coin World.

As a result of reading these issues, I have placed orders for approximately $100 of merchandise after reading the advertisement in these issues.

I want to thank you for favoring me with these sample copies and I assure you I have derived much pleasure from reading the interesting articles as well as the ads.

As soon as I finish with these I will pass them on to others who are interested in collecting coins.

Again thanking you for sending these papers.

S. L. Fayard
Biloxi, Mississippi

Coin Club Selects Library For Gift

The Liberty Coin Club of Belleville, Michigan, is the latest to select a Library as the recipient of a gift subscription to Coin World.

As a result of the club's action, the Fred C. Fischer Library of Belleville will be receiving copies of Coin World each week.

Other gift subscriptions of Coin World for libraries continue to come in and the following is a partial list of the ones received during the past few days:

Chicago Public Library, Chicago, Illinois, gift from Edward J. Kruzlak, Chicago, Illinois.

Mary Bivins Library, Amarillo, Texas, gift from H. S. Benton, Amarillo, Texas.

George Amos Memorial Library, Gillette, Wyoming, gift from D. W. Frederick, Gillette, Wyoming.

Hutchinson Public Library, Hutchinson, Kansas, gift from Richard W. Cooper, Hutchinson, Kansas.

Lancaster Free Public Library, Lancaster, Pennsylvania, gift from Joseph N. Pittenger, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Rochester Public Library, Rochester, Minnesota, gift from Dr. James Ross, Rochester, Minnesota.

Cynthiana Public Library, Cynthiana, Kentucky, gift from Clay Simpson, Cynthiana, Kentucky.

Rusk County Library, Henderson, Texas, gift from Carol Carlock, Austin, Texas.

Cerritos College Library, Norwalk, California, gift from Curtis R. Paxman, MD, Norwalk, California.

Sunset High School Library, Hayward, California, gift from Dan Young, Hayward, California.

Village Oaks School Library, Stockton, California, gift from George Stagg, Stockton, California.

Neptune High School Library, Neptune, New Jersey, gift from Willy Gruetzenback, Jr., Neptune, New Jersey.

High School Library, Winamac, Indiana, gift from Public Library, Winamac, Indiana.

North Royalton Public Library, North Royalton 33, Ohio, gift from Harold J. Evans, North Royalton 33, Ohio.

St. Leo College Preparatory Library, St. Leo, Florida, gift from John B. Burks, Dade City, Florida.

San Bernardino County Free Library, Victorville Branch, Victorville, California, gift from Charles Romer, Victorville, California, and Kenneth Johnson, Victorville, California.

Queens Public Library, Richmond Hill, New York, gift from James M. Holdun, Richmond Hill, New York.

Southwest Branch Library, Kansas City 13, Missouri, gift from Carl Bolte, Jr., Kansas City, Missouri.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK—I shall pass through this world but once. Any good, therefore that I can do or any kindness that I can show to any human being, let me know now! Let me not defer it or neglect it for I shall not pass this way again.

Daffy Notions: The original "fast buck" was the one George Washington threw across the Potomac River.

Hawthorne Groups Hold Joint Show

Approximately 1,200 persons attended the recent Coin and Stamp Show sponsored by the Hawthorne, Ill., Coin and Stamp Clubs, according to a report from H. M. Mareska, coin club program chairman.

Exhibit winners included the following: United States Coins and Currency, class one, G. J. Formella, gold award for Early American Coins; J. W. Gore, silver award, U.S. Type Set; and H. M. Mareska, bronze award, Civil War Token Money.

Foreign Coins and Currency, class two, gold award, J. W. Gore, for his display of Tetrodrachms of Roman Egypt; silver award, M. Kalish, Canada's Tribute to George VI.

Miscellaneous Medals and Tokens, class three, gold award, E. S. Valach, Civil War Tokens; gold award, C. F. Formella, Odd and Curious Money; silver award, H. M. Mareska, Wendell Wilkie 1940; silver award, R. O. Nimmer, Columbian Exposition, bronze awards for his exhibits of Rolled Cents, and World's Fair Medals and Tokens.

Novice Entries, class four, C. F. Simmons won a bronze award for his display of Wooden Nickels.

Bank Speaker In Anaheim

Cyrus Harold Phillips, professional numismatist and representative of the Bank of America as a lecturer on American money, recently was guest speaker at a meeting of the Anaheim, Calif., Optimist Club.

Phillips was speaking through the arrangement of Arley J. Bailes, operations officer of the new South Anaheim branch of the Bank of America.

A coin collector of many years, Phillips spoke on the historical background of American coinage.

THE FIRST TIME IN HISTORY

The Five Civilized Tribes, have released their sacred Seals to the public commercially. The purpose of this is to build the Five Civilized Tribes Museum, in the Indian Capitol of the World, Muskogee, Oklahoma.

There is an authentic history accompanying each Seal, explaining the history of the Seals. Approved and governed by the Chief of the Cherokee, Choctaw, Chickasaw, Seminole and Creek of Oklahoma and the Inter-Tribal Council.

Dealers write for wholesale prices.

Harmer Cole Man Of Year

Harmer Cole of Penns Grove, N. J., was chosen as "Man of the Year" at the recent Middle Atlantic Numismatic Association Convention, held at Fort Monroe, Va.

Cole, who has been an active member of the Delaware Valley Coin Club of New Jersey, was declared as the man who had done the most for M.A.N.A. during the past year, and was presented with a special trophy provided for this purpose by the Professional Numismatists Guild.

The award was announced by master of ceremonies John J. Pittman, M.A.N.A., past president, and presented by Sol Kaplan, executive vice president of the P.N.G.

Cole was the leader in the movement to secure the door step of the original U. S. mint building in Philadelphia, which is now displayed at the grounds of the Gloucester County, N. J., Historical Society.

Siam Uses Tin Alloys

Siam is one of the few countries in the world today which strikes a large percentage of her coins in tin or tin alloys.

This a curious and controversial coin. Seldom is it ever seen in VG, little less fine or better. In my recent travels, I had the good fortune to pick up 5 or 6 pieces, fine or better. Incidentally, a genuine 1922-P cent is easily identified (and verified) by a smashed or mushy R in Liberty, and a weak final 2. Every one of my coins will of course pass the test.

BU COIN SETS

These are still the specialty of the house. My margin of profit is surely smaller than on anything else. But there is more satisfaction. I notice that everyone else has for the most part raised their prices well above mine. This is the big advantage of being in the roll business also, as it enables me to buy most of my rolls at wholesale.

Fair To Very Fine Coin Clubs Best Source Of Supplies, Information

By James G. Johnson

Over the last few weeks, for one reason or another, I have found myself able to attend more coin club meetings. I belong to five, now, having joined the Logan County (Bellevue, Ohio) club recently, the first time I was able to get over to it. That club meets every other Saturday evening, and my Saturday evenings for a long time were pretty well taken up by providing transportation for my daughter or summer baseball and the like, not to mention work for Coin World.

J. Johnson

The other clubs are the Tri-County Coin Club of St. Marys, Ohio; the Piqua Coin Club, the Shelby County (Sidney) club, and the Dayton Coin Club which was the first I joined after moving here, before I found out about the others. The club in Sidney was organized only last spring.

Dayton is more than 40 miles and the club meets on a Thursday evening. I have found lately that conflicts as well as general fatigue after a pretty heavy workload the first half of the week have made me disinclined or unable to get down to Dayton very often.

The St. Marys club meets on a Sunday afternoon and it is usually convenient so I have attended pretty regularly since joining. My attendance at Piqua was pretty poor for some time because it met on Wednesday evening, and for quite a while that was a busy night at Coin World. Now we have changed our schedule a bit, and I can now get down there when it fits in with my daughter's schedule. (She has rifle practice and church choir on Wednesday nights, and I have to "play taxi" since we live four miles out in the country.)

As for the Shelby County club, that also meets on a Thursday, and I make it pretty well except last summer when my kid baseball management duties interfered.

As an aside here, I have also retained membership in some of my Colorado clubs, mostly for reasons of sentiment and because I like to keep informed about what my old friends out there are doing.

Belonging to five clubs simultaneously is not especially new to me, although I guess it is a couple more than my average has been. But ever since Jimmy Jr. and I started collecting, we or I have always joined, and one or both of us attended, as many clubs as we could reach. I am what might be called an "avid" collector and club meetings have always been my major source of information about coins as well as an important source of supply through auctions, trading, and just buying from other collectors.

The meetings have also provided a method of obtaining money to buy more coins. We usually took our duplicates with us and always sold enough to either pay trip expenses or buy at the auctions or both. We were never considered "dealers" but at most of the clubs it was a common practice for the members either to have bourse tables or to have a box of duplicates in 2x2 envelopes out on the main table for anyone to look over and buy from if he desired.

Prices of such coins generally varied from 50 per cent of catalogue to 75 per cent, and it never occurred to any member to "gouge" any other member. Even when professional dealers belonged and had bourse tables, they usually eased up a little for their fellow members, regardless of what they did in their regular course of business.

Such bourse facilities as were set up usually were quite informal as befitted a club meeting, with no attempt to make a commercial enterprise out of it. The dealers were there as club members first, and dealers second, and some of them were club officers because they were duly elected on the basis of their numismatic knowledge as well as leadership ability. In some cases, they even left their business affairs entirely outside the club and brought nothing with them to sell.

Eventually, Jimmy and I branched out and did a little mail order selling, and bought some material for the purpose of selling it at a profit and gradually worked into "suitcase" dealers with bourse space at conventions and the like. We skipped the intermediate stage of being "vest pocket" dealers!

This is getting away from what I had in mind when I began this column, in part at least. Attending these coin club meetings has "given me to think". What do I like about them, what do I dislike about them, and what do I believe a club meeting ought to do for its members?

As I see it, a coin club should provide three things: education, action, and sociability.

Taking the last one first, I feel that it should be a place where fellow collectors can get to know each other, discuss common interests, learn each others' specialties and their needs, perhaps bring their wives for better mutual understanding of a collectors' problems or merely to chit-chat with other wives for better understanding of a collector's wife's problems! (My wife is a non-collector).

For the action, a club should provide opportunity for collector-members to buy, sell and trade duplicates, either by bourse tables, by an auction, or person to person. This last requires some planning and a little official help. Few collectors want to stand up in meeting and announce that they have certain coins and will trade them for certain other coins, or that they want something, who has it? Even a bulletin board is better. There are other ways, also.

Buying, selling and trading can occupy the same space, but the space should be provided, with collector-members getting first chance, and commercial dealing taking what is left if any. If necessary, let the commercial dealers do their selling at shows and conventions, not at club meetings except at the members' request, not the dealers' request.

Auctions should be an integral part of a meeting, not an adjunct, with a 10- or 15-minute recess taken for looking over the material. The auctioneer should be an experienced club member, who would give the approximate grade and value of a lot as he offers it for bidding. That could be done by a committee if necessary, but should not be left to the owner, who might be prejudiced. Content should be as varied as possible, with some attempt made to supply members' wants.

Education should play an equal part with action. A club should provide opportunity for a beginner to learn what he is doing and why he is doing it, books for him to read if he wants, and some idea of the wide range of numismatics or what there is to collect as well as some information about what he actually is collecting.

He should be taught how to grade, and well taught, by the most experienced club members since that, nowadays, is a most important part of collecting, whether or not it always has been.

Thinking back over the numerous club meetings I have attended, I can call to mind easily the best features of all the club programs, although not what people have actually said. These are the features I like, put in the form of a sample program.

Meeting is called to order after a period of fraternizing, trading, observing exhibits, which may have been from 30 to 60 minutes. The secretary reads the minutes, the president goes down the line from old business to new business, and so on. There is introduction of guests, with casual visitors introducing themselves.

Any member who has acquired new items for his collection since the last meeting is given a few minutes to discuss the acquisition, how and why he got it, what is unusual about it if anything, and so on. Then each person who brought something for exhibit is given three or four minutes to discuss his exhibit. Exhibits provide an important part of education.

Finally, a speaker is introduced who talks for 10-15 minutes on some phase of numismatics, usually a member who has studied a specialty and become expert enough to tell others what he has learned. Occasionally, an outside speaker could be brought in, from another club, perhaps.

Then, the recess before the auction, which would be followed by refreshments and more fraternizing, during which members "settle up" for auction material bought or sold. Finally, adjournment until the next meeting. That, simply stated, is what I like.

This issue of Coin World is significant to me, as it marks the first anniversary of the first issue after I became an official staff member of the paper. It has been a very pleasant year, and one of the busiest of my career to date and one of the shortest.

Francis S. Jones, president of the San Diego County Inter-Club Numismatic Council, sponsors of the recent Coinarama in the California city, presents best-in-show award to A. F. Andersen.

Council Names Award Winner

Several hundred persons attended the fourth annual Coinarama sponsored by the San Diego County, Calif., Inter-Club Numismatic Council, and held at San Diego's Star Dust Hotel, reports Catharine R. Edgerton, secretary.

Nearly 50 displays were presented in the exhibit competition with Aage F. Andersen of La Mesa, Calif., taking the best in show award for his Philippine Islands coins and currency.

Exhibit winners were declared in first, second and third place categories. First place winners were:

Fred E. Lawrence, Oregon Centennial trade tokens; Jose Rocha Ramos, Mexican coins, currency, and odd and curious; Charles Jackson, metals used in making coins from ancient to modern times.

Second place winners: Helen Dixon, coin zoo; Catherine and Stuart Edgerton, two awards, for coins of Japan, and U.S. silver dollars; Caroline Fink, Mexican coins; Mattie Knickerbocker, U.S. gold type sets.

Third place winners: Kenneth Hedges, U.S. and foreign commemorative medals; Dennis Phelps, "money to burn," wooden nickels; Harvey Rose, Mexican coins and currency commemorating the Aztecs; Bobbie MacDonald, coins of Scotland; Paul Hamm, medals of the states; Leonel Panosh, tokens of the 18th century; Thomas McDaniel, transportation tokens.

Pancho Villa Coins

The city of Chihuahua, Mexico struck silver coins under the authority of Pancho Villa in 1913.

Cuban Paper Money

Prior to 1898, paper money for Cuba was printed in Spain.

Belgian Coins Struck In Many Metals

Modern Belgian coins have been struck in a variety of metals as indicated by the above illustrations of coins. Argent is silver and cuiivre is copper. The Belgian franc, consisting of 100 centimes, is worth about two cents in American money. At top, third from left, the 50 franc silver coin commemorates the Brussels World Fair of 1958.

Illinois Couple Held Captive For Two Hours

Three hooded intruders kept an Olivet, Ill., area couple bound for about two hours recently while the trio ransacked the combination farm home and antique shop in search of valuable coins.

Frank Canaday, 69, and his 64-year-old wife were bound with clothesline rope, lamp cord and tape in their bedroom while the burly robbers carted off $1,700 worth of antique guns, about $65 in cash from Canaday's billfold and a set of Indian head cents and other old guns.

One of the trio, all of whom were reported as unarmed threatened to kill the Canadays.

Mrs. Canaday said he demanded a collection of old gold coins they said they knew the couple had.

"When I told him we didn't have the gold coins anymore," she said, "he threatened to kill me and my husband."

Mrs. Canaday said, however, she was untied long enough to show them in the antique shop's ledger that the gold coins had been sold.

"I was afraid they were going to kill us anyway—regardless of what I told them," the farm wife related to deputies.

The robbers entered the home, a half mile south of Olivet and another half-mile west of State Route 1, about 2 a.m.

Phone wires had been cut outside before the trio entered, deputies said.

Mrs. Canaday said when she was first awakened she glanced through a window and saw the dark shadow of a car parked several yards down the road from the home.

"I lay still as I could when they left, but never heard the engine start," she added.

The men were described as short and stockily built and wearing topcoats.

Canaday and his wife are known throughout the Danville area for their collections of antiques and activities as dealers.

Neighbors said the couple, who also operate a farm, started out collecting antiques as a hobby before they turned the interest into a business.

Munroe Speaks On Colonials

Hector Munroe spoke on colonial coins at a recent meeting of the White Lake Coin club of Montague, Mich.

Munroe, president of the Holland, Mich., Coin Club, is well known throughout Michigan for his talks on early U. S. coins.

LOOKING FOR THAT CERTAIN COIN??

An excellent way to find it is to send me your want list, and let me price the ones you need in the grade you need them. Or you might like my appraisal service. If you can spend $10.00 or more a month on your collection, send me a list of the coins you need, the grade, and the amount you'd like to spend a month. I'll send you a selection of which you keep the ones that please you, remit promptly, and in another month, you'll receive another selection.

THE SAINT-GAUDENS MEDAL . . .

is fast becoming the most interesting numismatic item offered to collectors in many years. With its inherent appeal to coin collectors, it is bound to become "hard to get" before long. Even collectors not interested in coins, are buying the Saint-Gaudens because they like and appreciate beautiful things.

PLATINUM ISSUE:

We are now prepared to supply the Saint-Gaudens medal in a very limited issue, on special order only, in pure platinum. Platinum Saint-Gaudens will be the same size and thickness as the Bronze and Silver, and weigh close to a pound. The serial number on the edge, will be in Roman Numerals, in keeping with the Saint-Gaudens tradition. The price is $1750.00, which is very reasonable when you compare with other platinum medals. Platinum medals will be housed in a special custom made case.

DEALERS WHO WISH TO STOCK . . .

the Saint-Gaudens medal, may order 10 or more of the bronze at the usual coin supply discount off the retail price of $5.50. Write for price on the silver medals in lots of 5 to 10. We are not selling over 10 silver medals to any dealer or collector, as we want COIN MEDALS to reach as many collectors as possible.

COIN APPROVALS:

We have a large stock of all kinds of nice coins and paper money for collectors, from Colonials and Half Cents to Gold Coins, Foreign Gold Coins and Silver Dollars, from Good to gem Proof conditions.

We send these coins on approval to collectors who will send us a list of the coins they need, with a $10.00 or $20.00 Deposit if common condition coins are wanted, or a Deposit of $50.00 if scarcer Unc., Proof, or gold coins are wanted.

The deposit will be held to your account, and in the meantime we send you coins on approval, on which you pay $10.00 or more a month. We send more coins each time you make a payment. You can apply the deposit when you make final settlement, or I will refund anytime you ask. We handle coins on a close margin, and you are assured of good value in anything sent to you on approval, but of course you can return anything not wanted.

Exhibit Draws Wide Interest

Fresno, Calif., Numismatic Society's one million dollar coin exhibit at the October Fresno District Fair drew wide interest throughout central and southern California, according to a recent report.

David MacDonald, a Fresno State College student, displayed his collection of denarii of every Roman emperor from the birth of Christ to the death of the last apostle.

Everett Ostrom of Kingsburg, Calif., exhibited a collection of Swedish copper plate money. "These 'coins,'" he commented, "are fashioned from nearly pure copper. My biggest one is a foot square and weighs about eight pounds. You can't even get stuff like this from Sweden anymore."

William Y. Lee, a past president of the Fresno club, said that interest in numismatics has grown to such an extent in the Fresno area that there are now four full-time coin dealers in the city, as well as many part-time dealers.

Another barometer of this interest is the Fresno Numismatic Society itself, which has grown from a club of 18 members to nearly 250 in six years.

The club meets on the first Friday and third Tuesday of each month at the Knights of Pythias Hall, Fresno, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Chippewa Coin Club Elects New Officers

The annual meeting of the Chippewa Valley Coin Club, Eau Claire, Wis., was held recently at the Eau Claire YMCA with the main item of business scheduled to be an election of officers.

It was also reported that Carl Falk would speak to the group on "collecting nickels." The meeting was open to the public.

A public auction was also held recently.

COINEW solves the Coin Cleaning problem once and for all!

COINEW IS A REAL SHOCKER! COINEW is a clear liquid. (No artificial coloring to deceive.) It is simple and quick in its action. YOU JUST DIP THE COIN . . . THAT'S ALL! Rinse it off and there you are. Filthy uncirculated coins once again reflect the bright frostiness they had when they first left the mint. But that's not all. COINEW does a dandy job on XF and AU coins as well. Believe it or not, it works beautifully on any kind of coin. Try it on gold, silver, nickel or copper. Even zinc coins snap back to their original beauty. What more can we say? You have to see it work on your own coins to believe it.

Large Cent Enthusiast Tells Of Specialty Merit

By Eugene F. Stotts
A.N.A. 19770

Collectors who have been searching for some branch of numismatics that offers a challenge, as well as a lifetime of interest, should look to the U.S. Large Cents with its 927 die varieties. This is a series that will increase in value with each passing year, and a series that will surely keep one interested.

A complete date collection will be something that a collector will be justly grateful for, and proud. It won't be easy nor accomplished in a few weeks, but having accomplished this a collector will have a display worth showing.

Large Cents should be in the nicest possible condition that your purse will allow. That will prevent purchasing a poor specimen and then later on having to buy a nicer one, thus leaving you with an inferior duplicate to dispose of.

Always try to obtain a well-centered, light brown cent that is free of scratches and nicks, and well struck. The bright red uncirculated cents are of course the nicest, but for the beginner the price for such specimens is somewhat out of reach, even for the "later dates".

An interested collector who begins his collection of the "old U.S. coppers" will soon find that there has been more numismatic literature written on this series than on any other series. A copy of "Penny Whimsy", written by Dr. William H. Sheldon, with the collaboration of Dorothy I. Paschal and Walter Breen is a "must" to be read and studied by the beginner and advanced student as well. This book covers the cents from 1793 to 1814. On the "later" dates, a copy of Howard R. Newcomb's fine book "United States Copper Cents—1816 to 1857" is money well spent and richly rewarding.

The many different early dies were all cut by hand. Some of these dies didn't hold up well and created rarities by breaking down and being discarded after only a very few coins were struck.

For instance in the year 1794, over 60 different die varieties exist, some quite rare. Most collectors start their collection of Large Cents with this year of 1794, as the 1793's are priced a little beyond the beginner's pocketbook. Of course, there is always the hope of obtaining a 1793 in the future. That is part of the sport in your large cent collecting.

All the early cents in nice condition are in demand, and rightly so. Any money spent for them will always return a dividend to the collector money-wise over the years.

Many "old timers" will exclaim that they can remember having seen a few of the large coppers in circulation in their younger days. And a collector of large cents, upon showing their coins to the non-collectors, will often hear the remark, "why I never knew the Mint made those". Most people have seen the Flying Eagle and the Indians, and therefore don't get quite so excited upon viewing a collection of them.

As your large cent collection grows, so will your interest. There is nothing quite as fascinating as making a purchase of a few large cents and then checking them for die varieties with your reference books on the subject.

Try it and see!

MAIL BID SALE NO. 103

NOW BEING PREPARED

Closing date the latter part of January. If you wish to bid, I will appreciate your request at once so I will know how many catalogs to print. They will go in the mail the last week of December.

My sales are "Bid by Mail" exclusively, every bidder has an equal chance.

There will be many, many rare and choice items in this sale which obviously are singles. An auction is the fairest way of making them available to collectors. The sale will include:

SELECT UNCIRCULATED MINT SETS from 1940 to 1960.

COLONIALS AND HALF CENTS, many of the Half Cents Sharp Uncirculated.

A VERY EXTENSIVE OFFERING of Large Cents 1793 thru 1857. Varieties attributed to Sheldon and Newcomb including several Rarities 6 & 7. There will be at least a dozen 1793 including both Chain and Wreath in EF and 30 or 40 1794 from Good to Uncirculated. Every collector of Large Cents will have a wide choice.

EVERY DATE AND MINTMARK of Small Cents 1856-1956 in Uncirculated or Proof. These were assembled by a discriminating collector years ago. The 1856 Flying Eagle is a choice Uncirculated, the 1877 is Proof. The Lincolns are top quality, including Proofs 1903-1916.

THE NICKELS vary from Good to Proof, the 1877 is Proof and many of the early years of Buffalos are sharp strike Uncirculated.

THERE WILL BE TWO CENTS, Three Cents & Half Dimes Circulated, Uncirculated and Proof.

BUST AND SITTING LIBERTY DIMES, Quarters, Half Dollars and Dollars with many Uncirculated before 1858 and Proof after 1857.

THE BARBER "LIBERTY HEAD" series will vary from Good to Proof including Scarce Dates & Mintmarks. The 1913 Dime, Quarter and Half in Proof.

EVERY DATE and Mintmark of Standing Liberty Half Dollar in Choice Uncirculated, some of the toughies such as 1919-S are Gems.

THE MORGAN & PEACE DOLLAR offering will be unusually good, for example the 1893-S strictly Uncirculated. I had a "Want" on this one once for seven years.

ALSO IN THE SALE: Commemoratives, Tokens, So-Called Dollars, Gold, Odd & Curious, Currency, Coins of the world in copper, silver & gold.

ALTOGETHER OVER 3,000 lots including lots for investors.

Again, if you expect to bid, please request your catalog right away.

Giant Theft Hits Winnipeg; Organized Gang Suspected

The third of a series of coin thefts in Greater Winnipeg, Canada, within the last two months has Canadian police baffled. It is reported to be the largest coin theft in Canadian history.

Stolen recently from the home of Raymond Coll, the collection is valued at approximately $20,000. Police have refused to release any information on the daring daylight theft.

Among the stolen coins were a 1921 Canadian 50-cent piece in "fine" condition, valued at nearly $2,500 and a 1921 Canadian "brilliant uncirculated" five-cent piece which was worth an estimated $15.00.

The first indication following the theft was that an organized gang specialized in coin thefts was in operation in the Greater Winnipeg area. Local coin collectors however, said that the St. Vital theft was likely a "one-man job."

The former president of the Manitoba Coin Club, Coll told the press he attended a banquet held at the Fort-Garry Hotel and displayed parts of his collection there during the "Coinerama" show.

Following the show, Mr. Coll took his coins home, where he placed them in the special cabinet in the bedroom of his St. Vital home.

It was believed that the thief entered the Coll home during the day by forcing the rear door open with a metal bar and found his way into the bedroom where the coins were kept.

"He definitely knew what he

Kansas Affair Attracts Crowd

Approximately 1200 persons attended the first annual Coin Show conducted by the McPherson, Kan., Coin Club on October 28 and 29, according to a report from Leo Skellenger, general chairman.

Twenty-one dealers were represented at the bourse, and were said to be pleased with business results.

A highlight of the auction was the sale of a 1903-O silver dollar in fine condition for $105, Skellenger said.

Other convention officials included Marvin Withers, Don Dannelley, and Norman Cox.

Quebec Club Plans Auction

More than 450 lots were scheduled to be sold at the semi-annual public auction of L'Association des Numismates de St. Hyacinthe, scheduled for Sunday, November 19, at the Centre Notre Dame, Quebec, starting at 1:30 p.m.

For this auction, only 10 per cent of the lots required minimum bids, according to the announcement. The doors were to open at 12:30 so that the material might be examined. It had been on display since Saturday, November 11, at the Pharmacie Lanctot.

In addition to the auction, there were to be exhibits and a bourse for supplies for coin collectors.

was doing," said Mr. Coll. "He didn't touch anything else in the house and there was no sign of any searching done," he said.

The Canadian five-cent piece stolen is one of only three known in Canada and despite its high value, the piece cannot be sold to coin dealers in this continent.

The 50-cent piece, which was in a "fine" condition when stolen, is one of the 25 known 1921 pieces in Canada.

Also stolen were a complete set of Canadian silver dollars valued at $300, a complete set of Canadian silver five cents valued at nearly $3,500 along with a 1946 Newfoundland five-cent piece worth about $200, and 1893 "round top" Canadian dime valued at $400.

An "Oval O" 1880 Canadian large one-cent piece valued at $125 was also stolen with an 1885 Newfoundland small five-cent piece, which is also a rare item.

The face value of the Canadian silver set, which consists of 472 pieces of silver coins, is estimated at $116 in Canadian decimal coinage. As a collectors' item, the set was valued at more than $10,000.

Ohio Collectors Stage Cent Hunt

A recent meeting of the Wellsville, Ohio, Coin Club was highlighted with a "Cent Hunt," according to a report by club secretary Doris J. Geer.

Club vice president Fred Huston, who was in charge of meeting, brought a $50 bag of cents which was divided among the 14 members present for the "Cent Hunt."

Mrs. Geer advised that nothing unusual was found but "maybe next time someone will find a 1909-S VDB." She said that Huston plans bringing bags of other denominations to future meetings of the club.

San Diego Club Adopts By-Laws

Over 150 members and guests attended the recent meeting of the San Diego Numismatic Society, Inc., reports Harvey L. Rose, secretary.

Rose said this was an organization meeting to adopt new by-laws, articles of incorporation, and to officially become a California non-profit corporation.

San Diego club meets on the first Monday of each month at the Vasa Hall, 3094 El Cajon avenue, San Diego, at 8 p.m.

Allegheny-Kiska Club Plans Possible Show

Plans for a possible coin show were discussed at a recent meeting of the Allegheny-Kiska Valley Numismatic Society, New Kensington, Pa., it was reported by Radion A. Litvinovich, secretary-treasurer.

The club's membership drive is scheduled to end on December 14, with a special award being presented to the person bringing in the most new members.

Andorra Coin Struck; Real Interest In Swiss Sale

By Hans M. F. Schulman

(Hans Schulman gives further sidelights on the Andorra commemorative coin, and on the country itself in this section of his column, which he sent from Lisbon after visiting the little republic in the Pyrenees) Big news, is, of course, that the Andorra commemorative coins have become a reality, and I shall report later as to how collectors might be able to obtain it.

The meeting at which all problems were solved concerning the striking of the coin took place in the 800 year-old Parliament building in Andorra's capital, Andorra la Vella.

Andorra is becoming more lively because tourists are now being attracted from all over the world. As a result, new hotels, restaurants, and other tourist facilities are being rapidly constructed. And land in the capital is becoming nearly as dear as open space on New York's Fifth Avenue.

In fact, so many tourists came to this tiny country that tent towns were erected, and places for open-air dancing also became very popular.

There was also discussion at the Parliament meetings in Andorra about other coins being struck, but let's watch the Charlemagne commemorative first.

From here I went down to Barcelona, Spain, where the Calico firm, a famous name in numismatics the world over, was being modernized. When the job is finished, their landmark at Plaza del Angel 2 will be the most beautiful coin establishment in the world.

They were also very busy with the new A.N.E., Asociacion Espanola de Numismatica sale for November and December for which the new catalogue was just published. If you want a copy of

Georgia Group Planning Club

Coin collectors in the Glennville, Ga., area were slated to hold a meeting on November 15 for the purpose of forming a coin club. The session was to take place at Edna Mae and Joe's Truck Terminal on U.S. Highway 301.

Early in October, a preliminary meeting had been held which showed prospects for a club seemed to be good, it was reported by Joe W. Minnier.

Interested collectors in the area are invited to contact Minnier at the terminal for information regarding the next meeting of the group.

this beautiful catalogue, listing many beautiful Spanish and Roman coins, write to Calico at 2 Plaza del Angel, Barcelona, Spain.

Xavier Calico, as new president of the International Association of Professional Numismatists, was busy preparing an extensive program for the organization's many members.

Fernando was busy with the photographs for the doubloon book which is being prepared by the Calico firm.

Sol, Vivian and little Lee Kaplan of Cincinnati were on hand when I arrived and they were pleased with their journey. Abner and Gladys Kreisberg, from California, had just left for the island of Majorca, and we missed them.

A night flight to Madrid brought me to the famous Gran Via (now called Calle Jose Antonio) at five in the morning. In the Spanish capital, I met many notables in numismatics, including Lopez-Chavez, who said that his double book is already out, and selling well.

The first rain on this journey awaited me in Lisbon, Portugal, but I enjoyed the short flight in the company of the Thornton's who operate the Kai Tai Polynesian restaurant in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, one of the most famous restaurants in the U.S.

Carlos de Naranha, with his friend Capita, of Burnay Ltd., took care of the numismatic life in Lisbon and the Rua do Ouro (the "gold street") was still "covered" with gold.

Cesar Almevela and Pedro Badalha Reis were both very active and it was a pleasure to see all those old friends again.

In the middle of the gold street, who should be looking for coins? Jack Pressman of Beverly Hills, Calif., who actually seemed to be enjoying the rainy weather.

(This part of Hans Schulman's column came in a special dispatch following the important coin auction held at Lucerne in mid-October. Sponsored by Bank Leu & Co. of Zurich, it attracted collectors and dealers from many parts of the world—Editor).

I arrived in Lucerne just in time to be received by an avalanche of intercontinental telephone calls indicating last minute bids from the U.S.A., Australia and even the Philippines. Even though it was early in the morning, I found Leo Young and his sweet wife from Oakland, Calif., in the hall talking to David Spink of London. Edwin Shapiro from New York was giving the auction catalog a last minute glance, while Jean Vinchon from Paris and Mario Ratto from Milan

Yule Show Club Project

The Button-Gwinnet Coin Club of Lawrenceville, Ga., has scheduled a special benefit Christmas show for December 9 called the Charity-Rama Christmas Coin Show, reports Nick G. Pools, club officer.

Set for Lawrenceville's American Legion Hall, the program will begin at 10 a.m. and will continue for the rest of the day and evening. Proceeds of the show will be used to help as many underprivileged children as possible in the Lawrenceville area.

Bourse tables will be available to both dealers and collectors at $5 each. Reservations may be made with Jimmy McDonald, 5405 Station E, Atlanta, or with Kenneth Frith at Box 4045, Decatur, Ga. A 590-lot coin auction will be held from 1 to 4 p.m.

Roy Payne of the Atlanta Coin Shop is preparing a special display at Lawrenceville's First National Bank for the purpose of calling the citizens' attention to the benefit program.

Cousin Jacques and I had breakfast and then we entered the attractive suite in the main hall of the Hotel Schweizerhof where the auction was to be held, and where auctioneer Adolph Hess and Bank Leu & Co. would sell over a quarter of a million francs worth of coins during the next two days.

The Schweizerhof, which is an old landmark in Lucerne, affords the visitor a breathtaking view of Lake Lucerne and the snow-covered mountains in the distance.

Buyers were seated around a horseshoe-shaped table, each one being assigned to a designated seat. The table was large enough so that catalogs, books and papers could be conveniently placed on it. Languages spoken around the table, included French, German, Spanish and English.

Herman Rosenberg was the pleasant and cheerful auctioneer, a bit slow maybe for American standards, but he was charming, and alert, and ably assisted by Dr. Leo Mildenburg and E. H. Graf from Bank Leu.

In two days time, the 1,039 lots, mostly gold and classic European coins and medals, were sold. High point was the sale of the Polish 40 ducat gold piece of 1621 that brought $8,000, double the estimated value.

The morning sessions were interrupted with coffee breaks, while the afternoon sessions were halted for tea and cakes.

At the conclusion of the auction, a dinner party was held for all the participants, their families and friends. It was amusing to see those who fought each other in the bidding sit together, talk, laugh, and simply enjoy each other's company.

Once the auction is over, the tension is gone, and everybody's each other's friend, at least until the next sale.

Club Honors Founders At Dinner Meet

Charter members of the Albuquerque, N.M., Coin Club were honored at a recent dinner meeting at Eby's Restaurant, Albuquerque, reports Edna P. Fitz, secretary. The dinner marked the club's 100th meeting.

R. C. Jackson, president, traced the club's growth from its founding in 1953 until today when it has over 100 active members on its rolls.

M. Ralph Brown served as master of ceremonies for the affair, and he introduced Mrs. Marianne Watson, who was presented with Life Membership No. 1 in recognition of her efforts in founding the club.

Ernest Hill recalled the club's early history; C. E. Katzenburger solicited ideas by which the Albuquerque group can improve and grow even further.

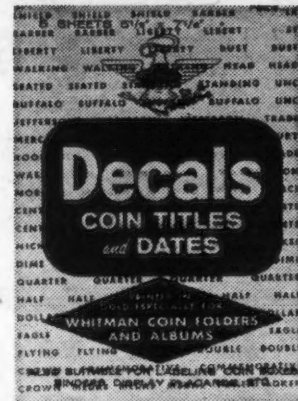

Joe Jameson, a junior member, served as auctioneer for the 92-lot sale which followed the dinner.

Illinois Club Hears Wizard

Lincoln Land Coin Club of Springfield, Ill., held its recent meeting in the Anniversary Room of the St. Nicholas Hotel, according to a report.

Ezlie R. Brown, nationally known memory wizard, entertained the group. He also explained methods by which greater memory power can be developed.

Lincoln Land club meets on the first Saturday of every month at 7 p.m. at the St. Nicholas Hotel, Fourth and Jefferson, in the heart of downtown Springfield. New members are welcomed.

Whitman's Decal Labels

Pressure-Sensitive Labels

New Coin Aids Available For Folder, Album Caption

Two new collector aids, pressure sensitive labels and decal labels, intended for use as individual captions on Whitman coin folders and albums, are being released by the Whitman Publishing Company, according to an announcement by Kenneth E. Bressett, numismatic editor of the Whitman firm.

The new aids can also be used in labeling coin boxes, charts, display placards, plastic holders and the like. Collectors may now bring their present albums up to date and extend their usefulness into the future.

By inserting the proper words found in these labels, one may identify special coins in his albums. A wide selection of phrases and dates is included in each series of Pressure-Sensitive of Decal Labels.

The nationally advertised price of these labels is $1 per packet.

Whitman also gives a hint of more to come: Plans are being made to add a standard decal package of dates and titles for use in collections of foreign coins.

Club Plans Sale Soon

Triple Cities Coin Club of Johnson City, N. Y., has scheduled an auction sale for December 5 at the Johnson City Moose Club Auditorium, 19 Arch street.

Edward L. Lenga of Johnson City has been selected as the auctioneer for this 204-lot sale, which consists primarily of U.S. coins, plus a sprinkling of foreign gold coins.

One of the prize items on the auction list is an uncirculated 1888 Newfoundland $2 gold piece valued at an estimated $36.

Among the U. S. coins being offered are a series of nine half-cents, and a number of key date small cents, including a 1931-S Lincoln in extremely fine.

Copies of the auction list may be obtained from Lenga at 14 Greenridge street, Johnson City.

Dearborn Club Sponsors Show At Youth Center

It was estimated that more than 2,000 collectors and visitors attended the first Coinarama sponsored by the Dearborn, Mich., Coin Club held recently at the Dearborn Youth Center.

Featured exhibits at the Coinarama were those of Irving Moskowitz and George Hatie who entered in the non-competitive category. First place trophy went to William Hawks for his collection of foreign coins. Frank Webb Jr. took second place with a U.S. type set, and third place was awarded to Richard Tomczak for a display of Lincoln cents.

The two day affair was highlighted by an auction each day. Both were attended by approximately 160 persons and grossed over $2,000.

Officers of the Dearborn club are Donald Squire, president; Douglas Smart, vice president; Charles Lange, treasurer; Richard Tomczak, secretary and editor of the club paper "Scripta"; John Bilecke, sergeant at arms; Alice Novak, librarian-historian; and Robert Stiver and Harry Dusky, board of directors.

A nomination of new officers will be held at the December meeting of the group.

Oklahoma-Kansas Society Elects Koester President

The recently concluded 1961 convention of the Oklahoma-Kansas Numismatic Society attracted a registration of approximately 200 collectors, with an additional 500 noncollectors viewing the many exhibits, and was highlighted with the advancement of Glenn L. Koester, Wichita, Kans., from first vice president to the presidency.

"It was a successful show, one that will boost coin collecting over the Mid-Continent region," was how collectors attending characterized the show. The bourse tables were crowded with collectors and virtually every trader promised to "come back."

Koester succeeds William H. Elliott, Tulsa, who organized and directed the convention as its general chairman.

Other officers chosen for the coming year include George Bishop, Oklahoma City, vice president; Tom Galey, Tulsa, and Loman Salisbury, Wichita, trustees. A holdover trustee is Earl Seibert of Hutchinson, Kansas.

Awards were made in eight classes, as follows: U.S.—First place to M. C. Sauer of Oklahoma City; second place to L. L. Corn, Bartlesville, and third place to Earl E. Thomas of Enid.

Foreign: W. G. Miller, Wichita, first; John W. Dunn, Norman, second, and Dr. C. E. Webber, Tulsa, third.

Ancient: L. M. Davis, Edna, Kans., first; Frank Silva, Bethany, second, and Stanley Rupert, San Antonio, Texas third.

Paper Money: R. W. Cooper Hutchinson, first; Milton Landth, Wichita, second, and J. B. Surbeck, Oklahoma City, third.

Miscellaneous: William Dale Oklahoma City, first; Boeing Coin Club, Wichita, second, and Mrs. Groski, Noel, Mo. third. Medals: Mrs. Edwin Bergelet Van Nuys, Calif., first; Harold Fortney, Wichita, second, and W. H. Elliott, Tulsa third.

Special Display: S. W. Freeman Newport, Ark., and the Osage Coin Club of Pawhuska, Okla., took first, second and third, in displays by coin clubs.

The 1962 convention will be held on October 19, 20 and 21 at the Broadway Hotel in Wichita, with Harold Fortney as general chair-

Club Sees Slides

A program of slides on U. S. silver commemorative coins was featured at the September meeting of the Lorain Numismatic Association, Lorain, Ohio.

Plans call for the 1963 convention to be held at Oklahoma City, with George Bishop as general chairman.

Woman Brutally Attacked; Jewels, Rare Coins Taken

Three well dressed robbers tricked Mrs. O. W. Blum of Cleveland, Ohio, by telling her that they had medical supplies for her husband, a Cleveland doctor, to gain entry into the Blum residence where they brutally beat Mrs. Blum and escaped with nearly $10,000 in rare coins, cash and jewels.

"Only the night before my husband said he doubted whether he had enough flu vaccine for his heavy schedule," Mrs. Blum said, recalling the terrifying experience.

When the men called at the door, Mrs. Blum assumed it was someone delivering the needed vaccine and admitted the men. When she asked for a pencil to sign a non-existent paper one of the men pulled a gun and said, "Shut up, this is a holdup."

In their escape, the men dropped a diamond pendant valued at $400.

Theft of a number of rare silver coins with a monetary value of $150 was reported to Shreveport, La., police by Jimmy Vascoe. No estimate was made of the market value of the coins.

A coin collection valued at several thousand dollars was stolen from the home of Harold C. Blanchard of Cambridge, Mass., recently.

Approximately 40 coins, part of a collection owned by Harold Wilmarth of Maryville, Mo., were taken recently from his home. Wilmarth told police that the coins are valued at $150, and include a 1916-D Mercury dime, and an Iowa Centennial piece.

Police chief George Spencer issued a lookout to all area coin collectors to report anyone trying to sell the coins, or to report any strangers trying to sell coins of any description.

A strongbox containing about $1,500 worth of rare coins and jewelry, plus $9 in cash, was taken recently from the home of Mrs. Amelia Hendricks of Tucson, Ariz.

Mrs. Hendricks told police the strongbox had been located in a

Coin Clubs Schedule Joint Dinner Meeting

Three coin clubs in Maryland and Pennsylvania were scheduled to hold a joint banquet at Walkersville, Md., early in November, according to a report from Joseph Rexroad, Frederick, Md., secretary of the Libertytown, Md., Coin Club, one of the three co-operating groups.

The other two clubs were the Montgomery County Coin Club of Silver Spring Md., and the Waynesboro, Pa., Coin Club.

Foreign Bills From All Over The World.

This may be your last chance to obtain representative foreign bills from countries that are being absorbed, overrun, combined and wiped out. We have a large stock of certain issues and in many instances small supply so we would suggest that in any country not listed that you might inquire about, send inquiry in duplicate. We have described the bills so that "N" means

New and "O" means used but in very fine condition.

World Coinage Includes Exotic List Of Materials

Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of articles on "Money, what it is and how we come by it" by George C. Vanderwende, vice chairman of the People-to-People Numismatic Committee of the American Numismatic Association. Considerable time was spent in research work to make this series possible, and although the facts are known by some numismatists, it is certain that many collectors have no knowledge of many facts pointed out by author Vanderwende.

By George S. Vanderwende
Dunn Loring, Va.

Before the advent of what we know today as money, all business was transacted by barter. As man increased his productivity, the use of barter became too cumbersome. For example a merchant had little use for a cow; however, the farmer had use of items for sale by the merchant. To arrive at an equitable medium of exchange items of some degree of rarity became a medium of exchange. The examples of odd and curious items used as mediums of exchange is quite lengthy. A few for example were dogs teeth in the Polynesian Islands, also stones from millers. Tobacco pressed into cakes were used for trade in the early American colonies between the white settlers and the Indians. Animal hides were another form of medium of exchange.

As these items became more numerous, other items had to be found. Cattle was used in Germany, leather in Rome, Sugar in the West Indies, shells in Siam, lead in Burma, platinum in Russia, tin in Great Britain, iron and nails in Scotland, brass in China, and finally copper, silver and gold the world over.

The Bible mentions gold as a medium of exchange about 4,000 years before Christ, or about 6000 years ago. Genesis, Chapter II 10, 11 and 12, Says "And a river went out of Eden, and the land of Havilah, where there is gold, and the gold of that land is good." Later in Genesis IV 22, we find "And Zillah she bare Tubal-Cain, an instructor of every artificer in brass and iron". Tubal-Cain, son of Iamech, a descendant of Cain, apparently was the first man to shape metal into articles of use and probably was our very first goldsmith and jeweler.

Silver is first mentioned in the Bible in the time of Abraham, Genesis, Chapter XIII: 2, "Abraham was very rich in cattle, in silver and gold." The earliest mention of money occurs in Genesis XIV: 12, 13, 23; "He that is born in the house or bought with money." In Genesis XXIV 22,30, is described how valuation by weight was used "The man took a golden earring of half a shekel weight and two bracelets for her hands of ten shekels weight in gold". A shekel was the weight, and as it did not have equal weight, it was weighed and from this weighing originated the term shekel in coinage. The word Shekel in Hebrew meaning to weigh. The Old Testament enlightens us that the shekels were of three different metals; gold, silver and brass.

From the jewelry of these early times came the idea of wearing one's wealth in bands and rings, precious metals which in turn developed into their use as money. Ring money was found in Great Britain when the Romans under Caesar invaded that country. It had degenerated from gold and brass to iron before the era of English Kings coining money.

Gold and silver lumps were used. There being no certainty of the purity of the metal, size and quantity being inconvenient, a die stamp was designed to be impressed by hand on the lump, thereby attesting to its purity and value. So originated the first acts of coinage, generally attributed in ancient history to Lydia, a country celebrated for its mineral wealth in gold. The gold lumps were stamped on one side with the symbol of a lion. Silver in these crude lumps were first stamped on the island of Aegina, where the Greeks stamped a turtle over 700 years before the Christian Era.

From this crude beginning, the more common medium of exchange became money. The Greeks developed the most beautiful coins the world has ever seen and have never been equalled since. In addition to their beauty, they had integrity as to purity.

The exactness of the engravers art has left us with no uncertainty as to existence, appearance and historic evidence of the times. The Romans improved upon the method of coinage and their evidence gives a complete record of the ruling families of the Caesars.

A Personal Message From Q. David Bowers and James F. Ruddy

Welcome to our special supplement of the Coin World! As Dick Johnson and other members of the Coin World staff can attest, many long hours went into the preparation of this special feature. We hope that you will find the result to be worth the effort!

We are personally familiar through correspondence with about ten or fifteen thousand of the eighty thousand plus readers of the Coin World. To our past customers we need no introduction. The people who know us will order coins with confidence from the listing to follow. Our reputation is our most important asset. We endeavor to treat others as we would like to be treated ourselves. Numismatics is not only a dollars and cents business with us... it is our main interest.

If you have not corresponded with us before, we would like to make your acquaintance. We invite you to order any items of interest in the pages to follow. We will give you a guarantee of satisfaction on any items purchased. Any item may be returned within three days of receipt for a full and prompt refund. To eliminate the possibility of any controversy, you may return a coin for any reason whatsoever. Our record is quite satisfactory to date... less than 1% of the coins we ship are returned.

For our research and for the convenience of our customers, we have one of the finest American numismatic libraries in existence today. Numismatic research has always been one of our specialties. This research has not been without its rewards. Many new and important varieties have been discovered or identified on our premises. If you have any questions or inquiries concerning early United States coins, particularly in the 1700's and 1800's, please write to us.

As you look through the following pages you will find coins of all denominations, types and price ranges... something for everyone. Whether you specialize in half cents or double eagles or are assembling a type set, we are sure you will find many items to your liking. You may wish to save this Empire supplement for future reference and ordering. Prices will remain in effect during November and December, or until the items are sold.

We will look forward to making your acquaintance through the mail. Write to us soon.

TERMS OF SALE

1. Enclose remittance with order. If possible, list alternate choices. Alternate choices will only be used in instances when the first item(s) requested have been sold. As many items are one of a kind, the use of alternate choices eliminates the mutual disappointment of an unfilled order. If you are ordering a coin for a type set and the date is not of major importance, just indicate the type desired as your second choice and we will substitute a coin of equal or greater value if the first item has been sold.
2. There is no minimum order. Please include an extra 50c for handling on orders under $5.00. An immediate refund will be given for any part of an order unfilled. We do not issue credit slips.
3. Orders to all points over 300 miles distant will be sent via air mail. Postage and private insurance costs on all orders will be paid by us.
4. Satisfaction is guaranteed on all purchases. Fewer than 1% of the coins we ship are returned to us. Any item not satisfactory for any reason may be returned within three days for a full refund.
5. Order from Empire Coin Company with confidence. We are justly proud of our fine reputation for fair and honest transactions.
6. We have included an order blank which may be cut out for your convenience in ordering.

THIS SUPPLEMENT IS A NUMISMATIC FIRST!

This special Empire supplement is the first private supplement in the history of any numismatic magazine or newspaper. To our knowledge it is also the first multi-colored (three colors plus black) advertisement to appear in any numismatic publication.

PATTERN COINS AND COLONIALS

This supplement contains a selection of United States gold, silver and copper coins from our inventory. Due to space limitations, we could not include pattern coins or colonial coins.

We have the finest stock of United States patterns in the country. We have prepared a special priced catalog of patterns that will be sent to interested persons requesting it.

Our stock of colonial coins is second to none. It is replete with many "finest knowns", unlisted varieties and rare pieces. We are preparing a listing of colonials and hope to have it ready for inclusion of the next issue of our magazine, The Empire Review.

THE EMPIRE REVIEW

The Empire Review is our own magazine issued from three to five times per year, as time permits. Our last issue was dated August—September, 1961. Copy is now being prepared for the next issue, slated for publication in early January.

The Empire Review is printed on high quality coated paper and is profusely illustrated (our last issue, No. 14, contained over one hundred illustrations). It has been our policy to illustrate many of the rarer coins and die varieties, often with close-up photographs illustrating overdates, recuttings, and other interesting details. We have always honored requests for photographs appearing in our publications. As a result many have been used by Whitman Publishing Company and the leading numismatic newspapers and magazines.

The size of The Empire Review varies. Issue No. 14 was thirty-six pages from cover to cover.

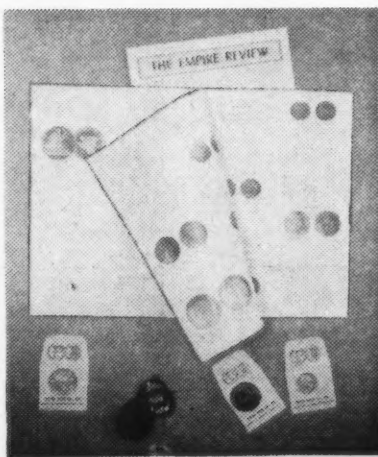

Each issue contains numismatic comments, news, a coin quiz, questions from readers column and an extensive presentation of priced coins for sale. As we have always stressed numismatic research and knowledge, you will find much useful information in the Empire Review that may not be obtained elsewhere. We have always believed that our best customers were numismatically educated customers.

In each issue is a research article of lasting value. Our last issue contained hitherto unpublished information (compiled by Walter Thompson) concerning the Confederate States of America's operation of the New Orleans Mint. Other contributors in the past have been such well-known numismatic authorities as Eric P. Newman, Kenneth Bressett and Walter Breen.

We charge a subscription fee of $1.00 for six issues to help defray the costs of making an address plate and preparing, printing and mailing the issues to you. Needless to say, our actual cost is much higher than the subscription fee. If you become an active customer, your subscription will be renewed with our compliments.

We would like to have you join America's leading numismatists as a subscriber to the Empire Review. If you would like to see a sample copy first, request this and we will send a free sample copy of issue No. 15 when it is ready.

We would like to mention here that the informational material and the coins for sale in the Empire Review are mainly choice United States coins before 1940... much the same nature as the material offered in this Coin World supplement. If you collect only recent rolls, proof sets and medals your subscription dollar would probably be better spent elsewhere.

RARE 1868 LARGE CENT

1868 Large cent, struck in copper. Probably only 10 or 15 were struck, judging from the rarity of the 1868 today. As desirable as the 1913 Liberty nickel or the 1885 trade dollar. In our opinion the investment and price appreciation potential of the 1868 large cent is tremendous. It is the rarest date copper coin ever produced at the Mint. In our opinion the 1868 large cent is potentially worth $25,000.00 to $50,000.00 judging by the prices of other American rarities such as the 1804 dollar and 1913 nickel. An outstanding opportunity for a wise investor or collector. Proof condition. $7,250.00

TERMS OF SALE

1. Enclose remittance with order. If possible, list alternate choices. Alternate choices will only be used in instances when the first item(s) requested have been sold. As many items are one of a kind, the use of alternate choices eliminates the mutual disappointment of an unfilled order. If you are ordering a coin for a type set and the date is not of major importance, just indicate the type desired as your second choice and we will substitute a coin of equal or greater value if the first item has been sold.
2. There is no minimum order. Please include an extra 50c for handling on orders under $5.00. An immediate refund will be given for any part of an order unfilled. We do not issue credit slips.
3. Orders to all points over 300 miles distant will be sent via air mail. Postage and private insurance costs on all orders will be paid by us.
4. Satisfaction is guaranteed on all purchases. Fewer than 1% of the coins we ship are returned to us. Any item not satisfactory for any reason may be returned within three days for a full refund.
5. Order from Empire Coin Company with confidence. We are justly proud of our fine reputation for fair and honest transactions.
6. We have included an order blank which may be cut out for your convenience in ordering.

HALF DOLLARS

The half dollar series has always appealed greatly to us. There are hundreds of different varieties, and with few exceptions, the cost is such that the average collector may secure a reasonably complete set. For the specialist, the half dollar series has many unrecorded die varieties, recent dates, varieties with and without drapery and overdates, including many major varieties that are unlisted in the Guidebook.

1795 Two leaves. Immensely popular as type coins. VG-F $87.50; F $115.00; VF $155.00; VF-EF	185.00

1805 VG $17.50; VF $29.50; EF	47.50
1806 over inverted 6. Quite rare. G+	39.50

PATTERN COINS AND COLONIALS

This supplement contains a selection of United States gold, silver and copper coins from our inventory. Due to space limitations, we could not include pattern coins or colonial coins. We have the finest stock of United States patterns in the country. We have prepared a special priced catalog of patterns that will be sent to interested persons requesting it. Our stock of colonial coins is second to none. It is replete with many "finest knowns", unlisted varieties and rare pieces. We are preparing a listing of colonials and hope to have it ready for inclusion of the next issue of our magazine, The Empire Review.

1840 Rev. of '38 with large letters. Extremely rare and seldom offered. Chronically undervalued at the present Guidebook price. We handle several 1796 and 1797 half dollars for every 1840 reverse of '38. We offer a choice AU specimen . . . a good buy for some intelligent collector	195.00

1844-O Double date. Beistle's description: "Double cut date, first date cut high above in the truncation of the base of Liberty, and then re-cut in present location. . . . Exceedingly rare." One of the most glaring engravers' errors ever produced at the mint. A must for your half dollar set. VG $49.50; Fine	65.00
1845-O No drapery. F	35.00
1846 Small date. BU	21.75
1846/5 Beistle 1aB. Here is Beistle's description of the obverse and reverse to which this coin conforms precisely: Obv. "Recut date over 1845. A fine die crack runs along the base of the date and then to the left, close to the lower left serif of 1, and to the end of base of Liberty, joining all stars on the left. Another runs from the center of the top of the foot, and out to the edge, at the fifth segment of milling from the toe." Rev. "This die is similar to letter A, except it is free from die cracks. The first vertical stripe on the left, has a hole in the stripe near the top, and an akidefect is over three bars on the left, also a number of fine defect lines are under the stripes on the right side of the shield. Very rare."
Intrigued by Beistle's description when first read it in 1954 we spent the ensuing years trying to locate a specimen. During that time none were offered for sale, and we could not find even one collector who possessed one, despite our printed requests in several publications that we would offer a nominal sum for the privilege of borrowing a specimen for examination and photography.
The specimen here offered, the only specimen known to us, is Brilliant Uncirculated with a full prooflike surface. Here is a half dollar which makes the 1838-O and 1853-O no arrows common by comparison. An 1847/6 half dollar in similar condition sold for $1000.00 seven years ago (Anderson-Dupont Sale, Stacks, Nov., 1954.) We have handled 1847/6 half dollars; before this we had never seen an 1846/5. ## THE EMPIRE REVIEW

The Empire Review is our own magazine issued from three to five times per year, as time permits. Our last issue was dated August-September, 1961. Copy is now being prepared for the next issue, slated for publication in early January.

The Empire Review is printed on high quality coated paper and is profusely illustrated (our last issue, No. 14, contained over one hundred illustrations). It has been our policy to illustrate many of the rarer coins and die varieties, often with close-up photographs illustrating overdates, recuttings, and other interesting details. We have always honored requests for photographs appearing in our publications. As a result many have been used by Whitman Publishing Company and the leading numismatic newspapers and magazines.

The size of The Empire Review varies. Issue No. 14 was thirty-six pages from cover to cover.

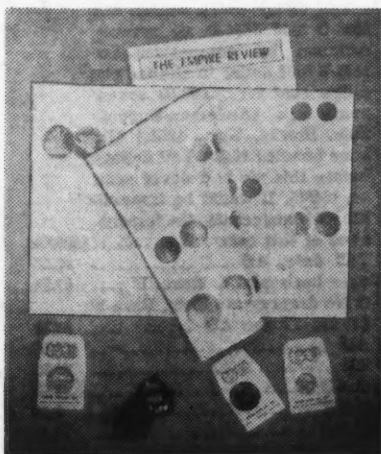

Each issue contains numismatic comments, news, a coin quiz, questions from readers column and an extensive presentation of priced coins for sale. As we have always stressed numismatic research and knowledge, you will find much useful information in the Empire Review that may not be obtained elsewhere. We have always believed that our best customers were numismatically educated customers.

In each issue is a research article of lasting value. Our last issue contained hitherto unpublished information (compiled by Walter Thompson) concerning the Confederate States of America's operation of the New Orleans Mint. Other contributors in the past have been such well-known numismatic authorities as Eric P. Newman, Kenneth Bressett and Walter Breen.

We charge a subscription fee of $1.00 for six issues to help defray the costs of making an address plate and preparing, printing and mailing the issues to you. Needless to say, our actual cost is much higher than the subscription fee. If you become an active customer, your subscription will be renewed with our compliments.

We would like to have you join America's leading numismatists as a subscriber to the Empire Review. If you would like to see a sample copy first, request this and we will send a free sample copy of issue No. 15 when it is ready.

We would like to mention here that the informational material and the coins for sale in the Empire Review are mainly choice United States coins before 1940... much the same nature as the material offered in this Coin World supplement. If you collect only recent rolls, proof sets and medals your subscription dollar would probably be better spent elsewhere.

Considering The Sale Of Your Collection? Think of EMPIRE First!

Much careful thought was given during the years in which your collection was formed. The same careful consideration should be given to the sale of your numismatic holdings. You want to realize the maximum price for your collection without undue difficulty.

During the past years we have handled many of the finest coins and collections to be offered for sale. These have ranged from small collections to some of the very largest. Included have been many of the greatest United States rarities.

Why have we been able to buy so many fine coins and collections? The willingness to pay a generous price is an important reason. We have always based our purchase offers on a first hand up-to-the-minute knowledge of coin market conditions. This, together with a large sales volume, has enabled us to operate on a smaller margin of profit.

Another factor of success in our coin buying is knowledge and experience. In addition to handling many collections of the regular copper, silver and gold United States series we have had extensive experience in the purchase and sale of the more diverse series . . . tokens, store cards, patterns, territorial gold, encased postage, colonials, etc. Empire owns one of the finest reference libraries extant covering all phases of American numismatics.

A third important factor is financial responsibility. We have always given prompt payment without delay, in both purchase and auction arrangements. We invite you to check our professional and financial references.

When you decide to sell your collection give us the opportunity to make an offer for its purchase. There will be no obligation whatever on your part. We believe you, like many other collectors, will like the way we do business. May we look forward to the pleasure of hearing from you?

Alert Dealer Nabs Suspect

E. B. Presma, address unknown, has been arrested by Canadian police and charged with being responsible for a recent $9,000 coin theft in Winnipeg, according to a report from Jim Culek, owner of the Crown Stamp and Coin Store, Toronto.

Presma offered some of the coins for sale at Culek's store where they were immediately recognized as part of the stolen collection. Culek made an excuse that he was going to the corner bank for more money, but instead notified police.

Culek said a description of the coins had been given to him by Mrs. Louise Graham, general secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Numismatic Association.

Omaha Show Club Milestone

The Omaha, Neb., Coin Club scheduled its second annual coin show for November 11 and 12 at Omaha's Fontenelle Hotel.

Feature attractions were to be a two-session auction, dealer's bourse and special prizes.

This annual show commemorated the 300th meeting of the Omaha club, reports William E. Vesio, president.

Omaha club was organized on May 6, 1934, and two months later became a regular corporate member of the American Numismatic Association, No. 4508.

In October 1935, the A.N.A. awarded the Omaha Coin Club a life membership, No. 36. There are approximately 175 active members on its rolls today.

Indiana Club Holds Bourse

Seymour, Ind., Numismatic Society held a special bourse night at a recent meeting, reports Phil Cordes Jr., president.

Each member had the opportunity of setting up a bourse table offering duplicate coins "for sale or trade."

Final plans are being made for a Christmas party set for December 13.

The Seymour club meets on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month in the Swope Art Gallery of the Seymour public library, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Florida Show Will Have Giant Currency Displays

The Florida Coin and Currency Show to be held January 16 through the 20th at the Lido Beach Casino, Sarasota Beach, Fla., will feature the greatest combined collection of currency ever assembled at a coin show, according to a report from general chairman, Earle T. Myers.

Grover Criswell of St. Petersburg Beach will exhibit a tremendous collection of Confederate Currency and Bonds as well as Confederate State Bonds, some of which have never been shown before.

Paul M. Whisonaut of Lincoln, N.C. will show his entire collection of U.S. Currency which fills more than 20 exhibit cases.

Dr. C. A. Bolt of N.C. will not only exhibit his collection of State Bank Notes but also one of the greatest array of $50 Gold Pieces and $50 Gold Slugs ever assembled, having recently acquired many more at The Durham N.C. show. These are a show in themselves.

John Pittman of Rochester, N. Y., not only will be the principal speaker at the banquet to be held on Tuesday night January 16, but he will also display some of the collection of extremely rare coins that he has acquired over many years of research. His knowledge of coins is unexcelled.

George Walton of Charlotte, N. C., will feature the prize of his collection, the 1913 V Nickel, along with complete sets of Charlotte and Dahlonega Gold as well as his private collection of Bechtlers Gold. Also complete sets of U.S. Fractional Currency, Encased Postage Stamps and proof sets from 1858 to 1950, plus Bank Notes of different states with odd bills from $1.25 to $9.00.

Earle T. Myers of The Mint, Highlands, N. C., will exhibit type sets of Uncirculated Fractional Currency as well as Uncut sheets, along with Broken Bank Notes of practically every state and a complete set of Uncut Sheets of Louisiana Currency including the famous Dix note which accounted for the South being called Dixie and the creation of the song

This show follows the F.U.N. show at Orlando Florida by one day and the Lido Beach Casino at Sarasota Beach was picked as the convention site in order to give the Bourse Dealers and the public alike a combined vacation in mid-winter, and a dip in the Gulf in mid-January.

Joe Chapman of Mulberry, Fla., is bourse chairman, and tables for the five day event are $40; however the opening day is for dealers only. The general chairman's address is 507 N. 22nd street, Tampa.

"GOD BLESS AMERICA"

1812 - SESQUICENTENNIAL - 1962

The new "Uncle Sam" commemorative medal is designed in the spirit of "something for our country." The time has come to talk turkey. Mr. K claims that history is on their side. To which we reply, "Man proposes - God disposes." America is the land of life, liberty and . . . also the pursuit of numismatics. Let's keep it that way! We prefer Freedom!

Established in Troy, New York, 1812, America's "Uncle Sam" symbol originated with "Uncle Sam" Wilson, a patriotic merchant who served as an inspector and provisioner, under contract with the Army of young America (which was engaged in the War of 1812.) The documented story of Troy's Samuel Wilson is officially recognized, and plans are being made to observe the coming 150th anniversary year.

Place your order now for this superb medal. Made by the Metal Arts Co., Inc., it is 1 3/4" diameter, and is truly a gem.

BRONZE $1.50 - SILVER PLATED $2.00
STERLING $7.50 (Insured and Postpaid)

Basic Knowledge Series - Number Four

Lincoln Cent Discussed;
Most Popular U.S. Coin

By Ed Neuce

The most popular series of U.S. coinage to the beginning collector is the Lincoln type cent which has enjoyed the longest run of any coin in our country's history.

Replacing the Indian head cent in 1909, the Lincoln cent has been minted since that time, and there has been no serious movement to have the type discontinued. No other coin can match the Lincoln cent popularity, in that respect.

Designed by Victor D. Brenner, the Lincoln cent was issued for the 100th anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln. On the first issue (1909) a few coins were issued with Brenner's initials (VDB) appearing at the bottom on the reverse side, but this practice did not meet with approval and was discontinued after appearing on approximately 484,000 San Francisco cents of that year, and an additional 27,995,000 Philadelphia cents of 1909.

Lincoln cents of the San Francisco mint bearing the initials of Brenner (VDB) are therefore one of the most difficult coins to find of the entire series, and are valued from $75 in good-very good condition up to more than $150 if uncirculated, provided that they bear mint mark "S" under the date. VDB cents of the Philadelphia mint do not command much premium due to the high number minted before being discontinued.

These initials were placed once again on the Lincoln cent of 1918 and have been on all Lincoln cents since that year. The initials are much smaller than on the original 1909 VDB and are extremely difficult to locate because of their small size. The initials can be found, however, with the aid of a good magnifying glass. They are now (since 1918) placed under Lincoln's shoulder, and it is necessary to have an uncirculated coin, or at least a coin in top condition, to locate the initials. Even then, the coins must be viewed at an angle, looking up at the bottom of the shoulder on the extreme right of Lincoln's bust.

Other Lincoln cents were minted in 1909, both at the Philadelphia and Denver mints, but they did not bear the designers initials. Of these later 1909 coins, only the 1909 struck at San Francisco is scarce, and it currently sells for between $12 and up to $50 if uncirculated. The 1909 plain (Philadelphia) Lincoln is common, more than 82-million were produced, and command premiums of 25-cents in good condition up to approximately $4.75 if uncirculated.

Lincoln cent coinage did not commence at the Denver mint until 1911. Since that time (1911) the Denver mint has produced coins of the Lincoln variety continuously with the exception of 1921 and 1923 when Lincoln cents were minted only at Philadelphia and San Francisco.

The rarest of the Denver Lincoln cents is dated 1914 with a "D" under the date. Coins not bearing this "D" are products either of the San Francisco "S" mint, or the Philadelphia (no mark) mint.

Caution is urged when purchasing the 1914-D Lincoln, because of the ease of which they can be altered from other dates to appear as 1914-D. An example is the 1944-D cent: Skilled workers can, by using a small drill, cut away part of the first "4" in "44" and make this coin to appear to be a 1914-D.

Always check the space between the "9" and the second "1" on this particular coin. If the coin has been altered from the cent of 1944-D it will show considerably more space between these two digits than on the real 1914-D. Another sign to look for, but this is not always certain because of recent events, are the initials "VDB" under Lincoln's shoulder. These initials are not on a genuine 1914-D.

This latter check point is not positive, though, because these initials can also be removed, leaving no trace. Therefore, our only real check point is spacing between the 9 and second 1. Again, caution should be the order of the day when purchasing the 1914-D Lincoln cent.

Moving along, we next stop at the Lincoln cent of 1922. All cents of this year (1922) were products of the Denver mint, but it is possible to find cents of 1922 without, as well as with, mint marks. This lack of a mint mark does not mean that the cent was minted at Philadelphia in this case, but only means that dies became clogged at the Denver mint and resulted in an undetermined amount of cents being released without mint mark "D."

Before the clogging was discovered several coins were on their way to circulation, some with perfect mint marks, some with weak mint marks, and still others without a mint mark. Out of this comes the Lincoln cent known as the "1922 without D cent" which is by far the rarest of cents minted that year. It is valued from $12 in good condition up to $275 if uncirculated.

REMEMBER: No cents were minted at Philadelphia or San Francisco during 1922. Coins of that year which do not have a mint mark are from Denver.

Our next stop in the Lincoln cent series is at the year 1924. Cents were struck at Philadelphia, San Francisco and Denver during 1924, but the Denver cent of 1924 is the most scarce, having a mintage that year of only 2,520,000 cents. Today the 1924-D cent is valued at from $4 to $70 depending on condition.

Skipping several years (remember we are only discussing the scarce Lincoln cents) we next stop at Lincolns of the year 1931. Only 866,000 cents were struck at San Francisco in 1931, making that particular coin (1931-S) one of the scarce Lincolns, valued at from $13 to $35. The 1931-D cent is also a low mintage coin with only 4,480,000 being struck.

"The Difference of a Hundred Years" won 12-year-old Douglas Fetherling of Bethlehem, W. Va., third place at the Ohio Valley Coin Association's convention held recently in Steubenville, Ohio. Douglas has been collecting coins for approximately two years.

Although mintage figures reveal that 1931-D cents outnumber 1931-S cents by several million, it is a fact that the 1931-D in an uncirculated condition is valued at more than the 1931-S in uncirculated condition. In lower grades than uncirculated this does not hold true. For instance, the 1931-S in good condition is valued at approximately $13, while the 1931-D in the same condition is worth only $2.

One may wonder why the 1931-D is valued higher in uncirculated condition than the 1931-S, even though mintage was higher at Denver.

The explanation is simply this: Collectors and investors naturally stored away several of the 1931-S cents because of the low mintage figures, but did not save the 1931-D cents in great number because so many were produced. These collectors and investors were not prepared for the sudden increase of coin collectors and therefore could see no need to save the 1931-D cents as they did the 1931-S cents.

Later, realizing their mistake, dealers, collectors and investors began buying all the 1931-D cents they could locate in uncirculated condition, but it was too late as not many were left uncirculated. This fact accounts for the number of 1931-D's in fine or better condition available today, and also accounts for the scarcity of uncirculated specimens.

The Philadelphia cent of 1931 is still plentiful in all conditions because of the high mintage of 19,396,000.

Next Week: More on the Lincoln cent series.

Indiana Coin Group
Plans Club Library

The Hobart, Ind., Coin Club met recently and discussed plans to establish a club library at the home of member Margaret Sohn. Books will be issued to members free for the first five days, it was reported.

It was also announced that orders would be taken for the Hobart Gazette for which the club is allowed one dollar of the subscription price.

Mrs. Sohn was made an honorary life member of the club in honor of her long and faithful membership.

Coin Collecting Youth
Receives Letters Daily

By Ed Neuce

Readers will recall a recent letter from Danny Jarvis of Belleville, Ill., which was printed (complete with spelling mistakes) on the Junior Page.

Here is Danny's reaction to that article:

"I want to thank you for the Butiful way you did my story in Coin World, every day almost I get letters from all over the country. however I had quite a few critisizing my spelling, which I admit could be greatly improved. however one in particular still has me a little shook up becuse it was a littl bit out of line. But otherwise it was a beatiful wright up thank you very much. yours Truly Danny Jarvis."

It was good to hear from Danny again. Remember he is the Junior who purchased a 1914-D cent, and a 1909-S VDB cent for 50 cents each recently.

Sorry, Danny, to hear of the criticism, which is all my fault. A news reporter is supposed to correct any mistakes in spelling, but in this case the letter was so cute that I just couldn't resist sharing it with Coin World readers.

On the other hand, it is my opinion that you do a very good job, considering your age, and I'm sure that in the not too distant future your spelling will be much improved.

The difference between youngsters and adults is that most youngsters write what they feel, without thought to spelling, while adults (including this writer) depend on the nearby dictionary to keep things in order.

Since this is a coin publication, I won't attempt to carry the spelling subject too far, but rest assured, Danny, it will come to you. Keep up the studies and remember this:

You gotta 1909svdb and a 1914d which is to itams I ben looken for for along teim.
Good luck, Danny!

A new Junior club has been organized at Oceanside, Long Island, N.Y., known as the Oceanside Junior High Coin Club. Meetings are held every Friday after school and follow the theme of "Better Fellowship Through Numismatics."

Officers of the club include Neal Litman, president; Jerry Silbert, vice president; Michael Greenfield, secretary; James Jutzman, treasurer; and James Gale, sergeant at arms.

The Lane Technical High School Coin and Stamp Club, Chicago, Ill., has been organized for 1961-62 under the sponsorship of Miss Owens of the faculty, and has 61 members, it has been reported by Barry A. Fleig, secretary for the group.

Neal Litman has been elected president of the newly organized Oceanside, Long Island, N. Y., Junior High Coin Club. Neal is a collector of six years standing.

Other officers include Jim Peterson, president; Walter Goede, vice president; Larry Wyzukovic, treasurer; Jim Jesse of Robert Tortorelli, sergeants at arms.

Meetings are held each Tuesday afternoon at the school, located at 2501 W. Addison, Chicago. The program includes reports on some phase of coin collecting, followed by a trading session.

A highlight of the club activities is the Lane Tech Coin and Stamp Auction held during January and June of each year.

Today's column ends on a sad note....Arthur Fry, 12, of 20 Hayes avenue, Colonia, N.J., recently loaned his coin collection to Colonia Junior High School, where he is a student, to be placed on display.

The school was burglarized during the night, police reported. Only one thing was missing, Arthur's coin collection.

Said Arthur, "It was only worth $50 on the market, but it was worth a lot more than that to me."

It's a shame that this sort of thing has to happen, especially to our Juniors, but I'm sure that Arthur will shake his disappointment and continue to be one of us.

Dolan, Howarth Named
In Key Coin Changes

Frank Dolan was appointed corresponding secretary for the Key Coin Club of New Haven, Conn., and Walter Howarth was made auction committee chairman by the group's board of governors at a recent special session.

Howarth is also the club's librarian. Dolan would prefer to have all club correspondence sent to his home address, Lambert road, Orange, Conn.

Exhibit Won By Junior

Douglas Fetherling, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Fetherling of Bethlehem, W. Va., recently won third place at the Ohio Valley Coin Association convention at Steubenville, Ohio, for his "The Difference of a Hundred Years" exhibit of coins and currency.

Douglas used the Civil War Centennial as the basis for his entry in the competition. There were approximately 60 entries.

A member of the Wheeling, W. Va., Coin Club, he has gathered coins for two years, and estimates the value of his collection at approximately $1,000. He has about 500 bills and old coins.

His rarest coin is one believed made in 27 B.C. in honor of Caesar Augustus, in a combination of brass and gold. The second rarest is an 1817 British shilling. The collection includes a 10 cent bill issued by the U.S. Government during the Civil War when there was a shortage of metal, a $2 Confederate bill and a 1794 American cent.

Douglas said "common change" is one of the best sources of adding to his collection. He has bills from nearly every nation in the world. They are most easily obtainable from Japan because there were so many servicemen there during World War II, he noted.

It is difficult, he continued, to obtain British coins. "You can't write to the British mint for them and dealers want high prices," he said.

Douglas trades with friends to get some items, others he buys. Friends say, for his age, he has an unusual collection. He said he has "started numerous people in coin collecting."

Phillips Collection Shown At Palm Springs Opening

A main attraction at the recent opening of the Bank of America's new Tahquitz-McCallum-Farrell branch at Palm Springs, Calif., was an exhibit featuring part of the collection of Cyrus H. Phillips, internationally known numismatist.

Entitled "300 years of American Coinage," the Phillips collection traces the history of American money from earliest colonial times to present. It has been viewed by more than 280,000 Californians at school assemblies, service club programs, and bank openings during the past decade. Included in the collection are coins minted by the Massachusetts Bay Colony in 1652 and the Fugio cent of 1787, first coin struck under authority of the Federal Constitution.

The Peoples National Bank of Hackettstown, N. J., recently sponsored a display of gold coins from Europe, Asia, Africa and North America as the first of a series to be shown in its lobby.

It is planned to change the display from time to time. The next will be of early Roman coins, followed by United States Commemorative half-dollars, medallions of half-dollar size, Continental paper money and fractional currency, then small U.S. cents from 1857 to 1961 plus proof cents from 1936 to 1961.

Displays will be changed from six to eight times a year, depending upon the interest they attract.

Ross Watson of Irwin, Pa., recently displayed part of his coin collection at a meeting of the Irwin Kiwanis Club. Watson also answered questions on numismatics put to him by the Kiwanians.

Specimens of United States currency and coinage from colonial times to the present were recently on display at the First National Bank of Jersey City, Arlington, N. J. for a one week period.

Clubs Sponsor Annual Affair

Surpassing preliminary hopes, a record attendance of some 2,000 persons was marked up at the annual Coin Show co-sponsored recently by the Beloit and Janesville, Wis., coin clubs at the Parker Pen Convention hall at Janesville, according to an official report.

Best in Show exhibit award was won by Ray Lietz of Packwaukee, Wis., for a 4-case display of odd and curious money. Other exhibits included type sets and complete sets of all denominations, "Stellas", and other gold coins.

Bourse tables were occupied by 27 dealers, all reporting successful business. Highlight of the auction was the sale of a 1942 over-date dime for $100. John Hamilton, Beloit, received a special prize of a $5 gold piece.

Show officials included Herbert Demanouske, Beloit, general chairman; Lyle Thomas, Janesville, and Robert Branigan, Beloit, bourse co-chairmen, and Louis Flint, Janesville, exhibits.

New Coin Club Elects Forber

Michael Forber, Alma, Mich., has been elected president of the recently organized Central Michigan Coin and Stamp Club according to a report from the new secretary, Bill Wallace of St. Louis, Mich.

Other new officers include Robert Sypult, St. Louis, vice president; Wallace, also treasurer; Larry Ringle, Ithaca, assistant secretary; Fred Schell, St. Louis, auctioneer, and Herb Baxter, St. Louis, assistant auctioneer.

At the October meeting, exhibits featured Gold coins, presidential medals, foreign Crowns, Jefferson nickels, Lincoln cents, type sets, and 1960 Olympics First Day Covers, shown by A. Huber, Forber, Sypult, Wallace and Baxter.

ADVANCE NOTICE

In the next 90 days The Beacon Corp. will release 12 new and improved products for the serious numismatist and the occasional coin collector.

Each product has been thoroughly tested to make it the finest available. Many nationally known concerns have been kind enough to extend professional services of a high technical nature. Consultants on the merits of the new products have included a number of numismatists who excel in certain fields.

TO THE COIN COLLECTOR:

Watch for the Beacon Line. Your dealer will handle it.

TO THE COIN DEALER:

Write us for the name of your nearest distributor. He has the most attractive proposition available.

TO THE POTENTIAL DISTRIBUTOR:

We still have a few choice areas available. We firmly believe that within the next 12 months, the Beacon and Guardian line of numismatic products will be the leader in the field.

Look for the Beacon and Guardian lines in future issues of the Coin World.

SEATED LIBERTY SILVER DOLLARS

These are not RARE coins within the proper meaning of the word, but consider the facts. The TOTAL mintage of this type over a 24 year period from all mints was merely 6,554,501 pieces. Only 3 coins of this type had a mintage larger than the 1909-SVDB Lincoln Cent, and NOT ONE had a mintage as large as that of either the 1885 Liberty Nickel, the 1913-S Type II Buffalo Nickel, or the 1914-D Lincoln Cent. Only 2 have mintages larger than that of the 1877 Indian Cent.

More and more collectors are discovering every day that in addition to their great numismatic appeal, coins such as these offer a solid numismatic investment with absolutely no danger of speculative price fluctuations.

Due to our specialization in this series, we can offer the following wide assortment at most reasonable prices.

LINCOLN CENTENNIAL MEDAL 1809 — 1909

By Bella Lyon Pratt, Designer of our Indian Head Gold Coins.

During the year of 1909, under the mayoralty of George W. McClellan, the city of New York formed a commission to publicize and honor the Centenary of the Birth of ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

Bella Lyon Pratt who designed our $2½ and $5 Indian Head Gold pieces was engaged to design a fitting medal to honor the occasion.

Shown above the original envelope the small size medal came in, in 1909. One of these original envelopes will be given with every order of two or more medals as long as our supply lasts.

- No. 1 SMALL SIZE—21 mm with ring and ribbon
- No. 2 MEDIUM SIZE—28 mm with ring and ribbon
- No. 3 MEDIUM LARGE SIZE—41 mm without ring
- No. 4 LARGE SIZE—52 mm without ring

WE OFFER THESE VERY BEAUTIFUL MEDALS OF YESTERYEAR TO THE COLLECTORS OF TODAY AT THE FOLLOWING PRICES:

No. 1 SMALL SIZE . . . $3.00
No. 2 MEDIUM SIZE . . . 5.00

Both No. 1 and No. 2 . . . 7.50
No. 4 LARGE SIZE . . . 15.00

Please note that we are not offering the No. 3 Medal. We tell you about it because we know it exists. On the large medal No. 4 we have less than 100 pieces, to be exact just 72 pieces. It goes without saying that we expect this LARGE No. 4 size medal to be sold out immediately.

All orders for any medals will be filled, as long as our stock lasts, not in order of receipt but in order of the hour and date of postmark of the order. IMMEDIATE RETURNS OR REFUNDS if we are unable to fill all or part of your order.

Money orders and certified checks and your order will be shipped immediately. Personal checks and your order will be held until check clears your bank. Pennsylvania residents are subject to the 4% sales tax.

Remember This Is An Opportunity Of A Half Century And When These Are Gone There Ain't No More.

Bank Leu Sale Prices Compiled By Schulman

A detailed report on prices at the Bank Leu and Co. Lucerne, Switzerland, October 11-12 is furnished by Hans Schulman, New York international dealer, who spent several weeks abroad.

Schulman pointed out in reporting the sale that the prices in francs may be translated by remembering that 430 francs equal $100 in United States money.

The results:
7. Albania, 100 francs, 1937, Friedberg 11, 850 francs.
9. Albania, 100 francs, 1938, Friedberg 13, 840 francs.
10. Albania, 100 francs, 1938

Coin World Advertising Policy...

NUMISMATIC ITEMS THAT CAN BE ADVERTISED

AND QUESTIONABLE ITEMS THAT CANNOT BE ADVERTISED

GOLD CERTIFICATES. Technically gold notes cannot be legally held in numismatic collections, therefore they cannot be advertised in Coin World. These include all Friedberg numbers 1166-b through 1225.

GOLD BARS. It is illegal for individuals to possess gold bars or ingots issued after March, 1933. It is permissible to advertise gold bars issued prior to this date. It is not permissible to advertise those dated after March, 1933.

1933 $20 GOLD COINS. Double eagles of 1933 were apparently not officially released. They cannot be advertised.

COUNTERFEITS. It is illegal to possess, buy or sell counterfeit coins or paper money of current legal tender. (Counterfeits of obsolete coins and paper money, for example Colonial, Continental and obsolete U.S. currency, are held in numismatic collections.) However, we will not accept advertisements of any kind of counterfeits in Coin World.

ALTERED DATE COINS. Persons who possess and attempt to sell altered date coins without identifying them as such are perpetrating a fraud and can be prosecuted under Public Law 79, 82nd Congress, Chapter 226, Section 331, mutilation of United States coins with intent to defraud. No altered date coins whatsoever can be advertised in Coin World.

FAKE STARS. Fake stars on Grant commemorative half dollars come within the realm of altered coins and therefore are unethical in the coin field. They cannot be advertised in Coin World.

STOLEN COINS. This should be obvious, but stolen property cannot be advertised since it is illegally held and title cannot pass to a new owner.

ALTERED CONDITION COINS. This category includes buffed or polished "proof" coins, where uncirculated coins are "doctored" until they look like proofs. It also includes coins treated with a chemical that brings out otherwise illegible dates or other worn-out features. (Where the entire coin is treated, a poor coin looks like a VG or better; however, closer inspection reveals the acid pits all over the surface.) These coins are of questionable ethics in the coin field and they, or their chemical, cannot be advertised in Coin World. This includes "re-plating" coins which is an attempt to change condition unnaturally.

PROCESSED 1943 CENTS. It is unethical in the coin field to advertise processed 1943 steel cents as "uncirculated" or "bright." They are chemically treated circulated coins made to look like uncirculated. Coin World will accept advertisements for 1943 processed cents only if the word "processed," "cleaned circulated," or some synonym is included in the advertisement. "Replating" is not a synonym, but a different situation.

FACSIMILE PAPER MONEY. It is unethical in the coin field to advertise imitations of any paper money as genuine. Coin World will accept an advertisement for these only if the word "copy" or "facsimile" or some such synonym is printed ON THE BILL and included in the wording of the advertisement.

RESTRIKES. THESE FALL INTO THREE CATEGORIES:

1. STRUCK COUNTERFEITS. These are counterfeit coins with legal tender status (as gold sovereigns struck in Europe to pass as gold coin). They cannot be advertised in Coin World.

2. STRUCK COPIES. These are copies of coins that do not have legal tender status. They include the facsimiles of Colonial coins made by Dickson, Wyatt, Tatham, Mickley, Idler, A. S. Robinson, and Bolen (all described by Richard Kenny in his "Struck Copies of U.S. Coins"). This category also includes the restriks of the Florida and Rhode Island tokens, and the pillar dollar. These are legitimate numismatic items and it is permissible to advertise them in Coin World. They should be described fully including the term "struck copy" or "restrick," appearing in the advertisement.

3. MODERN STRUCK COPIES. These are copies of famous, scarce, or rare coins.

They may be accepted for advertising in Coin World but must bear the word "copy" or some such synonym STAMPED PERMANENTLY ON THE COIN. Also the word "copy" or some such synonym must appear in the advertising wording. Samples should be sent to Coin World when the first advertisement is submitted. This policy holds true irrespective of the metal, size, or color of the copies made. However, copies in which only one side is used with a completely different reverse from the original, such as an advertising piece, can be accepted without the word "copy" struck on the coin.

SAUDI ARABIA GOLD DISCS. These coins, made in 1945-1947, have a questionable legal status and advertisements of these are accepted at the dealer's risk of confiscation by the U.S. Treasury.

OFF METAL ERRORS. These are coins struck on a metal planchet other than that authorized by law, like a quarter die struck on a copper planchet intended for a cent. They are of questionable legal status at the present time and advertisements of these are accepted at the advertiser's risk of confiscation by the U.S. Treasury.

RACKETEER NICKELS. These 1883 gold plated coins have a questionable legal status and advertisements of these coins are accepted at the dealer's risk of confiscation, whether coins are genuine or otherwise.

FOREIGN GOLD DATED AFTER 1933. The Treasury department has allowed some foreign gold coins dated after 1933 to remain in collectors hands, others it has confiscated. We prefer not to accept advertisements on these until the matter can be worked out with the authorities. This category, therefore, is questionable, and Coin World would accept advertisements of such only if a dealer insists, and then at his own risk.

ELECTROTYPES. These are copies of rare coins made to resemble the originals. They are made by museums, etc. They have a long history of collectibility and are completely legal. In advertisements, however, they must be labeled "electro-type."

MUTILATED COINS. This category includes Masonic cents, elongated or rolled-out coins, and the "love tokens" of the last century. These are all U.S. coins that have been engraved or changed from their original form. They are all legal, with the exception of recently made (since 1958) Masonic cents, which cannot be advertised. Otherwise they can be accepted for advertising in Coin World.

LUCKY OR FRAMED CENTS. These are discs, usually aluminum, with coins in the center. The coin is not mutilated. They are legal and have a long history of collectibility. They can be advertised.

PATTERN COINS. These are test coins made at the mint to test dies, designs, metals, etc., and include all pattern, trial, and experimental pieces. At infrequent times in the past, their legality has been questioned. However, they are completely legal. They were sold or released by the Mint and have a long history of collectibility. Any pattern coin can be advertised in Coin World.

NUMISMATIC ERRORS. With the exception of the questionable off-metal errors; numismatic or mint errors and freaks are completely legal, having been officially released from the Mint. They have a long history of collectibility. They can be accepted for advertising in Coin World.

CALIFORNIA GOLD TOKENS. These are tokens made in imitation of the gold dollars, halves and quarters of California. If they are manufactured recently, the words "modern made" or some such synonym must be included in the advertisement. Those listed in Burnie's work, "Small California Gold Coins," need not have this wording in the advertisement.

CONFEDERATE REPLICAS. These are replicas of the Confederate coins, officially authorized but never issued, and also those neither authorized nor issued. As such they are fantasy copies and can be advertised in Coin World.

San Francisco Collector Reports Mint Error Dime

Mint error—cup-shaped 1892-S Barber type dime, owned by S. Katch, San Francisco.

An unusual, authenticated 1892-S "cup shaped" Barber type dime has been reported by S. Katch of San Francisco, Calif., who advises that he recently purchased the coin from a family who said that the dime had been handed down through the years and has never been on the market.

Katch sent the coin to John J. Ford Jr., Rockville Centre, New York, for examination and authentication. Ford's report follows:

"This piece is a very unusual mint error in excellent condition. This particular cup or saucer-like appearance was undoubtedly ly caused by the collar being far too low at the precise moment the coin was struck, resulting in the planchet wrapping itself, in effect, around the obverse die.

"This is the absolute extreme of a high wire edge. There is no doubt in my mind that this is a completely authentic contemporary mis-strike or mint error, and is an extreme example of Mint ineptitude.

"This piece would be of considerable value to a specialist in freaks or mint errors. It is not to be confused with the relatively common and similar cup shaped curiosities which are invariably handmade by hammering the coin patiently about a rounded object."

Katch and his partners are taking much pride in the unusual coin, and report that it is the object of much discussion when exhibited to associates.

SILVER PLATED OXIDIZED SATIN FINISH PRESIDENTIAL ARTS SERIES KENNEDY AND LINCOLN MEDALS AND ALL FUTURE MEDALS IN SERIES

At $4.00 each

These are the Presidential Arts series bronze medals which have been expertly silver plated and oxidized. It is almost impossible to tell these plated medals from the pure silver medals. However, we stress the fact that these medals cannot be passed off fraudulently as pure silver since they are not stamped pure silver and are not numbered. Please advise if you wish to be placed on a permanent list for the balance of the series at $4.00 each. Dealer inquiries invited.

ALSO AVAILABLE IN MATCHED SERIAL NUMBERS

Missouri Man Winner In RCDA Slogan Contest

Robert A. Johnson of Mountain Grove, Mo., has been named first place winner in the recent slogan contest sponsored by the Retail Coin Dealers Association, according to an announcement by Eliot Cashdan, president of RCDA.

Johnson's entry was selected for many different reasons, Cashdan advised, among them being the design of a drawing, the use of the words "Reliable Conscientious Dealers Always," and the fact that the design submitted is suitable for a medal for the RCDA, and to be designed into the great seal of the association.

Several honorable mentions were awarded in the contest. These went to James F. Summers of Kingsville, Texas; James G. Johnson of Sidney, Ohio; Jim

Sherwood Says Hobby Needs More Dedicated Collectors

Earle D. Sherwood's advice to fellow collectors—to broaden their scope of interest—which began in the November 17 edition of Coin World—is concluded here.—Editor.

By Earle D. Sherwood
Hurley, N. Y.

Another interesting series that is not too hard on the pocket book is the second century bronze asses and dupondius. The latter is usually distinguished from the as by the spoked crown and slightly larger size. The asses can usually be purchased from $3.50 up, the average price being $4.50 to $6. for specimens in very fine.

This series starts with Augustus, about 27 B. C., and continues to the reign of Diocletian, about 284 A. D.

There are many other denominations but they cannot be covered here.

There are the crude, but still beautiful, coins of the Byzantine (Eastern Roman) Empire that were struck from the fifth century A. D. to the 12th century. The head of Christ appears on many of these coins, and sometimes the Virgin Mary.

These Byzantine coins can be secured in bronze, gold, or silver, mentioned in order of their rarity.

A nice collection of the bronze coins can be purchased from $2 to $4 each. You can also still assemble a collection in gold at an average price of $25 to $35 per coin. Coins of certain rulers, however, are much more expensive. Artistry in the gold coins is much better than in the bronze pieces.

Seventeenth century English tokens first appeared in 1648 due to a great scarcity of minor coins. They are made mostly in copper, some in brass. The usual value is a half-pence, some are farthings. Many of these tokens were even smaller than our dime, but some were as large as our nickel five cent piece.

They are obtainable in various shapes—in order of their scarcity, round, octagonal, square, heart shaped and diamond shaped. Price range for very good to fine pieces is $2 to $3 for round; $4 to $6 for square and octagonal; $4 to $7 for heart and diamond shaped.

Collecting 17th century English tokens is fascinating because of the great variety. At least 72 different trade guilds are represented, and numerous inns and taverns. Many a London street secured its name from some of these old taverns.

Tokens were also issued by church wardens, mayors, chamberlains, and high bailiffs.

Some of the taverns that issued tokens were: "Kings Head," "Kings Arms," "Crown," "Plume and Three Feathers," "Boars Head Inn," "Rose Tavern," "Hole in the Wall," "The Cock Ale House," and many more.

At this time in the 17th century, a farthing would buy a tank of beer, not merely a glass! A half penny bought a large loaf of bread, and red wine cost four pence a gallon. That's barely a nickel in American money. This was before the government got a bigger profit out of a bottle of spirits than the distillers.

Spanish-American silver coinage was struck in Mexico City as early as 1536 and later in many other mints throughout South America.

These beautiful and well executed silver pieces were struck in three types: pillar type (1536-1556 and 1732 to 1772); Jerusalem Cross (1556-1734); portrait (1772-1823). They were mostly issued in eight, four, two, one and half real pieces. The portrait types bear the busts of Charles III, Charles IV, and Ferdinand VII.

Thus, in conclusion, I would like to emphasize that in addition to collecting U. S. coins, why not branch out into one of these specialties.

THOUSANDS OF USERS

ACTUALLY CLEANS IN SECONDS

Useful for cleaning all kinds of coins, but particularly adapted to cleaning coins of copper or nickel.

Does not add shine but brings out natural color, including original brilliance if it is still there under tarnish or coating. Tarnish vanishes and dull or dark uncirculated coins become brilliant uncirculated coins. It does this in seconds. You will be amazed.

This product, the result of years of experiment, can be used safely on valuable coins to improve their appearance and increase their value.

On sale in many leading stores in 4-oz. bottles, with full directions, at $1.00.

If your dealer does not yet have it, send us $1.00 for a 3-oz. bottle (enough to clean hundreds of coins), carefully packed, unbreakable bottle, postpaid to any address in the U.S. or Canada.

The appearance of worn coins, large cents, small cents, etc., can be greatly improved by "highlighting" (contrasting light and dark). Use the Victory Miracle Cloth for this only 50c postpaid.

SPECIAL OFFER TO DEALERS

We want you to try "CCC" on your counter. It Sells! Send $4.00 for six 4-oz. bottles (postpaid in the U.S.).

Ventura Plans For Next Show

Although the auction held in connection with the recent Ventura, Calif., Coin Club's first Coin-A-Rama was considered a disappointment, the remainder of the show was such a success that plans are already underway to stage another show next year, according to a report from officials.

Approximately 400 persons attended the show. This low figure was attributed to the 106 degrees temperature which was said to be unusually high for Ventura.

Exhibits included a complete set of uncirculated Lincoln cents, paper money, Canadian money, tokens, gold, and a mineral display showing the minerals that go into each coin.

Winners were Leroy Meyers of Pomona, paper money; Ray Bowler of Ojai, complete set of uncirculated Lincoln cents, and a display of gold coins; Guren Sentis, Santa Barbara, Canadian coins; John Nichols, Ventura, mineral display; and Ojai Coin Club, tokens.

Art Baxter was general chairman of the Coin-A-Rama, which was held at the International Brotherhood Electrical Workers Hall on East Main street, Ventura.

Medium Of Exchange

During the time of Abraham, Moses and David, jewelry and lumps of precious metals were weighed in units, called shekels, since no coined money existed.

Akron Club Has Open House

With 850 registered visitors, the annual one-day Open House of the Akron, Ohio, Coin Club held recently in the Portage Hotel was considered a great success, according to a report from club secretary Louis Friedland.

Feature of the affair was an exhibit of the collection of the club mascot and polio victim, Darlene Calvert, along with a display of the many letters she has received from coast to coast following a picture and story published in Coin World and other numismatic publications.

Highlights of the auction included the sale of a roll of uncirculated 1950-D nickels at $190, a complete set of Indian cents in G-F at $250, and several rolls of 1955-S cents at $11.75 per roll.

Dealers occupied 35 bourse tables and were reported as especially pleased with good lighting facilities and meals served at their tables. During the day, 13 special awards were made, headed by a $20 gold piece which went to Lynn Petty.

Dr. J. H. Litman, past president of the Akron club, was general chairman for the affair, C. D. Clark was bourse chairman, and the entire executive committee took care of registration, awards, and general duties connected with the Open House.

Chicago Club To Elect Officers In December

The Chicago Coin Club will elect officers for 1962 at the December meeting, scheduled for 8 p.m. at the Lake View Building, 116 S. Michigan avenue, Chicago, Ill.

Medals awarded by the Chicago group during November include the Literary award medal to Arlie Slabaugh, and the medal of merit awarded to Michael Dolnick, for 1961.

Wisconsin Club Names Officers

Walter Battersby has been elected president of the Kenosha, Wis., Coin Club, according to an announcement by N. E. Mischler, publicity chairman.

Other officers elected at the November meeting of the club include Russell Arneson, vice president; John Warren, under secretary; Joseph Book, secretary; William Spencer, sergeant at arms; and Paul Magnussen, librarian.

William Higgle spoke at the meeting and presented an exhibit of his Spanish-American coin collection. The annual quarterly auction followed the meeting.

Roman Empire Coins Revealing

Ten Centuries Covered Through Imperial Coinage

By Ernest F. Cooke A.N.A. 30318
Cleveland, Ohio

In the year 800 A.D., in the eternal city of Rome during Christmas Mass, Pope Leo III crowned Charlemagne as Roman Emperor.

In the year 1155 A.D., when Frederick I Barbarossa was crowned, the word Holy was added to the title. This period marks the height of the prestige and power of the Holy Roman Empire.

In the year 1806 A.D., Francis II, after several defeats by Napoleon, surrendered the crown and ended the Empire. Napoleon had already claimed to be the successor of Charlemagne. During the last century of its existence, it could correctly be said that the Holy Roman Empire was "neither holy, nor Roman, nor an Empire".

At one time or another, during its 1,000 year history, the Holy Roman Emperor ruled over some part of all of Europe and thru alliances and marriages, other parts of the world. For example, Charles V was King of Spain when that country ruled all of Mexico and South America. During its ten century existence, imperial coinage was fairly continuous so a study of the Holy Roman Empire should be of value to the numismatist who is interested.

Due to space limitations we can only list some of the imperial mints and the standard denominations of their coins.

After 1275, the principal of election the German throne was definitely established so that the title moved from one family to another without too much regard to inheritance until the 15th century. During the same period, the ties with the papacy were broken and after 1493, Emperors assumed the title without coronation by the Pope. The Emperors before 1493, are Holy Roman Emperors but were never crowned.

Especially during the time that the title was conferred on the German Kings, there were frequent Opposition Kings and Emperors. All ruled some part of Europe and issued coins but they are not listed here unless they were finally recognized as Emperors due to the death or defeat of the reigning Emperor. The coinage of these Opposition Kings and Emperors is almost as extensive as the recognized Emperors. Incidentally because of this problem with Opposition Kings, etc., historians do not fully agree on all the Emperors and so the following list might differ in slight detail with some reference books.

The earliest Carolingian mints (circa 800) were Dorstadt, Mainz, Strassburg, Trier and Verdun. Later in the century, mints were added at Regensburg, Metz, Toul, Wuerzburg, Marsal and Cologne.

A.N.A. 25058

By the 11th century, the number of imperial mints had grown enormously. There were five in the West including Metz, Verdun and Strassburg; twelve in the Netherlands including Antwerp and Brussels; four in the North Netherlands; eight in the Rhineland including Cologne and Bonn; five in Westphalia; six in Saxony including Bremen; two in Thuringia; four in Franconia including Mainz and Worms, and nine in Bavaria including Neuenburg and Salzburg.

In the 13th century, the most important imperial mints were Duisburg, Aachen, Dortmund, Boppard, Randerath, Annweiler, Wetzlar, Kaiserslautern, Gelnhausen, Oppenheim and Friedberg.

Some of the Hapsburg mints were Vienna, Prague, Salzburg, Hall in Tyrol, Milan and Venice in Italy and Kremnitz in Slovakia.

Early mintmarks consisted of the name of the city on the coin in Latin (about 800 to 1300). Then coat of arms came to be used as marks to identify the mint and from 1500 on, various marks, symbols or letters were used.

Because of the nature of the Holy Roman Empire and its close affiliation with the various European Countries, independent States and Cities, the full list of mints would fill many pages.

At the start of the Holy Roman Empire there was only a silver coinage, since the economic and cultural level of the people did not justify a gold coinage and bronze was not acceptable, due to the debased coinage of past centuries. The silver system was based on the denar, which was modeled after the Roman denarius, designated at 1/240 of the monetary pound and weighing about 1.3 grams. The denar was the forerunner of the pfennig or as we know it, the penny. Due to the customary inflation, the pfennig became a copper coin of greatly reduced value so that in 1871 the pfennig was adopted as the hundredth part of the mark in the new German monetary system.

About the 14th century, the Emperors had very little to say about who coined what and there was quite a problem in quality. This was solved by the introduction of the witten (1.2 grams silver), the groschen (2.5 grams silver), the heller (.75 grams silver), and the goldgulden which was a gold coin. These temporarily solved the quality problem but complicated the exchange problem.

Toward the end of the 15th century, an important change took place with the introduction of the thaler which became the standard unit to which all existing coins were equated. Even this coin shrank from 31.94 grams at .939 silver when it was introduced at Hall, Tyrol in 1484, to 18.4 grams .906 fine when it was discontinued in 1873.

Again a considerable amount of space could be devoted to denomination since the value and type of metals have changed over the years and every German State coined a different size for a given denomination.

A study of the coinage of the Holy Roman Empire is just part of the very interesting field of European Coinage and for anyone who is tired of looking at coin holders full of identical (except for date) Lincoln cents, etc. may I suggest this study as the beginning of an intriguing project. The coins are not expensive and for a start there is an excellent book entitled, "Germanic Coinages" by William D. Craig.

New Coin Club Elects Leader

Baltimore, Maryland's, newest club has been named the Hamilton Coin Club, and at its second meeting, in October, elected Fred Bruggman president and Donald P. Ruhl, secretary.

Also at that session, the group adopted its constitution and by-laws, and set up a schedule of monthly meetings. Charter memberships will be held open through December, and area collectors are invited to join. Original members total 13.

Interested collectors are asked to contact Bruggman at 6210 Catalpha Road, Baltimore 14, regarding place and time of the next meeting.

Tennessee Club Names Delegates

The Model City Coin Club of Kingsport, Tenn., met recently to elect representatives who will represent the club at the Appalachian Confederation of Coin Clubs, according to an announcement by Beatrice Isbel, secretary.

B. C. Sayers, Johnson City, recently spoke to the club on "Forgotten Coins."

Selected as representatives were H. K. Woody, director, and delegates E. S. Stanley and Charles Roop. Alternates will be Martin Leiwokuhler and Blanche Roache.

The Model City club now has an active membership of 115, and meets the third Tuesday of each month.

Schlegel Talks On Counterfeits

Bob Schlegel, club vice president, spoke on counterfeit money at a recent meeting of the Virginia Peninsula Coin Club of Newport News, Va., reports Hiram Bowers, secretary.

The Virginia Peninsula club acted as host for the Middle Atlantic Numismatic Association convention which was held at Fort Monroe, Va. on October 20, 21, and 22.

Bernie Littlepage of the club's advisory board served as convention chairman.

Missouri Group Has Coin Show

Over 300 persons attended the recent Heart of the Ozarks Collectors show held in the West Plains, Mo., R. E. A. building.

Highlight of the show was the auction conducted by C. W. Launsberry of Hardy, Ark. Top item sold was a 1942 over 1941 Mercury dime which went for $51.

Hubert Redburn, who put the coin into auction, found the dime in change recently, and showed a profit of $50.40 since it cost him 50 cents to enter the coin and the dime itself.

Winners in the coin exhibit competition were Les Sweaney and Larry Davison. Sweaney won the grand coin exhibit award, and Davison the junior award.

Hamilton Group Plans Programs

The Hamilton, Ontario, Coin Club, was scheduled to hold its recent meeting at the Wentworth Arms Hotel, reports Mrs. Ethel Sentes, secretary.

Bob Low planned a program consisting of a series of panel discussions that were to deal with the following topics: standard catalog versus varieties; the problem of grading; Canadian tokens versus decimal; the enigma of coin medals.

Dumidru Hincu was formally inducted as the newest member of the Hamilton club.

Women Hear Coin Expert

Charles Knisley, Pottstown, Pa., coin collector, spoke on his hobby recently at a meeting of the Pottstown Woman's Club at Library Hall in that city.

Knisley told the group that he began his collection about eight years ago and explained how the hobby has become big business since then for collectors, dealers and magazine publishers as well.

He pointed out the rise in cost of coins through the years and explained that his hobby was ideal for youngsters.

Alva Coin Club Sets Show Date

The second annual Coin Show and Auction, sponsored by the Alva, Okla., Coin Club, will be held Jan. 6 and 7, 1962, in the Municipal Auditorium of the Alva High School, according to a report from Marvin Withers, member of the Alva club.

Dealers bourse tables are available for $15 for the two days. All reservations should be mailed to Bob Reed, 729, Apache Drive, Alva.

At a recent meeting of the Alva Coin Club, P. K. Anderson, vice president of the American Numismatic Association, gave a lecture on old coins. Anderson is one of the best known authorities on old coins in America, club president C. T. Butler told the members.

Louisiana Coin Group Hears Guest Speaker

Frank Kappen was scheduled to display and discuss his collection of large United States paper currency, in conjunction with the showing of A.N.A. slides, at a recent meeting of the Shreveport, La., Coin Club.

Another recent guest of the Shreveport club was John Briner, who displayed his foreign coin collection, and presented an interesting talk on the subject to the group.

Canadian 'Located' For Winnipeg Theft

John Dezan, 29, of no fixed address, was recently assigned a "fixed address," at least for the next three years when he was sentenced to Canada's Stony Mountain penitentiary for the theft of an estimated $3,923 in coins and currency from Paille's Coin Shop, Winnipeg, Canada.

Crown prosecutor John Enns said that Dezan, after the robbery, hired a Winnipeg taxi to drive him to Portage la Prairie, where he stayed at a hotel. The driver became suspicious of Dezan and reported his suspicions to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in Winnipeg.

While police searched Portage la Prairie for Dezan he hired another taxi to take him to Brandon. On arrival there police arrested him.

Two briefcases of coins, all taken from Paille's Coin Shop, were found in Dezan's possession, as well as a quantity of burglar tools. Dezan was also charged with breaking into another firm and stealing about $32 in cash.

Enns said that Dezan paid out about $200 in paper money for his taxi rides and hotel expenses. About $3,670 in coins and paper money was recovered.

Magistrate M. H. Garton handed down the three year term after Dezan entered a plea of guilty to two charges of breaking and entering and theft, one of breaking and entering with intent and another of possessing burglar tools.

Coin collectors have been alerted by Michigan state police to be on the lookout for a $5 gold piece, dated 1900, which was stolen recently from the Michigan Historical Commission Museum at Lansing.

Museum director Solon Weeks said the coin is valued at $20 and that it was taken while a display of gold coins was unlocked.

Police are investigating the theft of more than $100 in old coins from the residence of Spencer Compton of Terre Haute, Ind. Compton told police that the coins were taken from a desk in his front room and the burglars would have to have knowledge pertaining to old coins. Entrance was gained through a rear door.

Coin collector John Bettison of Kennewick, Wash., finally decided recently that he had not just misplaced about $170 in coins, and reported them stolen.

Bettison told sheriff's deputies at the Kennewick substation that he had missed the coins several weeks ago, but thought them only mislaid. Gone are sets of uncirculated, dated 1955-1959, and a roll of uncirculated 1950 dimes.

Two Huntingdon, Pa., high school boys have been apprehended and turned over to juvenile probation officers for the theft of a coin collection valued at $225 from the home of Mrs. Emma Snyder of Huntingdon.

The two youths recently entered the Snyder residence through a kitchen door and took books and folders containing the collection.

A collection of 573 U.S. coins was reported stolen recently from the home of Charles Siros, San Diego, Calif. The collection included coins from cents to silver dollars and was valued at approximately $200.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Martin, Louisville, Ky., recently told police that someone had taken 47 silver dollars, some of them dating back to 1800, from their home.

Also at Louisville, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Sant, reported the loss of $65 in cash and a metal box which contained $100 in silver dollars dating back to 1850. Also in the box were about $50 in Canadian currency and a $50 pocket watch.

Both couples were away from their homes at the time of the thefts.

Approximately 1,800 cents in two glass jars were stolen recently when thieves entered the home of E. A. Seahorn of Knoxville, Tenn. The coins were dated between 1909 and 1935.

Ralph Landmesser, Minneapolis, Minn., reported to officers that 54 old coins he had collected over the years disappeared from a box in his bedroom.

Taken were 12 silver dollars dated from 1880 to 1890, several 50-cent pieces dated 1875-1890, 20 quarters, and several old cent pieces.

Heraldry Offers New Hobby

Early Warrior Originated Idea For Heraldic Shield

By Nora Forrest—A.N.A. 19903
Lakewood, Ohio

A surprising number of people who are on the look-out for a new hobby would if they only knew it, find one of absorbing interest in the science of heraldry.

Heraldry is by no means a "closed shop" of the genealogist, the historian or the antiquarian.

Heraldry—probably first originated in the pretty fancy of the feudal warrior to decorate his shield. With the growth of that habit came the desire to apply it to the identification of individuals, who in those days were quite unrecognizable on the field of battle, clothed in armour which closed them in from head to foot.

From there it was but a step to invent symbols which would have something in common for kinsmen and yet provide certain differences to distinguish individuals.

Having got so far, the need arose to display feudal ties, and eventually a most ingenious system came into being whereby the knight's coat-armour would tell at a glance almost the whole of his family history and connections. Most text books of today leave much to be desired on this subject.

No recognizable signs of any heraldic system are to be found much before the end of the twelfth century. It was not until about 1245 that heraldry emerged as definite, and on a definite plan.

The facts are that heraldry did not exist in England at that time of the Magna Charta in King John's time, for not a single proved male descendant is known to exist today, as there is no record of it shown. When an expert carefully compiled a list of arms bearing families who had held their lands uninterrupted since the reign of Henry VII in 1485, he could only find 350.

More snobbery, more nonsense and more lying has attached itself to heraldry than to any other human activity, and we would do well to approach the subject for what it is, namely an interesting and ingenious method of identification record by an artistic and often beautiful symbolism. Every one who is entitled to bear arms possesses what is called an "Achievement". This may be defined as a shield depicted with all its adjuncts, these being certain articles of medieval military equipment. They are six in number and consist of the shield upon which is displayed the arms, the helmet, wreath, crest, mantling and motto. It may also include a coronet of rank, supporters and insignia of Orders, for example the Distinguished Service Order.

1. The Shield is the most important part of the achievement for it bears the actual arms. These are composed of certain figures called "charges". Their arrangement on the shield is called "marshalling" and the drawing or painting of them is called "emblazoning" them.

2. The Helmet is an achievement, and is shown as resting on the top of the shield, except in the case of peers, who have a coronet of their rank placed on the shield and the helmet on top of it.

3. The Wreath is a round rope like circle of twisted strands of two colors which fits around the dome of the helmet.

4. The Crest was worn on the skull of the helmet and is usually so shown in the Achievement.

5. The Mantling was a sort of cloth veil attached to the top of the helmet under the wreath; it fell loosely over the knight's shoulders to protect his helmet from the sun.

6. The Motto is written on a scroll usually under the Achievement. Many families treasure their motto and have used it for generations.

Coronets of Rank—Every peer of the realm bears the coronet of his rank on top of the shield and under the realm.

Insignia — Holders of various honors surround their shields with the riband of their orders from which the star or badge of the order hangs below the shield.

Supporters—Supporters are human figures, animals, birds, monsters, trees, etc., and are placed on either side of the shield as if supporting it. The Lion is heraldry's animal par excellence, as a supporter. If he is standing, walking, sitting, looking forward or backward—all have their meaning on a coat of arms.

The Unicorn (a fabulous animal with only one horn) is often used sometimes with the Lion.

The most important of the birds is the Eagle and his position on the Arms means a great deal. A very common small bird is the Martlet; he is a sort of a swallow or heraldic nightingale without legs.

Fish and reptiles are often seen as charges.

In the vegetable and tree department we have a sort of clover with a number of round leaves, the Olive branch, Laurel, Oak, Maple leaves, etc.

Among inanimate objects may be found, castles, towers, the fleur-de-lis, etc.

Not all the foregoing are found on one coat of arms, but you can usually find more than one of them.

Just when the arms were first used on coins and currency I have been unable to find. I know most coin collectors are familiar with the symbols that are displayed on coins and currency, but how many of us stop to consider or study the meaning of them?

The armorial bearings of the U.S. is the brown eagle with wings uplifted and head turned to his right side and not considered of the heraldic order but approximates to the natural bird or the eagles seen in the Roman art.

Germany bears the royal arms of Prussia on the chest of a large black eagle, with wings out spread. The German eagle is a very ragged bird, angular with open beak, conceived in the medieval spirit.

Austria also has an eagle. It is double headed to signify dominion over West and East, claiming to be inheritors of the Holy Roman Empire.

Old Fort Holds Show

The Old Fort Coin Club of Fort Wayne, Ind., sponsored its fourth annual coin exhibition on November 4 and 5 at the Fort Wayne Armory, reports George E. Broughton, club president.

Over 100 exhibits were featured and 35 dealers participated in the bourse.

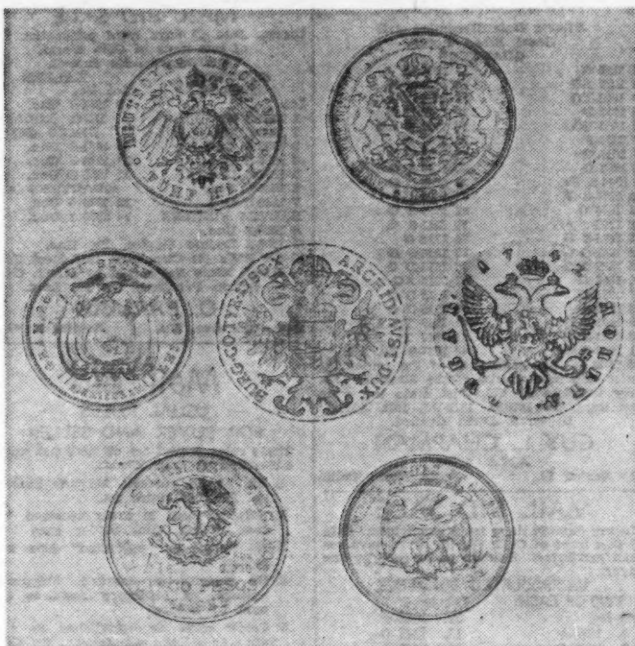

An election of officers is scheduled for the December 14 meeting. The Old Fort club meets on the second Thursday of each month at the Fruehauf Union Hall, 2412 Central drive, Fort Wayne.

Slides Shown For Program

The Aiken, Ga., Coin Club held a special meeting recently to view an outstanding set of colored slides showing rare money of the Confederate States of America, according to an announcement by club president J. H. Doggett.

The slides were made up by the American Numismatic Association and include bills found only in museums and larger private collections.

Held at the R.E.A. Auditorium on Highway 215, the meeting was open to the public.

eagle represents Russia.

Mexico has a brown eagle perched on a prickly cactus holding in its claw and beak a green snake. These are all religious sun emblems of the old Indian inhabitants of Mexico.

Heraldry ran into difficulties the same as any other science, that of Cadency in the family and of this there is a complete lack of clear and intelligent explanation in the text books.

Marks of Cadency are for the purpose of distinguishing arms as between brothers of one family and the families of different brothers and you can easily see the difficulty it could cause in the early days of heraldry, when illegitimate sons of Kings and high ranking peers were very much more numerous than they are now, and

Ohio Museum Holds Show

A coin show was held recently at the Pioneer Farm and Home Museum at Hueston Woods State Park, near Oxford, Ohio, according to a report by G. Ura Grover, museum curator.

The featured exhibit was shown by Ralph McCordle of Aurora, Ind., whose collection includes U. S. and foreign coins. The collection includes U.S. cents from 1793 to date with the exception of three years.

McCordle also displayed his collection of Roman and Egyptian coins dating back to 300 B. C.

Pittman Speaks At Pennsylvania Club

John Jay Pittman, widely known numismatist from Rochester, N. Y., spoke on early U. S. coins at a recent meeting of the Clarion-Jefferson County, Pa., Coin Club.

Pittman told how many coins of the early 1800's were altered so as to represent rare coins. Fred Bish, president, presided at the business meeting.

Downey Collectors Conduct Auction

The Downey Numismatists of Downey, Calif., featured an auction at their recent session, a regular meeting highlight, according to a report from D. Anderson, secretary.

The group meets on the second Wednesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. at the Downey Women's Club, 9813 South Paramount. Organized only six months ago, the Downey Numismatists already have 127 members in their ranks.

Hand Addresses Group

Paul Hand of Franklin, Ind., was guest speaker at meeting of Franklin's Order of Eastern Star recently. He spoke to the group on postal currency used during Civil War days.

in good social standing, they more or less followed their own fancy in recording their connections with their supposed fathers. In those days, the real point of illegitimate distinction was not a question of morality but purely one of marking arms whose bearer was not entitled to succeed to the family estates and wealth.

The modern use of the Coat of Arms does not have the same bearing as it did in past generations, naturally, but there are nevertheless, still many opportunities for heraldic display that are conventional as on table silver, note paper, envelopes, seals and book plates.

I think a true estimate of heraldry as with everything else on earth is defined in Thomas Gray's Elegy — written in a country church yard.

"The boast of heraldry, the pomp of power
And all that beauty and wealth e'er gave

Await alike the inevitable hour
The paths of glory lead but to the grave."

THREE CLASSIFICATIONS TO HELP YOU! TRADES . . . No. 195

All strictly trading ads of numismatic items will be listed under Classification 195. This will let the readers interested only in trading concentrate on seeing who has what they want and for what they'll trade!

SALE OR TRADE . . . No. 196

When a trade ad offers numismatic items for sale as well as for trade, it will be listed in Classification 196. For those many offers of selling or trading, this new classification will easily answer a great need.

BUY OR TRADE . . . No. 198

Sometimes a collector wants to buy as well as trade for a coin and that is why we have created Classification 198 and expect it to be widely used by collectors from coast to coast. These 3 new classifications help you!

NOW! Use Your Three Trade Classifications!

Historic Find Reported Near Campaign Site

A Pittsburgh, Pa., archaeologist, Glenn H. Hoskins, has reported the discovery of an ancient pioneer graveyard near Fort Necessity, near Uniontown, Pa., in which he uncovered coins and medals dating back to 1725 and the reign of King George II.

Also uncovered were cannon balls and medical supplies used by the troops of Major General Edward Braddock during the campaign of 1755.

The find was made about two months ago on the old Braddock Road, and was announced only after the authenticity of the articles was verified by the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C.

Hoskins will turn his findings over to the museum at Fort Necessity, "where they rightfully belong," he said, "even though the Smithsonian in Washington would like very much to have them."

Included among the articles found by the Pittsburgh man are several coins minted in 1742, and a 1725 medal.

Four Indicted In New York

Four men were indicted recently in New York by a federal grand jury on charges of conspiring to sell $25,000 in counterfeit $10 bills last October 26. The buyer was an undercover agent.

Officials identified the four as Bernard Rudnick, 36, of Hewlett, Long Island; Andrew D'Apice, 33, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Hermand Sandler, 48, of Queens, and George J. Field, 40, of no permanent address.

George Roberts assistant United States attorney, said that the counterfeit bills were in the possession of D'Apice, Field and Rudnick. Sandler was described as an intermediary.

Mexico Uses Billon

Billon is an alloy of copper and silver in which the copper more than equals the silver content; many current Mexican "silver" pesos are struck from billon.

Commemorative Coins Defeat Coinage Purpose Says Howard

Notes Legal In Two Nations

These are the 500 and 1,000 franc notes of Belgium. This currency is also used as legal tender in neighboring Luxembourg. The 500 franc bill is multi-colored, while the 1,000 franc bill is designed in various shades of blue.

Stock Pile Of Dollars Insures Adequate Supply

There are no immediate plans to mint new silver dollars in the United States, according to a report from the Bureau of the Mint, but the king of U. S. coinage is not likely to disappear from the American scene any time in the near future.

The silver dollar is not as popular to the non-collecting public as its paper counterpart, but in addition to approximately 335,000,000 in circulation today there are another 138,000,000 stored away at the U.S. Treasury, and an additional 8,000,000 in Federal Reserve Bank vaults throughout the country.

Approximately 856,000,000 silver dollars have been struck since the first one in 1792, including 270,000,000 struck from old silver dollars that were melted down. Recently merchants in Athens, Mich., had authorities investigate when sparkling cartwheels dated 1896 began appearing in large numbers. Police discovered that a poultry firm had paid its employees with 3,000 silver dollars as a promotion stunt.

The Federal Reserve Bank, which provided the coins, explained that they had been in storage since they were minted.

Silver dollars were minted in such great quantities between 1870 and 1921 that the Government has many in reserve. Whenever the demand becomes great enough, these coins are put into circulation.

An 1896 silver dollar was valued by collectors at $2.50 each in uncirculated condition, but now the market has been flooded with them it is likely that their present value will decrease.

The situation also gives numismatists cause to wonder just how many really scarce silver dollars are stored away among the reported 138,000,000 in Treasury and Federal Reserve Banks.

A spokesman for the Chicago branch of the Federal Reserve Bank said that one reason for the silver dollars' well preserved appearance these days could be traced to the gambling casinos in Nevada. He said Reno and Las Vegas use more silver dollars than any other place in the country.

The casinos, he said, wash the silver dollars in a special chemical solution so gamblers will have clean coins to toss on the table.

Veteran Reporter Receives Promotion

J. V. Nielsen Jr., veteran reporter for the Charleston, S. C., News and Courier, and author of several articles on stamps and coins which have appeared in magazines and periodicals, recently was promoted to the post of librarian for the Charleston newspapers, according to a report from that city.

Considered an expert on stamps and coins, Nielsen is also active in historical research.

Treasury Department Stand Upheld By Four Presidents

Possibility of a new United States commemorative coin becomes dimmer and dimmer with each overture to the Treasury Department as congressmen themselves steer coin bills aside and substitute medal proposals.

Latest example of this conformance came to light in a letter to Congressman H. Allen Smith (20th district, California) from Dr. F. Leland Howard, assistant director of the Mint.

Smith made inquiry as to the status of a commemorative coin for the Seattle Century 21 World's Fair in behalf of a constituent, Thomas R. Swinney, Glendale, Calif.

Dr. Howard told Allen that Senator Henry Jackson and Representative Don Magnuson, both of Washington, suggested a commemorative coin for Century 21 shortly after Congress passed a resolution concerning the event.

Later, however, the two lawmakers introduced companion bills which resulted in the act of September 2, 1960, authorizing not more than 500,000 medals to be made by the Mint in commemoration of the exposition.

Observers in Washington say lawmakers are bowing in deference to the Treasury policy that commemorative coins are confusing, increase counterfeiting possibilities, encourage traffic for private profit, and detract from money's fundamental purpose—to provide a medium of exchange.

"The Treasury has consistently opposed the enactment of legislation authorizing the minting of commemorative coins," declared Dr. Howard in the letter.

"It is the position of the department that these issues conflict with the purpose for which the coinage system was established...to provide a medium of exchange...that they lead to indefensible abuses."

The Treasury Department—long-suffering in the face of countless inquiries regarding commemorative coinage—has published a 16-page explanation of its long-standing position.

This report reveals that recent presidents—Democratic and Republican alike—have frowned upon commemorative coins and refused to approve bills authorizing them.

Exception was in 1946 when President Harry Truman signed two bills authorizing commemorative coins to honor Booker T. Washington and the 100th anniversary of the admission of Iowa into the Union. In the same breath, President Truman declared he would look with disfavor upon any further commemorative coin bills.

President Herbert Hoover put the brakes on the commemorative momentum in 1930 when he refused to approve a commemorative coin bill in commemoration of the 75th anniversary of the Gadsden purchase.

Congress then conducted extensive hearings on the abuses connected with commemorative coins and enacted legislation prohibiting issuance of all commemorative coins authorized prior to March 1, 1939.

The Committee on Coinage, Weights and Measures reported that the flood of commemorative coin authorizations had, in effect, defeated the purpose of the law which prohibited change in design or die of any coin oftener than once in 25 years. This law was passed to eliminate dangers and confusion which comes from multiplicity of design in coins, according to Treasury officials.

During the peak of commemorative issues, the committee told Congress, bills were enacted for a certain number of pieces with no limitation upon the time during which they could be coined.

Orders were small (fewer coins, higher price), the report said, and continuing orders were received at the Mints for coins authorized as far back as 10 years before. This imposed special work on over-burdened mints, and affected every department—from the

Revenue Agents Will Sell Gold

Gold coins and jewelry seized recently from the late Lin Wong of Watsonville, Calif., by Internal Revenue agents will be sold by the Internal Revenue Service for nonpayment of delinquent income taxes.

Wong committed suicide October 13 as he faced charges in federal court for illegal possession of liquor, and charges in superior court of attempted bribery of an officer and possession of narcotics.

Among the rare coins are $20, $10 and $5 gold pieces dated between 1881 and 1911.

Today's Chuckle

Then there was a beginner collector who shipped an Unc. 1909-S VDB to a big dealer to sell and, lest the dealer switch coins, he scratched his initials on Abe's lapel.

THREE CLASSIFICATIONS TO HELP YOU!

TRADES . . . No. 195

All strictly trading ads of numismatic items will be listed under Classification 195. This will let the readers interested only in trading concentrate on seeing who has what they want and for what they'll trade!

SALE OR TRADE . . . No. 196

When a trade ad offers numismatic items for sale as well as for trade, it will be listed in Classification 196. For those many offers of selling or trading, this new classification will easily answer a great need.

BUY OR TRADE . . . No. 198

Sometimes a collector wants to buy as well as trade for a coin and that is why we have created Classification 198 and expect it to be widely used by collectors from coast to coast. These 3 new classifications help you!

NOW! Use Your Three Trade Classifications!

THE LIBRARY OF COINS

By Any Standard, Still The Best!

Complete visibility and complete protection, the two most-wanted features of a coin album, are presented for the first time by THE LIBRARY OF COINS. Bound like books, handsome and compact, each Library of Coins volume displays and protects its coins between two sliding panels of clear, tough plastic. Each coin "porthole" has printed next to it full data on mint mark and quantity minted. Each volume contains a brief background story on the coins, giving both the novice and advanced collector helpful information, including a listing of the rare dates.

Measuring 8 1/4" x 6 1/4", the volumes are low priced, sturdily manufactured, and permanently bound in a variety of identifying colors for the various denominations. Their compact size permits the storing of a large coin collection in very small space. Backbones are clearly gold stamped so that they are as readily identifiable as are books.

The Library of Coins represents the first major innovation in high grade coin albums in more than 30 years, and was several years in development. Designed by numismatists, the Library of Coins is designed to satisfy the needs and desires of numismatists. Write for descriptive circular on the Library of Coins.

APPRAISING AND SELLING YOUR COINS - The Green Coin Book

This new best seller is a complete illustrated catalogue of U.S. coins and bills and their cash premium values from 1652 to the present. It also contains the complete coinage of Canada and Newfoundland from 1858 to the present. Also included in the book are rolls of uncirculated coins from 1934 to date; U.S. paper money from 1861 to date; Colonial and early American coins; Confederate States paper money; pioneer gold coins. Coinage figures are given alongside each coin and all items show average prices paid by dealers. 176 pages, 5"x7 1/2".

PAPER MONEY OF THE U.S.

For the first time in history, there is a book that has illustrated all types of U.S. Paper Money from 1861 to the present, from three cents to $10,000. Collector's valuations are given for all notes and all varieties — large size, small size and fractional currency. A new, remarkable section, "National Bank Notes by States" illustrates and evaluates by state every National Bank Note, more than 2,200 valuations in all! Territorial Notes are also catalogued, and finally there is a geographical and numerical list of all 14,348 National Banks. More than 300 pages, 8 1/2" x 11" cloth bound. The only reference work of its kind in the world.

GOLD COINS OF THE WORLD

Complete from 600 A.D. to 1958. An illustrated standard catalogue with valuations by Robert Friedberg. The only book of its kind ever published, it is a monumental advance in numismatic knowledge. Every gold coin in the world is catalogued in one volume with its numismatic valuation. Features: more than 2700 illustrations, valuable reference tables, including the weight, fineness and original exchange value of the principal gold coins of the world. It belongs in the library of anyone interested in coins and is an important source book for banks, libraries, research staffs and institutions of learning. 384 pages, 8 1/2" x 11", cloth bound.
